HOOVER SCORES SHORT SELLING IN WHEAT MART

GRAINS FAIL TO RISE ON DEBT-PLAN NEWS

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

President Hoover swung back to domestic problems yesterday with a vigorous denunciation of the speculators who have been selling short in wheat and depressing the price of that commodity.

The President was visibly angry as he read his denunciation of the speculators to a gathering of reporters at the regular Friday afternon press conference.

"The confidence imposed upon me by law as a public official," he said, "does not permit me to expose their names to the public." Then he added: "If I could, I would gladly do so."

The President's statement came in the midst of a general clamor over the wheat situation. Political leaders from the farm belt have been insisting that the Federal Farm Board keep its 275,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat off the market lest the sale of this wheat further depress the price.

Wheat Advance Expected.

Republican leaders had hoped that President Hoover's debt moratorium plan, which caused a stock market boom, would boost the price of wheat.

No doubt the President himself entertained such a hope. As a matter of fact, the price of wheat has been going down steadily.

That wheat will continue to be a problem was indicated yesterday when the Department of Agriculture issued a statement indicating that a bumper crop is in prospect for 1931—869,013,000 bushels, as compared with 863,430,000 bushels in 1930.

President's Statement.

The President's statement aimed at speculators follows:

"It has come to my knowledge that certain persons are selling short in our commodity markets, particularly in wheat. These transactions have been continuous over the past month. I do not refer to the ordinary hedging transactions, which are a sound part of our marketing system. I do not refer to the legitimate grain trade. I refer to a limited number of speculators. I am not expressing any views upon economics of short-selling in normal times.

"But in these times this activity has a public interest. It has but one purpose, and that is to depress prices. It tends to destroy returning public confidence. The intent is to take a profit from the losses of other people. Even though the effect may be temporary it deprives many farmers of their rightful income.

"If these gentlemen have that sense of patriotism, which outruns immediate profit, and a desire to see the country recover, they will close up these transactions and desist from their manipulations. The confidence imposed upon me by law as a public official does not permit me to expose their names to the public. If I could, I would gladly do so."

Hoover's Stand Indorsed.

Carl Williams, a member of the Federal Farm Board, said last night that he indorsed the President's statement "unreservedly." At the same time he advocated an amendment to the present law so that the President could use "nitless publicity" to expose the speculators.

He suggested that the Department of Agriculture be empowered to publish the names of speculators who are merely gambling for their own gain and against the interests of the public.

The short-selling transactions, Mr. Williams said, have been conducted by just a few men. Nevertheless, he said, they have been growing heavier lately, and have undoubtedly militated against an increase in the price of wheat.

Hedging Explained.

President Hoover, in his statement, said that "hedging" is a sound part of our marketing system. It works out this way: A miller, for instance, buys wheat at 50 cents a bushel to grind it into flour and sell it two weeks later. At the same time he sells the same quantity of wheat futures to be delivered on the same day two weeks hence. If the price of wheat has dropped 2 cents by that time, he has lost 2 cents on his flour, but has offset this by making 2 cents a bushel on the futures he sold short. If the price of wheat rose 2 cents, he would lose on his futures deal, but recover on the price he received for his flour.

The man who hedges is simply trying to protect himself against a loss in the case of fluctuations. The man who sells wheat short, however, is gambling. He is speculating on a hoped-for drop in the price of wheat. He does not have any wheat, nor does he want any. He is merely gambling that the price will fall, and by thus gambling on a large scale he frequently causes it to fall.

Short-Selling Explained.

For example, he will sell wheat "short" at 50 cents a bushel for delivery in two weeks. If in that time the price drops 2 cents a bushel, the

Regret Sent Mexico In Arrest of Consul

Chicago Judge Expunges Record of Contempt Proceeding.

(Associated Press.)

The American Government yesterday, for the second time in a month, formally expressed regret to Mexico for the treatment of Mexicans in this country.

The State Department delivered a note to Ambassador Tellez expressing official regret over the arrest in Chicago for contempt of court of Adolfo G. Dominquez, acting Mexican consul.

Tellez Thursday submitted a formal protest. The reply was prepared after the State Department had received a report from Gov. Emmerson, of Illinois, that the charge

FRENCH STAND ON LOAN CURBS GERMAN HOPES

Berlin Tense as France Insists on Political Reservations.

BRITAIN WOULD WAIVE JULY 15 INSTALLMENT

(Associated Press.)

Germany's internal situation became more tense yesterday while word was awaited from Paris, where Dr. Hans Luther, Reichsbank President, was seeking an international loan.

Reports from Paris were that the French would not grant a loan unless Germany agreed to political demands by Paris.

In the French capital Dr. Luther spent all yesterday in interviews with officials of the Bank of France and of the finance ministry, seeking French participation in a $400,000,000 credit for Germany.

Meanwhile, Great Britain announced to the Bank for International Settlements that she would not expect to receive the German reparations installment due July 15.

Luther Is Kept Busy.

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank, spent this whole day going back and forth between the Bank of France and the finance ministry seeking French participation in a $400,000,000 loan to Germany.

For nearly three hours he talked with Clement Moret, governor of the Bank of France, then he conferred with Pierre Flandin, minister of finance, had luncheon with half a dozen financiers and wound up the day in conference with Premier Laval.

Tonight he was to fly back to Berlin to consult the cabinet, and on Monday he will be at Basel for a meeting of the directors of the Bank for International Settlements.

He was as uncommunicative today as he was in London yesterday, but it was understood that he is seeking, first, advances equivalent to the sums by which Germany's budget will be lightened under the Hoover moratorium, amounting to about $385,000,000, which would be repaid in monthly installments; second, he wants a renewal of the $100,000,000 one-month loan made by the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States and the World Bank at Basel, which falls due next Thursday; third, he would like to extend that loan and increase it by $100,000,000, and fourth, he is said to seek a one or two year loan of $400,000,000 for the Gold Discount Bank of Germany.

France Asks Conditions.

In financial circles here it was said that today's conversations were confined to the technical aspects of the problems confronting Germany, and that France probably will impose political conditions if she consents to join the Central Banks of the other nations in aiding Germany.

Dr. Luther's busy day was regarded as a prelude to the meeting at Basel on Monday, at which some sort of decision undoubtedly will be taken. Germany's situation is considered extremely critical, sufficiently so to explain Dr. Luther's hurry in getting at the heart of the problem.

The financial newspaper L'Information said tonight "The action of the central banks of issue can have no value unless it is based on the confident collaboration of the powers concerned and that, in turn, depends upon Germany's state of mind and the attitude of the French government."

Le Matin said that Dr. Luther told M. Moret that if he got an advance of 9,000,000,000 to 12,000,000,000 francs—about $360,000,000 to $480,000,000—for a year, short-term credits withdrawn by foreign lenders from Germany since May 20 would return in the form of medium-term loans.

Sum Held Insufficient.

The sum of 9,000,000,000 to 12,000,000,000 francs, the newspaper continued, seemed to Paris and London financial circles to be insufficient to ward off the danger, and Dr. Luther was told that he needed about 30,000,000,000 francs in order to paralyze the activities of the bears.

Dr. Luther replied that the series of operations he proposed would put from 20,000,000,000 to 24,000,000,000

U. S. ACCEPTS INVITATION TO ARMS PARLEY

League of Nations Told Country Welcomes Opportunity.

KELLOGG AND GIBSON LOOM AS DELEGATES

Stimson, Now Abroad, Will Study Armament Plans Adopted in France.

(Associated Press.)

America added active impetus to the world disarmament movement last night by whole-heartedly accepting a formal invitation to attend the League of Nations general disarmament conference next February.

On instructions of President Hoover the American Government dispatched a note to the secretary general of the League indicating full participation by the United States and complete cooperation with the movement.

The note was signed by Acting Secretary Castle, of the State Department, and was communicated to the League by Hugh R. Wilson, American Minister to Switzerland.

Opportunity Is Welcomed.

"The Acting Secretary of State of the United States of America has received," the acceptance read, "the note of the secretary general of the League of Nations, dated June 13, 1931, in which, pursuant to a resolution of the council adopted on May 22, he extended an invitation to the American Government to participate in the general disarmament conference to be convened at Geneva February 2, 1932.

"The American Government is happy to accept this invitation and welcomes the opportunity for cooperating with the other nations in a common effort to reduce the menace and to lengthen the burden of armaments under which the world is suffering."

The note reflected the attitude of the American Government toward the disarmament question as repeated several times recently by President Hoover in pressing forward his plan for a one year's moratorium on war debts and reparations payments.

Kellogg May Head Group.

The problem of the American representation at the Geneva conference has not yet been settled, officials said last night. Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State and now justice of the World Court, has been mentioned as a possible chief of the American delegation. Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium and close friend of the President, probably will be selected for a post on the delegation, officials said. Mr. Gibson represented the United States at the preliminary sessions which led to the calling of the conference.

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—When Arthur Henderson, the British foreign secretary, passes through here next Wednesday on the way to Berlin, Aristide Briand will give him a copy of the French memorandum on disarmament approved by the cabinet today. Mr. Henderson will preside at next year's disarmament conference.

The memorandum is described as a complete exposition of the present state of French armaments and of the position France will take at the general conference in Geneva.

Stimson to Read Memorandum.

Col. Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, also will be given an opportunity to read the memorandum. He may be in Paris Wednesday.

The memorandum has been in preparation since last January, when the League of Nations council asked member governments to prepare such documents. It is said to contain abundant technical material and is described as a clearly worded resume of the French disarmament thesis.

As soon as the memorandum is given to Mr. Henderson it will be communicated to the League of Nations secretariat and to the other nations participating in the disarmament conference. A brief resume probably will be issued to the press.

The memorandum was not prepared especially in time for the visits of Mr. Henderson and Mr. Stimson, but the government considered this an opportune time to discuss the issue with those statesmen.

AUTO IN HOOVER PARTY OVERTURNS IN PASSING BUS; TWO ARE INJURED

Thomas Admits Giving Tariff Bill Abroad

Senator Declares Action Has Been Justified by Results of Law.

Medicine Park, Okla., July 10 (A.P.). Senator Elmer Thomas (Democrat), of Oklahoma, confirmed today the statement of Senator Smoot (Republican), Utah, that he had communicated to foreign nations the provisions of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill in advance of its passage with a request for information as to how the legislation would affect foreign trade.

The statement of Smoot criticizing the action, Senator Thomas, a member of the Senate finance committee, said, was "an alibi for the effects of his (Smoot's) own act."

Senator Thomas claimed that results of the tariff bill since its passage "justified my action."

"If Senator Smoot and other administration leaders had heeded the protests submitted by forty-two foreign nations," he said, "we would not now have lost from one-half to two-thirds of our foreign trade."

"I have studied tariff legislation to discover what affect it might have on trade with this country" Senator Thomas said. "In order that I might be advised in the discussion of the Smoot-Hawley bill on the Senate

CAR SKIDS INTO DITCH AT 55 MILES AN HOUR

Not until he arrived safely last night at his mountain camp on the Rapidan, near Luray, Va., did President Hoover learn of the accident to two members of his party, which occurred at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternon while all were en route to the week-end retreat.

The casualties were Mrs. Frank Connor, who suffered a fracture of the right collar bone, and her husband, a member of the New York Herald Tribune's Washington bureau, who was bruised on the legs when their automobile went into a ditch on the Lee-Jackson highway near Annandale and overturned twice after attempting to pass a Greyhound bus.

The President and Mrs. Hoover, Secretary and Mrs. Lamont, Dr. Joel T. Boone and others in the six-car motorcade, except a car filled with newspapermen, did not stop, but continued toward the week-end retreat without knowledge of the crash.

Hoovers in First Car.

In the fifirst car were the Hoovers, followed by Secretary and Mrs. Lamont in the second, Secret Service men in the third, Lawrence Richey, secretary to the President, and Dr. Boone riding together in the fourth machine, then the group of White House correspondents, and behind them and Mr and Mrs. Connor bringing up the rear.

As the cars were about to make the turn at Annandale, which is about 5 miles from Washington, the bus, bound for New Orleans, drew up behind until it had broken in between the Presidential car and the Lamonts.

With considerable difficulty, due to the speed at which the motors were traveling and the slippery condition of the narrow highway, the Secret Service car got around the bus and resumed its original position behind the Presidential automobile. It took 3 miles for the second, third and fourth machines in the motorcade to get around the big passenger carrier.

Sought to Pass Bus.

The press car, its speedometer registering 55 miles an hour, passed the bus, and Mr. Connor was in the act of doing likewise when his car's left rear wheel left the road and he skidded in front of the coach, overturning twice in a ditch on the other side of the road.

George Durno, International News Service writer, and Robert Pickens, of the Associated Press, got out of the press car and, with their colleagues, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Connor from the wreckage. The injured couple was driven to the home of Dr. E. S. Waring, in Fairfax, where Mrs. Connor was found to have a fracture of the right collar bone and painful bruises. Her husband escaped with a severe shaking-up and leg bruises.

After receiving first-aid treatment, the correspondent's wife was taken to Emergency Hospital for further observation and treatment.

Mishap Disturbs Hoover.

President Hoover appeared disturbed when told of the mishap and requested Secretary Richey to obtain further details. It was the second which has befallen his motorcades since he began making his trips to the Rapidan three years ago.

Last year the car in which Richey and Dr. Boone were driving collided with another in the same vicinity. Its occupants were injured and the machine wrecked, the White House car being only slightly damaged.

OtOher guests who have been invited to join the Hoovers for the week end are expected to arrive today. These include Vice President Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, Acting Secretary Castle, of the

RHEEM IMPRISONED FOR $162,000 THEFT

In brief proceedings in Criminal Court yesterday Edmund D. Rheem, who as the directing head of the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. financed the erection here of millions of dollars worth of building, entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging him with embezzling $162,000 in notes belonging to his company.

Justice Peyton Gordon, in a quiet voice that seemed to be on the verge of breaking, then sentenced Rheem to the maximum penalty, seven years, and ordered him committed forthwith. In compliance with that order Deputy United States Marshal John J. Clarkson immediately took Rheem into custody and delivered him to the superintendent of the District Jail.

Rheem, apparently cool and collected, was supposed to have come into court early in the day. However, he was late and Justice Gordon took up a score or more of lunacy cases, though Rheem entered the room only a few minutes late.

The former mortgage firm head was forced to idle in the courtroom while the routine of adjudging insane persons went on. At 12:30 Justice Gordon unexpectedly called the case and before the spectators in the room were aware of what was going on, Rheem had been sentenced and was on his way out.

Through the operation of the parole regulations, Rheem will be eligible for freedom in two years and four months. It will be necessary at that time, though, to secure recommendations from the United States attorney as well as a District Supreme Court justice.

The indictment against Rheem only contained three counts, while he only entered a plea on the first, which related to taking away and concealing $162,000 in notes belonging to the Swartzell firm. The other two counts were then dropped.

Rheem was a financial power in the mortgage loan circles here. The

BOND 'RACKET' CURB SOUGHT BY SHERIFF

Collusion in Prince Georges County Charged to New Police Force.

An appeal for aid in halting alleged collusion between bondsmen and the newly organized Prince Georges County police force has been made to the American Automobile Association by Deputy Sheriff Thomas H. Garrison.

Since the new department was organized, Deputy Garrison said last night, the police department is requiring exorbitant bonds of motor violators, particularly those from other States.

Deputy Garrison's appeal was in the form of a letter directed to the automobile association. The missive will not reach the offices until today. Consequently, no statement was forthcoming last night from the legal department of the association except a statement of Charles C. Collins, who said, "If Deputy Garrison has asked our aid, we will lend him every assistance."

Chief J. J. Crowley, head of the newly formed department, said last night that $500 is the bond required for autoists charged with exceding 40 miles an hour on the county highways and $1,000 is exacted in cases exceeding more than 60 miles an hour. The usual bondsman's fee in such cases is 10 per cent of bond.

The records of the department, which began on June 10, show that 256 arrests were made by the Hyattsville Police Station, of which, he estimated, 200 were for motor vehicle violations. Speeding and reckless driving, he said, constituted a large majority of these charges.

In the Marlboro substation, he estimated, a similar number of arrests were made, which would give an approximate arrest total of 400 motor-vehicle violations in the past 30 days.

The department is composed of eight policemen, two sergeants and a chief, each of whom is equipped with a police car. The patrolmen, who are legally constables-at-large, re-

Five Dogs Left $1,000 Each By Will of Lynchburg Man

Fund Will Be Given to Baptist Orphanage at Salem on Death of Canine Friends, H. L. Moorman Provides in Disposing of Estate.

Special to The Washington Post.

Bedford, Va., July 10.—The will of the late Herbert L. Moorman, of Forest and Lynchburg, sets aside $1,000 for the care of each of his dogs, which are to be cared for by his nephew, L. Preston Collins, using the interest and a portion of the principal if necessary. As each dog dies such part of the $1,000 as has not been used shall be paid to the Baptist Orphanage at Salem.

Mr. Moorman in his will stipulated: "If possible I ask that my dogs shall not be separated, but shall be kept together. They have meant a lot to me and I want them taken care of." It is reported that there are now five dogs on the Moorman place.

Other items dispose of property as follows: Diamond rings to Mrs. F. E. Richardson and Mrs. George F. Abbitt, his sisters, and to Eloise and Dora Abbitt, nieces; watch and chain, given by directors of the Lynchburg Cotton Mill, to nephew, George Abbitt; watch, given by father, and chain and diamond locket to nephew, Watkins Abbitt; radio to nephew, Watkins Richardson; guns to nephew, Charlie Abbitt; to Baptist Orphanage in Salem, $4,000 in addition to above bequest, and all the rest of the personal effects and furniture to Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Abbitt.

The rest of the estate shall be divided into eight parts to be divided as follows: Mrs. Richardson, two parts; Harold M. Collins, one part; L. Preston Collins, one part; Mrs. George F. Abbitt, four parts. The estate is valued at $17,000.

Dramatic Critic Dies In Automobile Crash

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 10 (A.P.).—Carl B. Adams, 31, dramatic critic of the Cincinnati Enquirer, poet and author, was killed instantly today in an automobile accident near Lexington, Ky. His skull was fractured and neck broken.

H. J. Bernfeld, assistant dramatic critic of the Enquirer; Miss Grace Haller, reporter, and Bernfeld's wife were injured in the accident and taken to Lexington hospitals.

One Killed, Two Hurt By Bomb in Alabama

Birmingham, Ala., July 10 (A.P.).—An unidentified Negro youth was killed and two other persons probably fatally injured tonight when a bomb was tossed from an automobile into the plant of the Pure Milk Co., in the business section here.

Textile Strike Rioters Are Routed by Tear Gas

Central Falls, R. I., July 10 (A.P.). A rioting crowd of 2,000 strikers and sympathizers broke through a police line in front of the General Fabrics Corporation Mills today, stoned the building and pelted the offices with missiles. The rioters were routed with tear gas. It was the second outbreak within 24 hours at the mills, which have been closed since May 7.

The appearance of Anna Burlac, organizer for the National Textile Workers Union, in the roped-off area near the mill caused the crowd to break through the lines and join her. Four police officers on duty near the mills were powerless to halt the crowd.

PART OF GREENLAND IS TAKEN BY NORWAY

Eastern Section Is Occupied in Land Ruled by Denmark.

Oslo, Norway, July 10 (A.P.).—Norway has officially occupied that part of eastern Greenland lying between 75.40 degrees and 1.30 degrees, north latitude.

Denmark has exerted a monopoly over the trade of Greenland since 1774. Her administration of the entire island was not completed until 1917. The extension of her claims in that year led to a dispute with Norway regarding east coast hunting and sealing rights.

That dispute has continued intermittently until the present.

Denmark has claimed sovereignty over the land in question for many years. An expedition of Norwegian youths recently planted their flag on the contested territory and the Norwegian claim is based on their action.

London, July 10 (A.P.).—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen tonight said it was reported from Oslo that King Haakon had signed a formal declaration taking east Greenland into Norwegian occupation.

Thedispatch said the Danish cabinet had been summoned for a special meeting tomorrow to consider Norway's action.

Foreign Minister Munch was quoted in the dispatch as saying that Denmark had done her utmost to prevent disagreement but she must maintain her rights and would complain to the Hague Court.

It would have been more in conformity with usual practice if the two Nations had gone to the Hague by mutual agreement, the foreign minister said.

He declared the procedure which Norway has chosen would not strengthen her case and would create bitterness in Denmark where the people are entirely unanimous on the question.

The foreign minister was described as being hopeful that the ties united the two Nations would be strong enough to survive the present trial.

SUBWAY TRAIN KILLS GRAFT QUIZ WITNESS

Murder Theory Held in Death of New York Official About to Testify.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—A hint of murder crept into the police investigation tonight of circumstances under which Traugott F. Keller, chief engineer of thte dock department, died under a subway train a few minutes before he was to have appeared before the State's committee investigating city affairs.

Whether Keller fell, jumped or was pushed under the train, the three possibilities the police considered, his death erased important testimony from the forthcoming public hearings which will follow those now being held behind closed doors.

Keller, star witness for Samuel Seabury, counsel for the legislative body, it developed, may already have named influential firms and individuals who paid graft in the award of certain contracts. He had been questioned privately for three days and only last night, committee members divulged, agreed to "tell all."

The whole story of bribes he had received for giving certain companies preferential treatment, and of bribes split with other city employes, he had pledged to lay before the committee.

He went to his office this morning and then started for the inquiry chamber. He entered the subway station at Bowling Green. As an express roared in he threw himself onto the tracks.

Keller had promised that today, among other things, he would reveal the identity of the mysterious "Frank Baxter," who figured in the pier lease investigation a year ago.

Baxter was supposed to have got the $250,000 the United American Line paid former Kings County Judge Bernard W. Vause, but Baxter could never be found.

Members of the present investigation committee had strongly suspected that Keller might be Baxter, and it was intended to force a showdown on this point today.

After Keller's suicide became known his subordinates were ordered to bring records from his office to the investigation rooms and these were expected to reveal a large part of the

Smoot and Robinson Argue Tariff Revision Possibility

Democratic Leader Holds Effort Will Be Made to Alter Law.

Little Rock, Ark., July 10 (A.P.).—Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic Senate leader, today answered a challenge of Senator Watson, Indiana, Republican Senate leader, by announcing that "an earnest effort" will be made to reduce tariff rates when Congress convenes in December.

Senator Watson last night challenged the Democratic leader to "assume the leadership in a fight to make a 'serious revision' of the present tariff law."

"I feel justified in replying," Senator Robinson said here today, "that when the Congress convenes an earnest effort will be made to reduce tariff rates, which, in the sound judgment of business men and economists,

Salt Lake City, July 10 (A.P.).—Senator Smoot, chairman of the Senate finance committee and coauthor of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act, expressed belief today there will be no revision of the law at the forthcoming session of Congress.

Commenting on a statement by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, saying an effort at revision would be made in the next session, Senator Smoot said:

"I desire to call Senator Robinson's attention to the fact that never has a tariff bill been enacted during a session immediately preceding a presidential election. I do not think for a moment that a revision of the tariff will be made at this coming session of Congress. Under the flex-

Navy Plans Action In Uniform Charge

Report in Use by Police in Philadelphia Given to Judge Advocate.

(Associated Press.)

A report received by Secretary Adams on the alleged wearing of a naval uniform by a Philadelphia policeman in making a prohibition arrest was referred yesterday to the judge advocate general of the Navy with instructions that he recommend appropriate action.

The report, made at the Secretary's request by Rear Admiral Lucius A. Bostwick, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, was described as only a partial one. More details have been requested by the Secretary and are expected early next week.

The report said Charles Lang, the policeman, was a member of the Naval Reserve and as a result he had in his possession the chief petty officer's uniform that was worn. Admiral Bostwick also found it was a matter of court record that Lang wore the uniform at the Broad Street Station and that he apparently was aided in making the arrest thereby.

CLOSING OF LIBRARY HALF DAY DEPLORED

Short Hours Made Necessary by Insufficient Help, Officials Claim.

In connection with the closing of both the central building and branches of the Public Library at 1 p. m. every Saturday until further notice, Dr. George F. Bowerman, librarian, has issued the following statement:

"The year-round Saturday half-holiday law shortened the working week of every library employe. In the aggregate, this amounts to the equivalent of a reduction in the library staff of seven full-time employes.

"The gratifyingly steady increase in library circulation of books reached during the past year a total of 277,675 volumes. According to the usual estimates, eighteen additional assistants are needed to handle an additional book circulation of 270,000 volumes. The increase of staff provided for the coming fiscal year is only three.

"Since 25 additional employes are needed and there will be only three, the only way to meet the situation is to shorten the hours of library opening, pending the necessary increase in staff.

"The library trustees and the librarian much regret being compelled to take this step. They would like to lengthen the hours of library opening, rather than reduce them."

Relatives Identify Skeleton of Boy

Youth, Who Disappeared Nine Years Ago, Took Own Life, Belief.

Muncie, Ind., July 10 (A.P.).—The skeleton found in the airshaft of the Central High School here yesterday was positively identified today as that of Perlie Hogg, who at the age of 16, disappeared in 1922.

Charles Cooper, an uncle with whom the boy lived, and two aunts, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Effie Owens, identified fragments of clothing, shoes and a knife as having belonged to the youth.

Coroner Clarence E. Piepho said he would return a verdict of probable suicide, after Mrs. Owens told him young Hogg had threatened just before he disappeared, either to leave Muncie or destroy himself.

Coroner Piepho said he believed the boy either fell or jumped into the airshaft.

Belgrade Anxious Over Moratorium

Sacrifices Demanded From Jugoslavia Are Beyond Strength, Is Claim.

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, July 10 (A.P.).—The successful conclusion of the moratorium agreement between the United States and France has created widespread anxiety here.

Politicians have expressed belief that the sacrifice demanded of Jugoslavia was beyond her strength. They doubted whether a government could be found which would assume responsibility for renunciation of Jugoslavia's share of 900,000,000 dinars (about $15,000,000) and they counted upon America taking this circumstance into special consideration.

It was emphasized that creditors at home and abroad, whose loans of 888,000,000 dinars were taken up by Jugoslavia after the war for the purpose of rebuilding devastated regions, would insist on their interest payments.

MARYLAND BOY, 14, DIES IN AUTO CRASH

Reckless Driving Charge Is Filed Against Owner of Wrecked Car.

A 14-year-old Silver Spring, Md., boy was killed yesterday and the driver of the car in which he was riding was injured when the machine ran up a bank and overturned on the road between Four Corners and Seeks Corner.

The dead boy is Floyd F. Graves, 14 years old, of 710 Sligo avenue, Silver Spring. He was riding in a car driven by Robert L. Tyler, 608 Sligo avenue, according to Montgomery County police. A third passenger in the car, Earl Day, also 14 years old, who lives at 713 Chesapeake street, Silver Spring, was uninjured in the crash.

Ran off Road.

According to the story told by Day, the car first ran off the right side of the road. To bring it back on the road, Tyler swung his wheels sharply and the auto veered across the highway and mounted a bank until it toppled over. The dead youth was crushed under the car.

The Graves boy's body was taken to Walter Reed Hospital by Constable Lee Jones, where it was found that he was dead. The policeman said that officials at the hospital told him to take the boy to some doctor in Maryland to have him officially pronounced dead. Dr. Gerald Scully finally saw the youth and made the examination. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Warner E. Pumphrey, in Rockville.

Taken to Hospital.

Tyler, who is a motorman, was taken to the Georgetown Hospital after being given first aid by Dr. Scully. He is believed to have a fractured skull. An X-ray will be taken this morning to determine the extent of his injury. He had not been told last night that the Graves boy had been killed.

A charge of reckless driving was placed against Tyler last night by Corpl. George C. Windham, of the Silver Spring substation, Montgomery County police. He will be given a preliminary hearing in police court at Rockville Monday.

Young Graves is survived by his father, Jesse Graves; three brothers, William, Jesse, jr., and Joseph Graves, and eight sisters, Mrs. Edna Saunders, Mrs. Olive Jones, Mrs. Marjorie Peters, Miss Ann Graves, Miss Margaret Graves, Miss Doris Graves, Miss Mary Graves and Miss Ruth Graves.

His mother died about three weeks ago. He was a second-year student at the Takoma-Silver Spring High School. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

have tended to restrict foreign markets for American products and to inspire retaliatory measures on the part of foreign countries."

Senator Robinson, in his statement, said that present tariff rates are "important factors in causing the existing depression."

Referring to Senator Watson's statement, Senator Robinson said:

"Does not the senator realize that the true test of the value of the present tariff is not whether it has 'slaughtered export or import trade' but rather whether it has tended to diminish the demand for American-made products and the purchasing power of the consumers of such products?"

The challenge from Senator Watson, issued from Washington last night, followed a previous statement by Senator Robinson, criticizing the Smoot-Hawley tariff. In this Senator Robinson said "an announcement from the President that the worst exactions of the Grundy tariff would be corrected with his aid and countenance, would give the same comfort to his own countrymen that his reparations moratorium was expected to give to the staggering nations of Europe."

Senator Robinson's statement today inquired if the Indiana senator had "forgotten the resentment which the Smoot-Hawley tariff act of 1930 aroused in certain countries numbered among the principal customers for American-made goods."

ible provision of the present tariff act either reductions or increases can be secured on specific items without disturbing our whole financial and business structure."

Referring to protests on the Smoot-Hawley tariff from foreign governments, the finance chairman charged that Senator Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat, had sent a letter to other nations, "inviting criticisms from their respective foreign countries against the provisions of the Smoot-Hawley bill and particularly requesting criticisms as to whether the enactment of the bill would affect their countries."

He declared the decrease in imports during the last half of 1930 as compared with the similar period of 1928, was $670,000,000, of which $400,000,000 was in duty-free commodities and over $100,000,000 in dutiable luxuries, "which were naturally affected simply by decreased buying power."

"The United States continues to ship abrod about the same proportion of its industrial output as it did prior to the advent of the business slump," he added. "Considering our nineteen leading customers among foreign nations, we find that our trade during the year, 1930, amounted to the average of our trade during the period of 1924 to 1927."

Telegraph Company Is Sued for Injuries

Suit for $25,000 was filed against the Western Union Telegraph Co. yesterday by Miss Eva Miller, of 1303 Clifton street northwest, who claims she was knocked down by a messenger boy on F street near Seventeenth street northwest.

Miss Miller charges, through Attorney Emmett L. Sheehan, that she suffered injuries to her hip, arms and knees and has sustained also a permanent facial deformity through a hurt to her nose. This latter, it is charged, can only be remedied through a dangerous and painful plastic operation.

250 PRISONERS SEEN IN TRANSFER GRAFT

U. S. Felons Enjoy Lives of Ease on Staten Island, Paper Claims.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—The Sun today said that 250 swindlers, smugglers, bootleggers and other Federal felons, sentenced to the Atlanta Penitentiary, are housed in a barracks at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, enjoying comparative luxuries they procured by improper money payments.

The newspaper said the convicts outnumbered the soldiers at the Fort and that they are lodged in quarters formerly used by Army officers, obtaining them by "payments to persons in authority for transfers from Atlanta."

An investigation of the condition is in progress. It was disclosed today in an Associated Press dispatch from Washington that the Government had broken up the system of graft within the Atlanta Penitentiary by which certain prisoners were accepting money from other inmates to facilitate their transfers, not only to the Staten Island fort, but to road camps, where conditions were more desirable than in the Atlanta prison.

There are no cells in the Fort Wadsworth barracks, no bars on the windows and no sign of a prison except the uniformed civilian guards. Work is practically unknown.

The grounds overlook the narrows, through which ships pass as they come and go in the New York port. At night the strains of dance music float over the water from Midland Beach Amusement Park, the paper says, to lull the prisoners to slumber.

The Washington dispatch quoted the Department of Justice as stating the number of men involved in the Atlanta transfers was small and that "little money changed hands." It added that all prisoners who secured transfers to camps "by improper means" have been sent pack.

The Department said there was no evidence in the Atlanta cases that money had been paid to any officer or employe of the institution or of the Department. Blame was placed upon overcrowding at the Federal penitentiary.

A reporter visited Fort Wadsworth today and related that the Federal prisoners are quartered in former reserve officers' summer camp rooms. He was not allowed to enter the barracks but was told by Army officers that there were more Federal prisoners than soldiers in the reservation. The military force consists of a skeleton company of the Fifteenth Regiment.

Aside from a lieutenant, acting as sort of a liaison officer between the superintendent of prisons in charge of the prisoners and the Army authorities, the Army has no authority over the convict population, the reporter was informed.

The guards have either been sent from Federal prisons or hired here by the Federal prison authorities, it was stated. The labor which the convicts perform is limited to the already completed and perfectly maintained roads within the reservation, he was told. In two years, he was told, the only actual work they had done was leisurely to rebuild a stable which had been destroyed by fire.

This activity caused a strong protest from Staten Island labor unions and Representative Anning S. Prall filed a protest in Congress. Since the Federal prison labor has been confined to the shady roads.

Some time ago convicts began to write to each other about it, and a Government agent got one of the letters. It was in the possession of Paul Rabkin, a smuggler of Swiss watch movements, convicted a year ago and sentenced to two years in the Atlanta Prison.

Some months later Rabkin was wanted as a witness in another case. A Federal agent was sent to Atlanta for him, but Rabkin wasn't there. The agent found him at Fort Wadsworth.

Rabkin then admitted that he had bought his transfer for $1,000, and that Solomon Rubman and Joseph Y. Pearlman, convicted with him, had paid $800 apiece and were in Fort Wadsworth.

George Graham Rice, whose family name was Jacob Simon Herzig, had also bought a transfer to Fort Wadsworth.

Another transferred prisoner was said to be Harry Goldhurst, convicted of running a bucket shop and sentenced to five years in Atlanta.

John T. Locks, sentenced to three years in Atlanta in 1929 for fraud in promoting shares of the notorious Canario Copper Corporation, also was located in the old fort on Staten Island.

Atlanta, Ga., July 10 (A.P.).—United States Attorney Clint W. Hager, of the Northern district of Georgia said today he had records of the dismissal of former Chaplain Fred S. Ladlow for carrying letters and checks in and out of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary in violation of prison rules.

Any other investigations, Mr. Hager said, were carried on by Department of Justice agents who reported directly to Washington.

Warden Fred Aderhold of the penitentiary could not be reached to comment on dispatches from Washington that Justice Department officials had broken up a system by which wealthy prisoners sought transfers to more congenial prison camps.

(Associated Press.)

Justice Department officials asserted yesterday they had broken up a system of bribery operating through intraprison grapevine channels at the Atlanta Penitentiary, under which wealthy prisoners sought transfers to more congenial prison camps.

An investigation still in progress disclosed that certain prisoners in "key positions" were inducing other inmates to pay them small sums on promises of transfer.

Two of those named by the Department as involved were Paul Rabkin and Joseph Pearlman, convicted of a conspiracy to smuggle Swiss watch movements into the United States. Both were transferred to Fort Wadsworth, on Staten Island, New York, but now will be sent back to Atlanta.

Prison bureau officials said difficulties had been encountered in learning the names of prisoners who had accepted the bribes, and Federal agents are being retained on the investigation.

In a formal statement issued by the department it was stated the "scheme has now been completely broken up and appropriate action has been taken to discipline those involved."

The statement added that the number of prisoners and sums involved were small and that "all of those prisoners who secured transfer to camp by improper means have been sent back to the institutions from which they came."

Thus far, it was said, no evidence has been uncovered that prison officials were involved. If any such evidence is found, the department asserted, prosecutions will be started immediately.

Department agents are working upon a theory that the scheme was made possible partly by a leak into the penitentiary of information that a list of prisoners to be transferred to prison camps had been prepared by the prison bureau here.

Acting on this knowledge, it was said, certain shrewd prisoners approached fellow inmates known to have money with a promise of securing their transfer if a certain sum was paid.

"'As soon as the new Federal prisons recently authorized by Congress are completed,' the department said, 'it will be possible to reduce the overcrowding at Atlanta. A new prison to house 1,200 inmates will be completed within a year. Construction work on a new hospital for defective delinquents, two new reformatories and one narcotic farm will be started during the summer.

"The chief advantage accruing to a man by transfer to a camp is the possibility of earning a slight reduction of sentence for good behavior or hard work."

DOHERTY LIBEL SUIT SEEKS $12,000,000

Magnate's Action Against Kansas City Star Is Gas War Feature.

Kansas City, July 10 (A.P.).—A $12,000,000 libel suit filed today by Henry L. Doherty, utilities magnate, was met by the Kansas City Star with the statement that the newspaper would not swerve from its campaign "to get fair gas rates for domestic consumers in the cities of Kansas and Missouri."

"The Star does not propose to be intimidated into any let-up in its fight to force a reduction of rates to a fair level as determined by the constituted authorities of Kansas and Missouri, the public service commissions," the newspaper said, adding:

"It is common tactics to bring libel suits in order to bluff off aggressive newspapers that are fighting the public's battles."

Doherty, head of the Cities Service Co., which through various subsidiaries supplies natural gas to Kansas City and other municipalities of Missouri and Kansas, alleged the Star had libeled him personally in a series of articles attacking rates and methods of his companies.

In addition to today's $12,000,000 suit, Doherty's representatives here said other damage actions would be brought against the Star.

The nature of the forthcoming litigation was not disclosed, but Doherty announced in New York several days ago he had instructed his attorneys to seek damages in behalf of the stockholders of the Cities Service Co.

Sale of the company's curb stock, except the first preferred, has been ordered stopped in Kansas by the State Securities Commission and Doherty blamed the Star and Gov. Harry Woodring, whom the utilities magnate described as "a tool" of the Star, for instigating this action, which Doherty is combating in the courts.

The libel suit was based on charges published by the Star that Doherty had profited personally from an "engineering and management fee" of 1¾ per cent of the gross revenues of the subsidiary companies controlled by the Cities Service Co.

Doherty's petition denied that he had received any salary or income from the fees, and said for many years he has received no salary as president of Cities Service Co. or any of its affiliated concerns.

Rival Company Charge Denied.

A charge in the petition that the Star and its officers "had planned and attempted to organize a competitive company to furnish natural gas in the Kansas City territory," was declared by the Star to be "preposterous and untrue."

George B. Longan, president; Roy A. Roberts, managing editor, and Fred C. Trigg, Kansas editor, all members of the board of directors of the Kansas City Star Co., were named as defendants. The Star is owned entirely by members of the staff, who purchased it after the death of Laura Nelson Kirkwood, daughter of William Rockhill Nelson, the founder.

In anticipation of the libel suit the Star retained former Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, as counsel in addition to the law firm which represents it regularly.

Rate Fight Continues.

Meanwhile, the rate fight went on today. The City of Kansas City, where domestic consumers pay $1 per 1,000 cubic feet for gas, filed with the Missouri Public Service Commission a brief asking the commission to compel the Cities Service Gas Co. to present a schedule of rates for sale of gas from its pipe lines in the State to all local distributing companies and other users. An investigation was asked if the rates were found to be unreasonable.

The brief alleged the holding company and affiliated companies are operating in violation of State laws against price fixing and trusts. Officials of the company have contended it is engaged in interstate commerce and is not subject to regulation by the State commission.

The official fight for a reduction of rates in Kansas is being directed by Gov. Woodring, who has at his command a fund of $100,000 appropriated by the Legislature for expenses. Doherty rejected a request of the governor to reduce city gate rates for gas in Kansas from 40 to 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

firm of which he was the head was one of the largest of its kind here, and millions of dollars flowed through its offices. The collapse of the house precipitated a series of litigations that virtually swamped the office of Fred J. Eden, referee in bankruptcy. Mortgage notes supposed to have been secured on first trusts were found to have no actual security in that the trusts has been released and the notes had not been paid.

A dozen of the larger apartment and office buildings in the city were among those affected. The Shoreham Building, the Shoreham Apartments, the Westchester Apartments, the Ponce de Leon and numerous others were brought into litigation through released trusts and their financial affairs are now being worked out in the courts. Two large life insurance companies became involved when it was found that they had loaned sums of over a million dollars each on mammoth apartments on which prior trusts had been released without noteholders being paid.

On June 8 the American Government expressed regret for the slaying of two Mexican students by deputy sheriffs at Ardmore, Okla.

More recently Ruben C. Pardo, a Mexican, was fatally shot at San Diego by Federal immigration inspectors. The Immigration Bureau is now awaiting a report on the shooting.

The Illinois Governor reported yesterday that Judge Green had expunged the order against the consul to remove any possibility that his action might be considered unfriendly to Mexico. The report follows:

"Upon receipt of yours of the 7th relative to the arrest of the Mexican consul of Chicago by order of Judge Thomas Green, of the municipal court of that city, I asked Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby to at once get in touch with Judge Thomas Green in an effort to bring about a satisfactory conclusion of the matter. The following statement has just been given out by Judge Green:

"'To remove any possible belief that my act was any indication of any feeling toward Mexico or to the Mexican people or to create any unfriendly relations between the two countries, and to promote the general good feeling between the two countries, the order being directed only as to the individual, at the request of John J. Sonsteby, chief justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago, I entered an order expunging the order of July 7, 1931, which held Adolfo G. Dominguez in contempt of court in the case of the people of the State of Illinois vs. Adolfo G. Dominguez, in the Municipal Court of Chicago, thereby closing the matter.'"

Philadelphia Makes Bid For Republican Session

Philadelphia, July 10 (A.P.).—Mayor Harry A. Mackey in a letter today notified the Republican national committee that Philadelphia is in the field for the 1932 convention.

The mayor asked Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the committee, to arrange an appointment to meet a Philadelphia committee in Washington July 20 or 22.

STIMSON IS CHEERED BY PARLEYS IN ITALY

Secretary Will Leave Rome Today for Short Visit in Mountains.

Rome, July 10 (A.P.).—Eminently satisfied by his talks with Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi, Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, will leave tomorrow by automobile to spend a few days in the mountains before proceeding to Paris.

Secretary Stimson said his talks with the Italian cabinet members had "furthered one purpose I had in coming to Europe—that is to form my own impressions concerning conditions here."

The Secretary did not comment specifically on the disarmament feature of his discussions with Signors Mussolini and Grandi, but the premier made it clear that that question was gone over in detail and that Italy and America were harmonious in their desire to get the maximum results from the disarmament conference to be held next February.

After his contact with the modern Italy, as personified in the premier and the foreign minister, Secretary Stimson spent his last evening here visiting ancient Rome. Mr. and Mrs. Stimson were taken for a private view of the Roman Forum, the campidoglio on which stands the capitol in a square designed by Michelangelo, and the San Angelo Castle, once a papal fortress.

By order of Mussolini these buildings were illuminated by large hidden searchlights and they made a fantastic multicolored scene.

Secretary Stimson had not definitely decided tonight where he would spend the next few days, but he had made up his mind not to go to Florence, as originally planned, because of the heat.

At noon the Secretary was honor guest at a farewell luncheon given by Foreign Minister Grandi in a beflowered palace where the Borghese family once lived. Places were laid for 50.

Secretary Stimson also inspected the site for the new American Embassy. He expects to arrive in Paris July 15.

PRESIDENT SCORES SHORTS IN WHEAT

speculator will profit by just that much. Of course, if the price should go up, he has to "cover" his loss. In the case of wheat here of late, however, the speculator has gambled correctly.

President Hoover, in his statement, did not denounce all short selling. If times were normal, he indicated, he might have nothing to say on the matter. But in these days, he said, short selling of wheat "has but one purpose, and that is to depress prices." This, he said, "tends to destroy returning public confidence." Also, he said, it is clearly the intent of the speculators to take a profit from the losses of other people and to deprive farmers of their rightful income.

There is an important political phase to the wheat situation. The Federal Farm Board, which grew out of the Republican platform pledge of 1928, was created at a special session of Congress, called by President Hoover right after his inauguration. The board was given a revolving fund of $500,000,000, and a good part of this was used by the Crain Stabilization Corporation, an off-shoot of the board, to buy up surplus wheat and thus stabilize the price.

Farm Board's Problem.

Last spring, about the time President Hoover was returning from the Caribbean, Chairman Stone, of the Farm Board, announced that the wheat-buying program was over, and that the growers would have to compete with the world market. Then arose the problem as to what the board would do with the 250,000,000 bushels or so that it had bought.

Recently Vice President Curtis, Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, and Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, appealed to the Farm Board to keep its wheat off the market for a period of months or until the price reaches a certain figure.

The board had announced that it would sel wheat whenever market conditions were favorable. Abut three weeks ago, in response to protests from the farm regions, President Hoover asked the board to reconsider this policy.

Board's Policy Modified.

The Farm Board then modified its policy to the extent of deciding that it would not sell more than 5,000,000 bushels in any one month, exclusive of foreign sales then under consideration.

The farmers, however, are far from satisfied. Some of them want the wheat held for a year; others suggest that it be held until the crop now being gathered has been sold, while others want it held until the price goes to 85 cents or a dollar. Still others would have Uncle Sam solve the problem by burning the wheat or giving it to the Chinese.

Meanwhile the Republican national committee has a special farm committee hard at work trying to placate the farmers and line them up for 1932.

Speculation by Shorts Denied in Kansas City

Kansas City Mo. July 10 (A.P.).—Frank A. Theis, president of the Kansas City Board of Trade, said tonight the Kansas City grain market to his knowledge was free of any short-selling speculators condemned today by President Hoover.

Holdup Trio Robs New Orleans Bank

Heavily Armed Bandits Force Employes Against Wall; Get $2,500.

New Orleans, July 10 (A.P.).—Three masked bandits held up the St. Bernard Market Branch of the Canal Bank & Trust Co., shortly after 2:30 o'clock today and escaped with about $2,500.

The three robbers were heavily armed, wore handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces and threatened to kill anyone attempting to give an alarm.

Miss Sophie Mossmeier, a teller, who saw the men leave their parked car, ran to a telephone to call police but was forced to drop the instrument at the point of a pistol. After herding employes against a wall, the robbers forced the manager to open the safe and quickly withdrew. The bandits fled in a sedan in which two other men waited for them.

PARIS' LOAN STAND PERPLEXES BERLIN

Official Germany Is Worried by Grave Situation That Demand Creates.

Berlin July 10 (A.P.).—Official Germany is making no attempt to conceal the gravity of the situation which has developed from Hans Luther's visit to Paris, where, according to reports reaching here, the French imposed political conditions upon the granting of a loan to the Reichsbank.

Chancellor Bruening's office was a beehive today as conferences with bankers, industrial heads and political leaders, including United States Ambassador Sackett, followed each other in rapid succession.

The political opposition is known to be watching its opportunity and there is a feeling that only a good excuse is needed to provoke a political upheaval. No better excuse could be found, the government is afraid, than surrender by Chancellor Bruening to political pressure from France.

French Stand Held Wedge.

Hitherto the chancellor has been able to hold out against the Nationalists because politics had been kept out of the Hoover plan for Germany's economic rescue. When they found that that plan had been left intact, the opposition was for a time nonplussed.

Now, in the German view, France is insisting upon certain political guarantees which were left out of the Hoover proposal, and the radicals of the political right and left are using this development for their own advantage.

Dr. Luther, who intended to return to Berlin this afternoon was urged to remain in Paris for further negotiations, because the German government feels it has already called upon the United States so often that it would prefer to have Dr. Luther obtain part of the money he needs in France.

Should he fail, however, there is little doubt that Ambassador Sackett once more would be asked to call in the United States.

The newspapers, with practical unanimity, oppose making political concessions to obtain aid from France.

Paper Hits Paris Attitude.

Even Germania, the Centrist organ, which generally is regarded as the chancellor's paper, asks where it would lead if every future loan had to be bought not only with interest charges but with political concessions. Paris has shown once again, Germania says, that it can not with justice claim to play a leading role in intellectual and economic reorganization.

The semiofficial newspaper Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz asserts that the reason the French demands regarding curtailment of Germany's naval program puts the chancellor in such an embarrassing position at home is that it awakens in Germans a bitter feeling of helplessness and inequality before the other Nations.

The newspaper says it can not understand why pressure should be brought upon Germany in regard to naval mattres at this particular time when Premier Mussolini is making the "common sense suggestion that disarmament down to 10,000 tons is not too much so long as nobody has more."

Bandit Is Killed In Tennessee Bank

Wounded Companion Is Taken as Police Frustrate Holdup Plan.

Friendship, Tenn., July 10 (A.P.).—Trapped by officers who had been warned an attempt would be made to rob the bank of Friendship, one man was killed and his companion was wounded and captured in a gun battle at the bank today.

Advised that the holdup was contemplated, officers stationed themselves in the bank. When a man approached the cashier's window with a pistol in his hand and yelled "stick 'em up," the officers started firing from a balcony. The bandit returned the shots until he fell dead.

The other man was in an automobile nearby. As the policemen surrounded the car, he tried to draw a gun and they shot him in the arm and arrested him.

Deputy Garrison, in commenting upon his appeal, described the high bonds as a "plain outrage." "Tourists," he said, "are discouraged from entering the State of Maryland by such practices."

Chief Crowley admitted that most of those caught by police are from other States and usually are tourists. He had not been informed, when interviewed, of Deputy Garrison's request for assistance from the automobile association.

Several interstate buses have been stopped while passing through the county, according to Garrison, and forced to wait while the bus drivers brought collateral to insure their appearance in court on various charges.

BRITAIN TAKES STEP TO WAIVE ON DEBTS

Serves Formal Notice That, She Does Not Expect Germans to Pay.

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Great Britain today took decisive action to put the Hoover moratorium into effect, so far as she is concerned, by informing the Bank for International Settlements that she would not expect payment of the German reparations installment due on July 15.

In a letter notifying the World Bank of its decision, the government stated that it was renouncing both the conditional and unconditional annuities and that the governments of the dominions and India concurred.

It is now up to the bank to notify Germany of the British action.

The letter to the bank says the step was taken on the ground that collection of the installment due next Wednesday, even if Germany were able to pay, would be "manifestly inconsistent with acceptance in principle of President Hoover's proposal."

Details Must Be Settled.

It points out that "certain outstanding questions regarding the method of giving effect to President Hoover's proposals remain to be settled."

It is for the settlement of these "outstanding points," the most important of which are the questions of deliveries in kind and of the guarantee fund which France would be required to deposit with the World Bank in the event of a German moratorium under the Young plan at the expiration of the Hoover year, that financial experts of the nations chiefly concerned will meet here next Friday.

The British government today issued formal invitations to the nations which will be represented at that conference. They are the United States, Germany, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan.

The United States is to be represented by Hugh S. Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, who will attend as an "observer." America is not a signatory of the Young plan.

U. S. Formally Notified.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, notified the State Department yesterday of his government's action in informing the Bank for International Settlements it did not expect payment by Germany of reparations on July 15.

Acting Secretary Castle, of the State Department, expressed the view other governments would take a similar position in connection with their acceptance in principle of President Hoover's one year's moratorium plan.

Commenting on newspaper dispatches telling of the financial situation in Germany, Castle expressed confidence the strain would be overcome.

Information to the department from official sources, he said, showed that the Darmstedter Bank, involved by the failure of a large wool firm, was still sound.

francs at the disposal of the German money market, according to Le Matin.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Further credits to the Reichsbank from the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Bank for International Settlements, and the Federal Reserve System, totaling between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000, are expected in Wall street to be the outcome of negotiations now under way.

May Ask Credit Curb.

As a condition to the new credits, it is thought that the lending banks will insist that the Reichsbank adopt some means of rationing or restricting credit. It also is understood that the group of banks will insist that the commercial banks in their respective countries continue in force such credits as they have extended to Germany already.

No effective date for the new credit has been decided upon, but it is expected that the whole matter will be settled in the immediate future.

Reichsmark exchange was lower today, but French and Swiss francs and Dutch florins were fractionally higher, which indicated possibly a continuing flight of capital from the Reichsmark. German bonds, particularly the 5½ and 7 per cent issues of the national government, experienced heavy selling pressure until late trading, when they reversed the downward trend. Several of the more active German issues closed higher for the day.

Reichstag Chief Forced To Flee Communist Mob

Heide, Germany, July 10 (A.P.).—Paul Loebe, speaker of the Reichstag, was caught in a brawl today when he arrived here to address a meeting of social Democrats on the government emergency tax decrees.

A group of national Socialists and Communists attacked his escort at the railway station and Herr Loebe had to flee for shelter in a nearby house while police cleared the streets.

Hawxhurst were elected as members of the music committee; R. E. Ankers, E. T. Fenwick, F. P. Moffett and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, were chosen as delegates to the Potomac Baptist Association Convention, which will be held in Purcellville, Va., on August 5 and 6. F. P. Moffett was elected chairman of the ushers. The resignation of J. L. Shotwell as a deacon was presented, but was not acted upon.

The financial condition of the church was reported to be excellent, as the receipts are sufficient to cover all expenses. The church treasurer's report showed a total income of $3,513.90, exclusive of the Sunday school or benevolent collections. There was $2,459.26 in the special building fund, and the church indebtedness was reduced $1,500 from this fund. R. E. Anker, treasurer of the men's benevolences, reported that $664.54 had been received during the fiscal year, and the collections for the women's and young peoples' missionary cooperative program and special fund amounted to $1,055.29. The Sunday school treasurer, H. H. Rogers, reported a balance on hand on July 1, 1931, of $146.70; receipts, of $790.28.

The members of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Vienna will hold a joint picnic today in Rock Creek Park in Washington. Special amusements and games have been planned for the afternoon.

The board of religious education of the churches of Arlington-Fairfax Counties met yesterday evening at 6 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church at Falls Church. This was followed by a supper at 6:30 to all persons in both counties who were interested in the week-day schools of religious education which has been carried on for the past two years among the school children of the two counties, under the direction of Miss Ethel Morrison.

Following the supper a business meeting was held under the chairmanship of Walter K. Handy, of Arlington County. The Rev. Minor C. Miller, secretary of the State Council of Religious Education, was the principal speaker. A general discussion of the plans for continuing the religious education instruction in the public schools during the next school term, which starts in September, took place. The supper was served by the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church under the supervision of Mrs. George Thompson, chairman.

The women in charge of the Grange Women's Cooperative Market at the home of Miss Gladys Winfield on the Lee highway near Legato about 2 miles west of Fairfax, have arranged to hold an ice cream festival this evening from 5 until 9 o'clock. The proceeds will be used to aid in the carrying on the enterprise. Homemade ice cream and cake will be served. The committee in charge of arrangements includes: Miss Ludema Sayre, Miss Gladys Winfield, Mrs. Barbara Hall, Mrs. Oden Hutchison, Mrs. Franklin Williams, Mrs. E. D. Vosbury and Mrs. George F. Miles.

Children's Day will be celebrated tomorrow at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Fairfax. A program of recitations and songs has been planned for 8 o'clock in the evening.

The ninth annual carnival of the Volunteer Fire Department of Falls Church will open this evening on the Eastman lot in East Falls Church, at the corner of the Lee highway and Brown avenue and will continue through the following week, with the exception of Sunday. The proceeds of the carnival will be used toward the erection of a new fire engine house and community hall.

President Robert E. Kendrick is chairman of arrangements, and W. A. Pravel, secretary of the department, chairman of the special committee to receive contributions to the building fund with Joseph G. Loveday as treasurer of the fund. Chief E. M. Ward will have charge of the lighting arrangements.

The Women's Auxiliary of the department will have charge of the home-cooked food sale and will sponsor two contests for the best home-made cakes on Wednesday and Saturday evening, with Mrs. Maurice Allan in charge. Z. B. Groves and J. R. Royston will have charge of the erection of the stands and dancing pavilion. The chairmen of the various stands and booths are: R. L. Harmon, ice cream; J. R. Royston, milk bottles; Douglas Royston and Boyd Case, No. 1 candy booth; C. A. Bradley and C. W. Case, No. 2 candy booth; George Maben, soft drinks; George Clark, lamps; C. A. Seaton, blankets; Z. B. Groves, household; Bernard Atwell and G. W. Adams, hams, lard and bacon; Miss Catherine Schofield and Miss Catherine Hussion, balloons; E. M. Ward, automobile; E. E. Eldridge, hoopla; J. S. Swecker, popcorn and J. E. Rucker, games.

The carnival will open each evening with a band concert by the Falls Chruch Fireman's Band under the leadership of Joseph Azema, from 8 until 9 o'clock, which will be followed by dancing until midnight.

The new home of the National Bank of Halifax, on the corner of Main and Payne streets, which was recently erected on the site of the old Fairfax Tavern, will be open to the public tomorrow afternoon and evening until 9 o'clock. Cashier Edgar Littleton and officials of the bank will act as the reception committee. Refreshments and a souvenir booklet of the history of the bank and surrounding country will be given to those attending.

The interior of the main hall, which is three stories high, is of colonial architecture somewhat resembling old Pohick Church in the walls and paneling. There is an overhanging balcony in the rear which opens from the directors' room on the mezzanine floor. The counters and furnishings on the lower floor are of colonial design in knotty oak. The electrical fixtures are finished in gray and resemble old-fashioned oil lamps. The building is modern and fully equipped throughout.

Later Madison, 27-year-old farmer, of route No. 1, Vienna, suffered a possible fracture of the hip yesterday when the horse which he was riding shied at a piece of paper, threw him and then kicked him. The accident occurred on the Herndon-Wheile road. The farmer was treated at Georgetown Hospital.

ARNOLD NAMED HEAD OF VETERANS' ORDER

Legion Post of Alexandria Elects Officers; Convention Plans Made.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

John S. Arnold was last night elected commander of Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion, succeeding Sidney Weil. G. Raymond King was chosen first vice commander; Louis F. Hoy, second vice commander; Marc Freeman, of Fort Humphreys, third vice commander; Howard L. Arnold, adjutant; Jones Cox, finance officer, and Harry Davis, sergeant at arms. The election of a chaplain was deferred.

Commander Sidney Weil, who will serve until after the State convention in Clifton Forge on August 23-25, has had an unsually successful term, the membership of the post during his administration reaching the peak of 605 members, easily the largest in the State.

The meeting last night voted to indorse Dan S. Hollenga for the post of commander of the division at the State convention. Mr. Hollenga has been active in legion affairs since the organization in Paris, and was one of those instrumental in its organization.

The meeting also voted to invite the 1932 convention of the Virginia division of the legion to meet in Alexandria, the invitation to include the American Legion Auxiliary, the Forty and Eght and the Eight and Forty, the latter being the women's organization corresponding to the Forty and Eight.

Mrs. Margaret Bailey has been elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary to Post No. 24, of Alexandria; Mrs. W. Cameron Roberts, first vice president; Mrs. Sidney Weil, second vice president; Mrs. W. Milton Glasgow, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Ale, historian; Mrs. Lulu Bowley, sergeant at arms, and Mrs. George W. Roop, chaplain.

The reports of officers made at the meeting yesterday shows that the auxiliary was successfully guided during the year just past by Mrs. F. Clinton Knight and the programs satisfactorily carried out.

The following delegates to the State convention to be held in Clifton Forge in August were elected: Mrs. Margaret Bailey, Mrs. F. Clinton Knight, Mrs. Sidney Weil, Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson, Mrs. George W. Roop, Mrs. Clyde B. Lanham and Mrs. E. B. Ale.

The health report just submitted by Dr. W. Lewis Schaffer, city health officer, shows that in June there were eight cases om measles, five of scarlet fever, two of chicken pox and one of tuberculosis, reported to the department. There were 25 deaths and 46 births recorded. A total of 540 persons attended the free health clinics during the month.

New officers of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Red Men, were installed Thursday night. The ceremonies were conducted by Roger C. Sullivan, past great sachem, assisted by H. R. Padgett, acting great prophet, and George Wells, jr., great sannap. The list of officers installed includes Frank Smith, prophet; S. F. Gill, senior sagamore; W. J. Monahan, junior sagamore; W. H. Winston, first sannap; George Wells, second sannap; A. S. Mankins, guard of forest; C. P. Smith, guard of wigwam; Norman Roberts, chief of records; B. H. Cook, collector of wampum; L. D. Sullivan, keeper of wampum; H. R. Padgett, trustee; Frank Travers, W. H. Trudgill, E. A. Huntington and Harry Baader, warriors; Cecil Taylor, Elmer Moore, E. I. Young and Jack Grady, braves; Norman Roberts, R. C. Sullivan and E. A. Huntington, entertainment committee; S. F. Gill and W. J. Monahan, booster committee; W. J. Monahan and Norman Roberts, publicity committee.

Two members were lost by death during the past month, the Rev. Edgar Carpenter and R. Johnson Hayden.

Dan S. Hollénga business manager of the Chamber of Commerce, stated yesterday that there has been a misunderstanding as to his attitude regarding the proposed construction by the State highway commission of the road in Fairfax County from Pohick through Annandale to Washington.

The views of Mr. Hollenga, according to his statement, are that he will oppose the building of this road until the highway commission has widened the road between Alexandria and Fredericksburg and eliminated some of the dangerous curves, particular reference being made to the sharp curve at the Penn Daw Hotel, about two miles south of Alexandria. Should the commission agree to first make the improvements suggested by him, Mr. Hollenga states he will not be opposed to the Fairfax County road.

Elizabeth Robinson, colored, 27 years old, is in the hospital suffering from a number of stab wounds alleged to have been inflicted by her husband, John Robinson. The woman had 100 stitches taken in various parts of her anatomy as a result of the cutting. Her condition is reported as favorable.

Mrs. Bertha Cox, wife of City Sergt. Robert H. Cox, died yesterday at her home, 1908 King street, after having been in failing health for several months, although she did not become seriously ill until last Sunday. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Robert S. Keene; four brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the home by the Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and interment will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Jennie C. Ramey, widow of Herbert L. Ramey, died Thursday at her home, 304 South St. Asaph street, after a long illness. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Gladys C. Ramey and Miss Elizabeth M. Ramey.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence by the Rev. E. R. Spencer, former pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, and the Rev. Norris A. Lineweaver, present pastor of the church, and burial will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery.

MISS GOODCHILD SUCCUMBS.

Resident Here 40 Years to Be Buried in Baltimore Monday.

Miss Mary Ann Goodchild, 95 years old, 1006 East Capitol street, died yesterday at her home after a short illness. She was born in England and came to this country 65 years ago, living first in Virginia and for more than 40 years in Washington.

Miss Goodchild came to this country with the parents of Miss Mary A. Betts, of the East Capitol street address, and had since been with that family. No relatives survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Church of the Nativity, Fourteenth and A streets southeast, Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Baltimore.

ALFRED P. CIOMEI DIES.

Former Hardware Merchant Will Be Buried Monday Afternoon.

Alfred P. Ciomei, 40 years old, of 2106 G street northwest, died yesterday after an illness of eight years. He was a former hardware merchant here, having a store for several years at Fourteenth and U streets northwest.

Mr. Ciomei, born in New York City, had lived in Washington for 24 years. He was a Mason. Members of that organization will have charge of the funeral services at Gawler's Funeral Home, 1804 M street northwest, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Sadie Ciomei, and one son, David Ciomei, both of Washington.

285 ENTRIES JUDGED AT JUNIOR HUNT FAIR

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., July 10.—From early in the morning until gray evening horses and ponies passed before the judges at the Warrenton Junior Hunt Club show held here today.

Animals ranging from tiny ponies, typified by Mary Vandever's Billy, which stands 8 hands, to Miss Mildred Gaines' The Greek, a long-legged gelding, 16.3 hands high, competed in suitable classes, and by night the judges had looked over 280 entries and passed decisions.

The show followed the official schedule closely until the pony triple-bar event, when 21 entries went at the high, wide bars, and by the time the piebald Colonel, ridden by his owner, 7-year-old Ellie Wood Keith, of University, Va., was adjudged winner, the exhibit was running behind time.

Winner of Hunter Classes.

Miss Elizabeth Nesbit, of Warrenton, rode her Chestnut, Cathode Ray, to win five hunter classes, getting the longest string of blues for the day, taking the model hunter, local hunter, open jumping, lightweight hunter and hunter sweepsteak.

In the middle and heavyweight event Miss Nesbit rode Squiffy, half-brother to her Cathode Ray, for another win.

The pony Corinthian, with the Robert E. Ferneyhough, jr., Memorial Cup as the prize, went again to Frosty, ridden by Alexander Rives, repeating last year's success. One more win on this event will give the Rives brothers permanent ownership of the cup, which required three wins.

The biggest winner in the pony classes was little Ellie Wood Keith, whose Colonel brought her three blues today, which incidentally were the first ones he has ever won. He is a tall piebald gelding and presents a striking appearance taking a jump, especially with the Keith child riding.

The lightweight hunter class was one of the best of the day, seven horses in the field of seven giving clean performances in the first round.

Today's show is followed tonight by the dance given by the Culpeper Pot and Kettle Club, in honor of the officers and directors of the Warrenton Junior Hunt Club.

The summaries follow:

NEW YORK CONTROL OF PARTIES CHARGED

Brookhart Declares Single Financial Unit Rules Political Groups.

University, Va., July 10 (A.P.).—Asserting that both major political parties in the United States have come under a single financial control centered in New York, Senator Smith W. Brookhart tonight told the Institute of Public Affairs that until this control is broken it makes little difference which party wins an election.

In his address the Iowa Republican referred to the Hoover debt moratorium plan as a means of promoting stock speculation. The transportation and Federal Reserve acts were attacked as examples of the use of bipartisan control to serve special interests and actions on questions of the tariff, power control and agricultural relief. All were subjects for his criticism.

Charges "Sham Battles."

"There is little difference," he said, "in control of the Democrats by John J. Raskob and of the Republicans by Robert H. Lucas. Both represent predatory monopolies of the country and both set up political machines to attain the same end. Most issues that are fought out between them are sham battles and when they really want to accomplish something of importance, they get together and declare it is not a political subject."

After citing alleged examples of combinations of the parties in the interests of financial dictators, Senator Brookhart said "the question in coming national conventions will be whether or not men can be nominated to fight this vicious bipartisan scheme in one or both political parties.

"If the people fail in both parties, then it matters little how the election may go. If a candidate is nominated in either party who will fight for the rights of the people upon all of these great questions, he will be elected by an overwhelming majority."

Dr. Gilbreth Is Speaker.

Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, member of President Hoover's commission on unemployment, also spoke tonight, outlining the part she said women must play in helping to solve the unemployment problem.

"The challenge of unemployment is no new or temporary one," she said. "If it is met with deep but controlled feeling with clear thinking and with prompt but careful action, we shall not only develop a technique which will stabilize life, but a feeling of adequacy which should prove satisfying enough to maintain our interest continuously. If this does result, we have nothing to fear from the future."

The transportation act was cited by Senator Brookhart as an example of the result of a bipartisan combination which "gave seven billion dollars of watered value to railroads and a rate of return upon all of it greater than the ability of the American people to produce."

"The Federal Reserve act which collects surplus credit of the country in New York for speculative purposes likewise put over by bipartisan support," he said. "Later, when the Federal Reserve Board planned a general deflation of the country and of the farmer in particular, every member of the board was a Democrat, but they called in Class A directors and the advisory council and a large majority of these were Republicans. Then all together they planned and put on the most devastating deflation that ever happened in the history of our country.

"When we come to the tariff question we also find in reserve enough Democrats ready to support reactionary Republicans in passing the most offensive tariff law to the countries of the world that we have ever passed.

"When we get to the power trust they shout, 'There is no trust.' Then its big leaders spend vast sums to elect United States senators in the Republican party and to become a candidate for President in the Democratic."

In this connection specific mention was made of Owen D. Young.

Senator Brookhart said the combination with Mellon, Morgan and Rockefeller on the Republican side and Young, Raskob and Morgan (correct) on the Democratic side hoped to consolidate Eastern railroads to assist in starting another era of stock speculation; that they sought to rob the people of their resources by evading the water power law and further to encourage stock speculation by postponement of intergovernmental debt payments.

He asserted that agriculture had been wrecked by this combination and that the farm board was controlled by it and "has done nothing, perhaps has even been a great detriment to agricultural markets."

3 in Loudoun County Are Admitted to Bar

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., July 10.—Among the list of successful candidates passing the State bar examinations in Roanoke, Va., last week were Stilson H. Hall and Lucas Phillips, of Leesburg, and Kenneth Cromer, of Aldie.

Mr. Hall, who is the examiner of records for this district, studied at the National Law University, Washington, and it is understood that he will be associated with his brother, Wilbur C. Hall, delegate to the Virginia Assembly from Loudoun County, in his law office here.

OFFICERS SELECTED BY LOUDOUN LEGION

Leesburg, Va., July 10.—At the monthly meeting of Loudoun Post, No. 34, American Legion, the following officers were appointed for the coming year, to take office at the August meeting: Commander, Dr. Herbert Howard; first vice commander, Richard Wainwright, of Leesburg; second vice commander, Joseph E. Bell, of Middleburg; adjutant, Joseph B. Darcey, of Leesburg.

The following appointments were made by the newly elected commander: Finance officer, R. Frank Ellmore; service officer, Joseph B. Darcey; historian, Miss Maria Copeland; chaplain, the Rev. D. C. Mayers; assistant chaplain, the Rev. Bernard C. McKenna; sergeant at arms, Victor Jackson; athletic officer, Stanley Green; Virginia Legionaire representative, Mrs. Grace Popkins; assistant chaplains, the Rev. J. C. Montgomery and the Rev. J. C. Welburn.

The executive committee will be composed of the officers of the post and Arthur S. Jenkins, Stanley Green and Lawrence Detwiler.

Delegates elected to the department convention to be held in Clifton Forge, Va., August 23 to 26, inclusive, are Arthur S. Jenkins, J. B. Darcey, Richard Wainwright, R. F. Ellmore, Herbert Howard, Gen. William Mitchell and S. H. Grimes, jr. Alternates are Vincenzo Raneri, H. S. Potterfield, H. G. Breckenridge, Clarence Kephart, Frank Smoot, Stilson Hall and Wilbur C. Hall.

At the meeting H. G. Breckenridge, department vice commander, made an interesting speech on "Comradeship," and also thanked the retiring officers for the assistance given the post during the past year. A motion was made and approved by the post thanking Commander Breckenridge for the valuable assistance rendered the post, and the post also extended thanks and appreciation to the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., of which Mr. Breckenridge is an employe, for allowing him the time which he gave to the work of the post.

A commander's button was presented to S. H. Grimes, jr., the retiring post commander. Adjt. Joseph B. Darcey was presented with an American Legion wallet.

REPUBLICAN FIGHT DELAYS CONVENTION

Lyon Park Has Two Sets of Delegates Seated at County Meeting.

Delayed by a three-hour debate on the seating of contesting delegations, the Arlington County Republican convention for the selection of candidates for county and State offices, was still in session at an early hour this morning in the Community House at Lyon Park.

The debate ended in the seating of two sets of delegates from Lyon Park, thirteen in each delegation. It was decided to give each delegate half a vote. The 144 delegates present elected L. C. McNemar, of Clarendon, chairman of the convention, and Mrs. C. W. Harris, of Lyon Park, secretary.

The only candidate for office whose nomination appeared uncontested was Clarence R. Ahalt, running for Commonwealth's attorney. The convention also was to choose candidates for sheriff, county treasurer, commissioner of revenue, five members of the county board and a member of the House of Delegates.

Accused in Gaming, Boy Freed on Bond

Posts $1,000 Bail Pending Jury Trial as Result of Recent Raid.

Demanding a jury trial on a charge of permitting gaming, Carl J. Simonton, 19 years old, yesterday was released on a $1,000 bond by Judge John P. McMahon, in Police Court.

Simonton was arrested in a raid on Twelfth street, near E street northwest, by police, who testified in court they merely followed a patron into the place. A number of men found in the place are being held on $100 bonds as Government witnesses.

Missing Girl, 16, Hunted.

Mrs. Ruth McClanahan yesterday asked police to look for her 16-year-old daughter, Mary, who disappeared from their home at 2916 N street northwest Thursday night. The girl was last seen standing on the corner near her home.

Richards to Go to Chicago.

Tax Assessor William P. Richards yesterday was authorized by the District Commissioners to attend the President's conference on home building and home ownership in Chicago on July 15.

GARDENS FOR FOOD URGED FOR JOBLESS

Cost Would Be Low and Serve Many Families; Vacant Lots Will Do.

A Nation-wide appeal for home gardens to provide food has been made by Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, chairman of the woman's division of the President's Emergency Committee for Employment. This will assist in food production and provide proper food for low cost diets to many American families, according to this economic specialist.

Experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, who are cooperating with the committee in this movement, estimate that seed and fertilizer for a garden to supply vegetables to a family of from five to eight persons will cost no more than $8. Such a garden would yield some surplus for storage. The department emphasizes that all farm families should have a good vegetable garden this year and when reasonably convenient those living in towns and cities should make them when it is necessary to supplement the income of the family.

The purpose of the home garden is twofold, Dr. Gilbreth points out: It will offer work to the unemployed in many instances, and will also be a source of inexpensive food supply, especially for those persons whose winter diets have been limited because of lowered incomes. To use more vegetables in the diet is to follow the recommendation by the Bureau of Home Economics that the diet include more vegetables, wherever possible, than the quantity outlined in its low cost food guide developed for the committee.

Green Vegetables Important.

According to the bureau, vegetables, particularly the green, leafy ones, are especially important for iron, and, with the exception of milk, furnish more calcium than any other class of foods. They are also valuable for their vitamin content and bulk. Home-grown vegetables seem to taste better than others, perhaps because the family makes special effort to produce them. The longer the planting season is extended, the better balanced the diets are likely to be, the bureau says.

In order to assist the unemployed in raising vegetable gardens the committee suggests that vacant city lots be utilized and that civic organizations make every effort to help in financing the work. It follows this up with a plan for instruction in the care of such gardens.

The Department of Agriculture experts suggest the following group of vegetables for the home garden, which can be planted in the following order: Peas, potatoes, onion sets, beets, spinach, radishes, lettuce, cabbage, turnips, broccoli, carrots, string beans, tomatoes, peppers and lima beans. They say, however, not to plant peas and potatoes if space is limited. The department distributes a bulletin, "The City Home Garden," which goes into the problem of the small vegetable garden in much detail and should be of great help to those who are attempting one for the first time.

In the South, turnip greens and collards, which have wintered in the fields, are already available, the department points out. Northern gardeners can get early crops of greens by planting spinach, beets, and carrots as soon as the ground can be worked in the spring. The thinnings of carrots can be served as creamed baby carrots.

For Family of Five.

A family of five, including father, mother and three children should buy every week: Bread, 12-16 pounds; flour, 1-2 pounds; cereal, 4-6 pounds; whole fresh milk, 23-28 quarts or canned unsweetened milk, 23-28 tall cans; potatoes, 15-20 pounds; dried beans, peas, peanut butter, 1-2 pounds; tomatoes, fresh or canned, or citrus fruit, 6 pounds; other vegetables (including some of green or yellow color), and inexpensive fruits, 15-18 pounds; fats, such as bacon, butter, lard, margarine, salt pork, &c., 2½ pounds; sugar and molasses, 3 pounds; lean meat, fish, cheese, eggs (8 eggs approximate 1 pound), 5-7 pounds; eggs (for children), 8 pounds; coffee, 1 pound; tea, ¼ pound.

Alphonso to Turn Down Transocean Invitations

Fontainebleau, France, July 10 (A.P.).—Former King Alfonso of Spain has received a number of invitations to visit the United States and Latin America, it has been learned. It is considered unlikely that he will accept any of them in the near future.

Former Queen Victoria arrived here tonight on her return from a visit to England.

Delightful summer dishes are being submitted to The Washington Post by Capital housewives each week in the food page recipe contest and this week's $5 prize is awarded to Mrs. Gertrude Sibley Phalen, 1870 Wyoming avenue northwest.

Her recipe calls for Banana Cream and others who follow the suggestions she makes will find they have a tasty concoction of special appeal these warm days.

Mrs. Phalen's recipe is as follows:

2 tablespoons ASCO gelatine soaked in ¼ cup cold water
1½ cups hot milk
½ cup L. A. Zirkle honey
3 ripe bananas
1 lemon, juice only
1 cup cream, whipped

Dissolve gelatin in hot milk; add bananas mashed through a sieve, add lemon juice and honey. When cold and beginning to thicken add the whipped cream. Put in ice box to harden. Serve with whipped cream and a cherry on top. Makes 12 small molds.

Builder Optimistic Over Soviet Trade

Russian Premier Is Told American Attitude Has Changed.

Moscow, July 10 (A.P.).—Col. Hugh L. Cooper, head of the American engineering firm which bears his name, told Premier Molotoff today he was optimistic regarding the future of Russian-American trade.

Col. Cooper was received by the premier in a 45-minute interview, the Soviet official asking him about the status of American trade with Russia. A distinct decline was recorded after the Fish congressional commission reported, the American said, but the situation was better now.

The premier said he was gratified with Col. Cooper's reaction to Joseph Stalin's recent speech, as expressed in an interview last night. The engineer had said he was convinced that Stalin's enunciation of a new Soviet industrial policy marked a new epoch in Russian progress.

Germany's Prize Rose Is Named Mrs. Sackett

Berlin, July 10 (A.P.).—Germany's most beautiful rose, a great dark red flower which won first prize at the Bad Homburg rose show, has been named the "Mrs. Sackett," in honor of the wife of the American Ambassador.

The ambassador was informed of the tribute today by the director of the show. The prize rose, grown by a firm in Frankfort, was awarded a gold medal as the finest flower in the exhibition.

3 Women Strikers Hurt In Spanish Textile Riot

Valencia, Spain, July 10 (A.P.).—Unemployed workers today repeated yesterday's street demonstrations. The police made four arrests. Authorities said the disturbances were inspired by radical syndicalists.

Alicante, Spain, July 10 (A.P.).—Three women textile strikers were wounded by sabers of police who dissolved a demonstration here today.

Belgian Invasion Decided On in 1905

Secret Letter of Kaiser and Von Buelow Alleged to Outline Plan.

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—The Havas News Agency today published excerpts from an article to be published tomorrow by the magazine Les Annales, based on what is described as secret correspondence between the former kaiser and Prince von Buelow in 1905, when Von Buelow was the German chancellor.

According to these letters, Havas says, Germany had decided to invade Belgium at that time in the event of war with England.

"If England attacks us," says one of the Von Buelow letters, "your highness must send telegrams at once to Brussels and Paris, demanding that they declare themselves within six hours for or against us. We shall immediately enter Belgium no matter what the reply."

A letter supposedly from the kaiser to the chancellor in 1907 says, "The great countries of the future—Japan and America—already are counting on us and taking a position on our side. France has lost her liberty of action and is being towed by England."

Capt. Fielder Is Named Army Band Commander

Capt. Kendall J. Fielder, who recently completed a course at the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., yesterday was placed in command of the United States Army Band, succeeding Capt. Curtis D. Alway, whose tour of duty expired.

Capt. Fielder once served here as assistant adjutant in charge of official ceremonies and parades, and afterward completed a three-year tour of duty in the Philippines. William J. Stannard will continue as leader, having jurisdiction over the band's musical functions, and Thomas F. Darcy as second leader.

Light Plant Earns Money.

Holland, Mich., July 10 (U.P.).—A net profit of $161,344.79 was shown last year by the municipal light and water plant of Holland, according to figures just made public. The municipally-owned plant was started in 1894 and has shown a constant profit.

INTEREST KEENER IN RECIPE CONTEST

More Prizes and Honors Are Announced in Post Competition.

Housewives who read the Saturday food page of The Washington Post appear to be joining in the prize contest for recipes containing foodstuffs advertised on this page with a vim. Each week more recipes are entered and the food editor is puzzled how to make the awards between so many excellent recipes.

The preparation of food is a serious matter in American households just now, with so many home makers faced with reduced incomes and yet anxious to maintain the high standards of diet for their families.

This note has been struck in many of the letters received from contestants. The Washington Post is eager to assist homemakers in this task as far as possible, and welcomes suggestions on ways to make this page more valuable to its readers.

PEANUT BUTTER BISCUIT.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

2 cups of self-rising Washington flour
2-3 cup of milk
½ teaspoon of salt
4 tablespoons of shortening
¼ cup of Schindler's peanut butter

Method: Cut the shortening into the sifted dry ingredients. Add liquid to make soft dough. Roll out and cuit into biscuits. Bake in an oven at 450 degrees F.

HONEY DRESSING FOR FRUIT SALADS.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

1-3 cup Zirkle's honey
¾ cup water
1 teaspoon mustard
½ teaspoon salt
Paprika
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Washington flour
2 egg yolks
1-3 cup sour cream

Heat honey and water in double boiler. Mix the dry ingredients with vinegar and add to the first mixture. Pour a small amount of the hot mixture over the beaten egg yolks and return to the double boiler. Cook all together until clear. Add the whipped sour cream just before serving.

LOUISE HUMPHRIES.
5815 Colorado avenue.

PEACH SHORT CAKE.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

2 cups Washington Self-Rising flour
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons butter
1 cup milk
6 fresh peaches

Sift flour and sugar, rub in the butter with tips of fingers, then wet with the milk to a soft dough. Drop it on a floured board and, handling it just as little as possible, roll and pat into two round cakes, which will fill a deep pie plate. Drop in one cake of the dough, brush with melted butter and lay the other on top of it. Bake until crisp, brown and puffy. Split, and between the cake and on top spread thin slices of peaches. Any desired fruits or berries may be used instead of peaches.

MRS. ROSE CARTER.
109 Ridge road southeast.

DRIPPED COFFEE.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

Use freshly boiled water, just as it reaches the boil. Have ready a drip pot, hot, allow a table spoon of Swing's Mocha and Java, ground No. 1, and a cup of water for each person to be served. Keep it hot but do not allow it to boil. Drip through just once and serve very hot.

D. TOOMBS.

MARSHMALLOW CREAM.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

1 tablespoon Asco's plain gelatin
¼ cupful boiling water
1 pint of whipping cream
12 macaroons
3 tablespoons candied cherries
¼ cupful cold water
1 cupful sugar
10 Asco's marshmallows
½ cupful Frazier's almonds

Dissolve gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then add boiling water and sugar. Let stand until cool. Then add the cream which has been whipped stiff and beat until well mixed. Add macaroons, almonds and cherries which have been chopped fine. Place in a square pan to set. Cut in slices like ice cream.

MRS. FRED C. KEITH.
5425 Thirteenth street northwest

FRUIT SHORTCAKE.
(Honorable Mention.)

2 cups sugar
¼ cup butter
1 egg
1 cup pineapple juice (Asco)
1 can (No. 2) crushed pineapple (drained Asco)
2 cups Self-Rising Washington flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 bananas
½ cup chopped nuts (Frazier quality)

Cream butter and sugar, then add beaten egg and beat thoroughly. Sift flour and salt and add alternately with the pineapple juice to the mixture. Beat a few minutes. Bake in deep pan and when done split in half. Mix crushed pineapple, bananas, cut in small pieces, and nuts. Let stand until cake is cool, then spread the fruit mixture between the layers and on top. Cover with whipped cream when ready to serve.

MRS. J. L. O'CONNELL.
934 I street northwest.

DELICIOUS PEACH PIE.
(Honorable Mention.)

1 cup peaches
1 cup Washington Self-Rising flour
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond, extra
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons cream

Line a deep pie plate with a rich pie crust and bake. Into this baked crust place the peaches, which have been slightly sweetened and cut into pieces.

Cream butter and sugar, add the sifted flour, then cream. Beat well. Spread this on top of the peaches. Bake in a moderately hot oven for 30 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

MRS. HUBERT A. EHRMAN.

Spaghetti Supreme.

½ package spaghetti
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 cups scalded milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup grated cheese
3 strips of bacon halved

Parboil the spaghetti for 7 minutes in 2 quarts rapidly boiling water, to which ½ tablespoon salt had been added. Drain.

Make a cheese sauce as follows: Mix the flour with the melted butter. Then add the scalded milk gradually until mixture becomes smooth. Season with salt and pepper and cook in a double boiler until sauce thickens. Remove from fire and add the grated cheese.

In a well-buttered baking dish place alternate layers of the spaghetti and cheese sauce until all are used up. Bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes and remove. Garnish with the strips of bacon on top, and bake five more minutes.

FLAG ENVOYS MEET FRENCH COMRADES

Washington Girl Speaks at Meeting at Colonial Exposition.

Paris, July 10.—America's "Envoys of Friendship," the group of young people on a good-will visit to France under auspices of the United States Flag Association, sang "La Marseillaise" in French today and upward of a thousand French school children, gathered before the replica of Mount Vernon at the International Colonial and Overseas Exposition here, enthusiastically reciprocated by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" in English.

Occasion was the meeting of representatives of the youth of America with representatives of the school children of France, the real objective of the good-will visit to the sister republic.

This morning the "envoys" were guests of honor at ceremonies at the Sorbonne, the most important annual scholastic event in France, when President Doumer distributed prizes to school children of all parts of France and the French colonies. More than a thousand French children were present, and it was this group of children, picked for scholastic abilities, that met with the young Americans at the replica of Mount Vernon this afternoon.

M. Marie Roustan, minister of public instruction for the French Republic, presided at this afternoon's meeting and made an inspiring address, welcoming the "envoys" to France and lauding the spirit of the mission which brought them. He spoke of the lifelong friendship of France and America and declared that he hoped to see this friendship continued through contacts made by these young Americans.

Col. James A. Moss, president general of the United States Flag Association, replied, declaring that the sole purpose of the trip is to bring about friendships of the young people of America with those of the sister Republic of France, in order that those friendships made now might prevail in the future.

Miss Catherine Dubois, of Washington, and John McDuffee, representing the "envoys," made short talks, assuring the French children of the friendship of the American children and expressing the hope that they, as emissaries for the 20,000,000 children of America between the ages of 14 and 18 should be able to lay the foundation of a permanent friendship that would, in the future, lead to a permanent peace.

Assurances of friendship were given by several of the French children and the talks of the "envoys" were enthusiastically applauded.

Macaroni With Tomatoes.

½ package macaroni
6 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 tablespoons tomato catsup (diluted with 2 tablespoons water)
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
4 firm tomatoes
¼ cup flour
Ripe olives (for garnish)

Boil the macaroni for 9 minutes in 2 quarts rapidly boiling water, to which ½ tablespoon salt has been added. Drain.

Place half the butter in frying pan, add the macaroni, Worcestershire, catsup, mustard, salt and pepper. Cook together 5 minutes. Turn onto hot platter.

Cut tomatoes in thick slices, dip each in flour and saute golden brown in the remaining butter. Place around the macaroni and garnish with olives.

Tourist Agent Reports Travel Off 80 Per Cent

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—Directors of American tourist agencies here in connection with the conference of transatlantic steamship companies said today there is no use denying that this year's tourist season is a failure. One of them said his business so far was 80 per cent less than last year.

An agreement was expected this evening in the conference regarding proposed reductions of transatlantic steamship fares.

Gold Star Mothers Honor Canadian Dead

Arras, France, July 10 (A.P.).—A group of American Gold Star Mothers, coming from Notre Dame de Lorette, visited the Canadian park at Vimy Ridge today. They placed a wreath on the monument to 30,000 Canadian dead.

Afterward they went to Cantigny, where the First Division of the A. E. F. distinguished itself in 1918.

Ice Cream frozen this new way has richer, creamier texture

Buy it in the wrapped, sealed "carry-home" package

IT'S THE ice cream sensation of the day . . . this new way of freezing that brings velvety smoothness, a richer, creamier texture to Meadow Gold Ice Cream. Not a single lump or ice crystal mars its delicious flavor.

Made of good things

Meadow Gold's "smooth-freeze" method brings out to the full the rich dairy products of which this finer ice cream is made. Sweet farm cream . . . pure milk . . . vanilla and chocolate flavors made right from the beans . . . fresh fruits in season — real fruits always. There's never a substitute used in making Meadow Gold.

Buy this smoother, more delicious ice cream in the Meadow Gold wrapped, sealed, "carry-home" package. Let the children have all they want of Meadow Gold Ice Cream. It's good for them.

Ask your dealer

The dealers who offer you Meadow Gold have been selected because they give this ice cream the same scrupulous care as it receives in the making. Ask for it at your soda fountain.

A NEW METHOD OF FREEZING

Meadow Gold "Smooth-freeze" Ice Cream is frozen by special patented machinery which reduces the freezing time from minutes to seconds. The result is tiny ice crystals and a velvety smoothness not obtainable in ice cream made any other way.

What Today Means to You

"CANCER."

IF July 11th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., from 1:30 p. m. to 3 p. m., and from 10:30 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 10:45 a. m. to noon, and from 4:50 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Astrological influences on July 11th will tend to paralyze ambition, destroy energy and dampen the spirits. It will be a day of wasted hours, of lost opportunities, and of vain regrets. A dismal day will be followed by a brighter evening, when the planetary aspects will change, and the world will take on a rosier hue.

Children born on this July 11th will have chummy natures, lively spirits, considerable energy, good brain capacity, and even temperaments. They will take a pride in excelling in both sports and studies. They will be unselfishly generous and exceedingly thoughtful.

Born on July 11th, you have a fiery temper, but your emotional storms die down as quickly as they appear. You never sulk or poison your system with stored up feelings of resentment and revenge. You strike back as soon as you are hit. You are inclined to be brusque and unconventional, a diamond in the rough. You probably do not pay enough attention to your clothes and appearance to suit the fastidious-minded. You worry more about your reputation and name than you do about your personal adornment. You have an unimpeachable character. You are looked up to by your associates.

You are not too quiet and are cheerful and full of life. You do not like to lead a solitary life, and you take advantage of all your social opportunities. You are not pleasure mad, but you mix a proper proportion of play with your work.

For both your success and happiness, you should always endeavor to be your own boss; you are too independent of spirit to work under supervision or restrictions. Constancy and consideration are two things which you have to offer to your wife or husband, as securities for your "wedded bliss."

Jane Claire INTERPRETS the MODE

New York, July 10.

ONE of the tricks of smart dressing today is a knowledge of the latest things in accessories—and the discrimination to buy only those that have a definite decorative or harmonizing or complementary value! 'N' it's the acquisition of these little trifles that will amount up to a dreadfully high figure—which, after all, is another reason for being careful in your choice, now isn't it?

And of the accessories, one of the most verstatile and attractive is the scarf—and what lots of different kinds of scarves there are, too! It would be difficult to find one Paris house that didn't use scarves to brighten up tailleurs, ensembles, street frocks, and so on. Cute little ones, matching belts or hat bands, drape individually and one-sidedly, or tie into perky little bows. Smartly tailored ones split through the middle and form entrancingly swanky vestees to wear with your little suit! Softly floating ones for evening form part of your decolletage and give that cool, airy grace that every one loves in summer—while others act as scarf, cape or shawl with equally smart results. 'N' speaking of scarves and such, there's a little cape-scarf that you wear over your shoulders at the beach, or use as a towel, if you wish—as it's made of rough sponge toweling. And a clever little cape-scarf of gallac that distinguishes the most beautiful and exclusive afternoon frock I've seen in a long time, detaches instantly, snaps on again in a different place, and becomes a perky, outstanding little peplum that entirely changes that afternoon frock's reason charm.

So—as all of us avoid dullness wherever possible—and most of us are being stylishly economical this summer it seemed to me that it would be a very good idea to tell you how to make these Paris scarves and things. They're as far from the usual, prosaic idea of scarves, my deahs, as day is from night. They are absolutely the last word in chic, and provide you with infinite costume changes at a very little cost.

'N' so mamselle and I sat ourselves down to make a leaflet on scarves—it fascinated us so that we gave up just hours and hours to it—and finally the leaflet was completed. Mamselle's fingers were stiff from pinning and clipping and stitching, and mine ached from sketching just what went where. Which makes it all the nicer, don't you think, that all you have to do is send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post for the leaflet? 'Cause the results are not the least bit difficult to carry out—it was only the planning in the beginning.

• • • •

I saw a miracle the other day—well, not a real, true miracle, of course, but something very close to one. I saw a very lovely old lady who is celebrating her eightieth birthday today, and she has the most beautiful neck and chin I've ever seen. Not a wrinkle—not a sagging line. I'll have to tell you how she prevented these two tragedies in a day or so.

• • • •

Do take time tomorrow to read the weekly Dare fashion letter in Sunday's Post. I know you'll enjoy it.

Au revoir!

Culbertson on Contract

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

"WRECKED ON THE REEFS OF INFERENCES."

THIS is the story of a master player who was taken for a ride to the tune of 2,000 points on one deal at Contract, proving that it can be done, and also proving that after the player masters all the technique of bidding and play that others can teach him, his real study of the game begins. But the rest of the journey he must travel alone. It is much more difficult to play successfully with bad and erratic partners than with weak and freakish hands.

The greatest mistake made by an advanced player is to assume lightly that a partner, even a very intelligent partner, knows and understands all that he should know. Simplification of one's inferences is the secret of success with partners of average skill. To an expert player you can present a complex and subtle set of inferences; your thoughts can be deeply involved and delicately hung upon a chain of closely knit inductions and deductions; and you can really build a house of cards that would be as solid as though made from steel and cement.

The same set of inferences when conveyed to an average player, must be radically simplified and built on premises that you know that he knows. You will lose a great deal in precision and comprehension but you will recoup your losses in clarity and understanding. This is the key to partnership adaptation. The same fundamental process of simplification underlies most human contacts, whether you sell bonds, write scenarios or make speeches.

There are more different kinds and levels of thought than languages on the earth.

In Bridge, the "algebraic" bidding or play is useless with a partner who can not clearly grasp the meaning of symbols. In the hand below, Michael T. Gottlieb, one of the outstanding Auction and Contract players in the world, was South. His forte is psychology and daring imagination, but even a master will slip up a cog.

	♠ Q 9 5 3 ♥ A 4 3 ♦ 9 8 7 ♣ 5 3 2
♠ K 10 ♥ 8 7 6 ♦ K Q J 4 ♣ 3 2	N W E S	♠ A J 8 7 ♥ K 10 5 2 ♦ 10 ♣ A K 9 6
	♠ 6 4 2 ♥ Q J 9 ♦ A 6 5 ♣ J 10 7 4

(Dealer)
(MR. GOTTLIEB)

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♣
1NT(1)?	Dbl.(2)	Pass	Pass
Redbl.(3)??	Pass	Pass?	Pass

Result: Mr. Gottlieb makes only his heart Ace and diamond Ace and is set five tricks redoubled, or 2,000 points.

1—An "inhibitory" notrump. One of the dangerous little pranks in order to throw some sand into 'enemies' eyes, beloved by experts. In this case the punishment was swift.

2—A Penalty Double. "Attack first and then see."

3—A tragic error of psychology, tragic because technically the bid is correct. Mr. Gottlieb's partner, though very intelligent, was not as yet conservant with the intricacies of an S.O.S. Redouble. Had he been an experienced player or a demigod. He could have easily reasoned out the bid as follows: My partner (South) passed originally—therefore, he had but an average share of honor-tricks (about 2). He subsequently bids one notrump over a Third Hand bid and is doubled for penalties by West, who, therefore, has also an average share of honors but a long suit as well. South's Redouble obviously can mean only one thing: "I am caught in a trap and would rather fight it out at some suit bid. I do not wish, as yet, to bid two in my own suit for fear of shutting out a lower ranking suit in your (North's) hand that may fit better in with the two hands. Show me your longest suit."

North's bid was two spades, thus saving a trick or two. But in my opinion, the real guilt lies not with North, who could not decipher the message, but with South. His code was too complicated.

Today's Pointer

When your partner makes an Opening bid of one, either in a suit or at notrump, he promises you at least 2-½ honor-tricks, which normally produce from 4 to 4-½ playing tricks and assumes that you have approximately 3 playing tricks. If you hold at least Qxx or xxxx of suit bid, you can raise one for each playing trick held in excess of 3. If there has been no intervening bid, this can be shaded to exactly 3 and, if not vulnerable, to slightly less than 3 in order to give partner another chance to bid.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

PLEASE tell me the names of one or two perennial alyssums.

HATTIE McC.

There are a number of perennial alyssums. The following you will be sure to like: Alyssum serphillifolium, A. idaedum, A. spinorum roseum and A. ripens.

My gladiolus have been planted for weeks, but I am anxious to know what you really consider the best time to set out these bulbs.

ELSIE F. W.

It is best to plant the gladiolus early, as soon as the soil begins to warm up. When the leaves begin to appear on the trees is usually planting time in the vegetable garden. Early planting when the soil is full of moisture insures strong, healthy plants.

Please tell me where to buy a bird's-nest fern. Also tell me why my last one died so quickly.

MRS. PAUL Y. R.

Almost all florists list this variety of fern. We can not publish names or addresses in this column, but I can send you the name of a dealer if you care to write again, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. It was the dry air of the house, no doubt, that was responsible for the death of your plant. This variety of fern demands a great deal of moisture in the atmosphere. This is hard to achieve in the house. One way of giving a plant a steam bath is to carry it to the bathroom and turn on the hot-water faucets. When the room is filled with steam, place the plant in the middle of the floor for an hour or so. A steam bath helps any plant.

My hollyhocks are beginning to show signs of rust. What shall I do?

MAY T. R.

Hollyhocks, when grown for a number of years in the same place, are apt to be troubled with rust. Young plants seldom are affected. A mixture of lime and sulphur blown under the leaves will prevent any serious outbreak. Bordeaux mixture is also effective. Always aim to keep down the growth of hollow-stemmed weeds. Much trouble will be eliminated if the seeds of hollyhocks are sown in August instead of in the spring.

Does leopard's bane require much sun?

CHARLES F. U.

Leopard's bane does well whether grown in the sun or shade.

Do foxgloves do well in sun? I have only a sunny place for them and I am keeping them moist. My neighbor tells me they demand shade. So far they are doing all I could expect of them.

TAFFY'S.

Foxgloves grow very well in half-shaded positions, but will also do well in full sunlight if the ground is moist.

I have a honeysuckle which has become, due to neglect, badly matted. What do you suggest? It looks badly and unfortunately is in a conspicuous place.

CORA F. L.

All you can do is to cut back. It will soon recover. Before the end of the summer you will have to prune it again. Honeysuckle grows both fast and thickly and requires constant training.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed stamped envelope is supplied.

DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

THE first concert this season by the 300-piece National High School Orchestra will be heard from their camp tonight at 8 o'clock over the WJZ network, but will not be broadcast locally. The orchestra will be led by Sousa.

A symphony orchestra program will be heard tonight at 11:30 o'clock over WRC, when Walter Damrosch directs 100 musicians at the Hollywood Bowl in California.

Only half an hour of it is scheduled by the local station, but the rest of it may be picked up from WJZ direct.

Fay Templeton, of the old Weber-Fields days, will sing from WJZ at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Bernice Claire, of "The Desert Song," and Little Jack Little are to liven things up at 8:30 o'clock tonight (WRC).

IF what David Sarnoff said to the Queen of Siam proved as interesting as the question he asked Mrs. Marconi in the famous transatlantic tete-a-tete, conversation surely did not lag at the luncheon which Mr. Sarnoff gave to the King and Queen of Siam in New York recently.

An event tomorrow, arranged too late for publication in the Sunday paper, is a broadcast celebrating the installation of a new 50,000 watt transmitter by Earle C. Anthony's Station KFI in Los Angeles. A skit by Amos 'n' Andy will be a special attraction. (WJZ network, 11:30 p. m.).

A new series of Sunday operatic broadcasts, "Through the Opera Glass," under the baton of Cesare Sodero, will be inaugurated tomorrow (WRC, 6 p. m.). Sodero conducted the first opera broadcasts from radio studios several years ago.

The fifth Tschaikovsky's symphony will be broadcast over WMAL by Willem van Hoogstraten and the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra tonight at 8:30 o'clock (WMAL).

TELEVISION studios and laboratories are to be established on the top of the Empire State Building. The eastern half of the eighty-fifth floor will be used. It is believed that operation at this height, approximately 1,000 feet above the street, will be helpful in surmounting difficulties which have beset picture transmission in New York City in the past.

A fine job of word scrambling was done on the recent transatlantic telephone conversation between President Hoover, who spoke from Washington, and Secretary Mellon in Paris, bringing to a successful conclusion the negotiation for President Hoover's moratorium plan.

For instance, the words "telephone company," when spoken into the speech inverter, come out sounding like "play-o-fine crink-o-nope." An electric "translating brain" changes all recognized sounds or words so completely that the eavesdropper would hear only a gibberish. At the other end of the secrecy system a translating brain receives the inverted voice frequencies and rearranges them in their proper and intelligible order.

HAVING left Columbia temporarily to take advantage of the experience for a year which serving as private secretary to John W. Garrett, Ambassador to Italy, afforded, Frederic William Wile, jr., now returns to that organization. Young Mr. Wile, attractive in personality, made quite a record for himself in Princeton, which he promises to duplicate in radio.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Seiberling" is of German origin and means "the son of Seiber." "Seiber" is one of the many variations of the old personal name "Sigiperaht," which means "conquering brightness." "Seiber" may also be a shortened form of "Sigibald," meaning "conquering peace."

The family name "Goodrich" is the modern form of the older name "Godrich." "Godrich," in turn, is derived from a still older form, "Godric." "Godric" (also spelled "Goderic") was an old Anglo-Saxon personal name, meaning "God ruler." Many families called "Goodrich" have received the name because of a former residence in Goodrich (formerly "Gotheridge") in Hereford. The name occurs with a great variety of spellings in early documents. The Hundred Rolls mentions the following: Walter Goderiche, William Godriche, Stephen Godrich and Ambrosius Godrige.

The family name "Goodyear" (also spelled "Goodier," "Goodere" and "Goodear") is of French and ultimately of Teutonic origin. It is derived from the Old High German personal name "Gotheri," which means "divine army" and "God army." A certain Willelmus Goddeyere is mentioned in an English document of the year 1379.

The family name "Fiske" is a Scandinavian form of "Fish." "Fish" is one of the relatively few English names whose original meanings are indicated by their present forms. In most cases it was originally applied as a nickname to fishermen and fish dealers. There is evidence that in a few cases it was first given to families who had pictures of fishes on their coat of arms. It has also been found that some families were given this name because they lived or carried on business at a place which displayed the picture or image of a fish as a means of identification.

GUN BATTLE STIRS BROOKLYN HOSPITAL

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—While nurses cowered in fright, five gangsters fought inside a Brooklyn hospital today for the life of "One-Armed Tony" Mongno, wounded beer racketeer.

With luck and numbers on their side, Tony's four friends won and tonight he was alive, survivor of two attempts by foes to kill him.

Police searched Brooklyn byways, expecting to find the body of the lone gunman who invaded the hospital to finish the beer man off. He was overpowered by Mongno's henchmen and kidnaped in an automobile.

He missed completing his errand of assassination only by chance, police believed, for after slipping by guards at the door, he missed the number of the room where Mongno lay recovering from wounds suffered in a bungled attempt to put him on the spot last Tuesday.

The desk clerk at Trinity Hospital was startled to see a man run into the hospital, bump roughly into a nurse and mount the stairs two at a time. The clerk started telephoning frantically for police, when curses split the early morning quiet of the institution.

The first gunman was tossed bodily downstairs and outside, where the other four followed him. A dozen shots rang out, and witnesses said they saw the four close in on the lone gangster, throw him into an automobile and speed away.

Tonight police moved Mongno, under heavy guard, to another institution, whose name was kept secret.

YOUTH IS DRUGGED, SET AFIRE IN BED

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—A youth who staggered critically burned into a Bronx filling station today set in motion a police investigation of a crime they described as one of the most brutal in recent annals.

The victim, Spencer Fox, 21, related a story of having been lured to a cottage, drugged and set afire in bed. Before lapsing into unconsciousness he cried:

"They're after me! They tortured me because I wanted to tell the truth!"

Fox's condition tonight was described at a hospital as serious. Detectives were at work on several theories, one of which concerned a statement of the youth made to employes of the gas station, that he had been set afire in a bungalow of Louis Raffi, a married man with three children, who had not been located.

Raffi, according to Fox's statements, agreed to hire him as a soda dispenser at $50 a month, room and board. The Raffi bungalow is a half-mile from the filling station where Fox collapsed. Physicians said the flesh was virtually all burned off the boy's arms and legs and they couldn't see how he walked that distance.

Firemen put out the blaze in the Raffi house. The fire was confined to two bedrooms. Assistant Fire Marshal John J. Cashman said he found strips of blankets apparently soaked with kerosene laid about the rooms and overcoats and blankets nailed over the windows.

Police said Raffi and Fox were of about the same build and that Raffi carried an insurance policy of $2,500 with double indemnity in case of accidental death.

Features in Tomorrow's Post

All the world is watching the situation in Italy where the Pope and Mussolini are at loggerheads. Delving back into history, David Rankin Barbee has brought forth a story of a time when Pope Pius IX almost came to America because conditions in Italy were not to his liking. That was when Andrew Johnson was President and Rufus King played an important part in American affairs. Timely and authoritative, this article will be of interest to every reader of world news.

Tomorrow's tabloid magazine will contain appealing and varied feature stories and fiction yarns. Among the former is one entitled "Lee Is Still Master at Arlington," dealing with the history of the Lee Homestead, just across the Potomac.

"Fate, the Jester, Plays With Kings," is another article of timely nature, in which the beginning of the fall of the House of Bourbon is recorded.

A Washington Marine officer has written a stirring tale of the French Foreign Legion, called "100 Years Along War's Bloody Path," which will intrigue readers of every taste.

Two excellent fiction stories, selected by experts as outstanding in the short story class; the Counselor's advice to Post readers; all the regular features, including H. I. Phillips, combine to make the magazine attractive to all.

Then, too, The Post offers up-to-the-minute sports, news and pictures, together with an eight-page comic section and an artistic rotogravure display.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

INTOLERANCE.

DEAR Frances McDonald: I dearly love a man and have for years. One thing stands in the way. We are of different religions. Worse than that he is terribly prejudiced against my religion, slurs it, condemns all connected with it. If I give in and go his way which would be hard, would it mean happiness? Or would he still go on the same and would I regret the sacrifice? Is there any way to meet such a condition.

LILLIAN.

Intolerance is ignorance and there is no middle ground where the ignorant mind and the cultivated may meet in harmony. To join your life with that of so limited an intelligence would be a great mistake. For religion is not the only subject upon which the ignorant flaunt their arrogance, it happens to be one of the few upon which they can converse and that is the sole reason it is the object of their tensity. If you had travelled extensively you would realize that. In sections where existence is just a round of meals on week days and church on Sunday, intolerance is rife. Religion looms large. It is the only interest outside the door. Minds almost closed to thought, faces vacant, bodies unwashed, homes almost unfit for human habitation, in these localities the Methodist and the Baptist, the Catholic and the Jew hate each other like the animals they are. As conditions improve, as the mind opens to new interests, as knowledge replaces ignorance, intolerance gives place to tolerance, crudity to polish. Trace any intolerant to his source and you will find a background of the small community, poverty of thought and opportunity—ignorance.

No one reared in breadth of thought could endure a life of daily contact with narrowness of mind, pettiness of heart, poverty of spirit. Nothing so appalls the liberal as the attitude of the bigot. Nothing can marry the two.

It seems so great a pity that such ignorance endures. I recall so delightfully the atmosphere in which my youth was spent. We owned the two personages in the small town where I was born. And they stood on either side of our own home, so that our nearest neighbors were the wives of the ministers. To them we brought our first flowers, and our hurt fingers, and in later years our many small interests. Darling women. I remember when the third church started—a Methodist. They asked the Catholic priest to announce that they would sell cakes for parties. He suggested they hold regular church suppers and he announced those. The suppers were a town event for fifteen years, and that minister years later read the daily papers to that priest slowly dying, sightless, helpless, but still mentally alive. To one reared in that sort of religion, the other sort leaves much to be explained. But we are not an ignorant community. We were close to New York, interests were unlimited, ignorance was rare. The very best ministers were sent, and each in his way enriched the social atmosphere, while their lives added to the general graciousness of the clubby little place we all called home. There were doubtless bigots there. But they probably worked off their feelings making faces. Certainly they never bothered the rest of us who loaned cups and saucers to the Lutherans, bought cakes from the Baptists and donated them to the Catholic fair. All of them have gone to their reward. The priest, his friend the minister, the soft-voiced wives, who came to us strangers and bade us good-by with tears. And I for one am glad that the memory of them is one of love and kindness—instead of hate and spite and pettiness; of tolerance instead of intolerance.

So, if you want peace in marriage avoid the elements that make for strife. Mate with your equal in intelligence. And live as God has meekly asked—in peace and union with your neighbor, however deluded that neighbor may be.

Boy Meets Death In Mystery Fall

Police Probe Four-Story Plunge From Window of Apartment.

A four-story mystery fall from a window of his parents' apartment last night proved fatal to Fred P. Waldman, 12 years old, of apartment 402 at 1737 P street northwest. The boy was pronounced dead upon arrival of the Emergency Hospital ambulance.

According to police who investigated the accident, the boy had been playing in a room of the apartment near the window. How he happened to fall out had not been determined.

Young Waldman landed in a courtyard below on his head. Physicians expressed the belief that death was instantaneous. The dead boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldman.

Dismissal of Milstead, Policeman, Is Ordered

Dismissal of Dealmer Milstead, private in the Eleventh Precinct, was ordered yesterday by the District Commissioners upon recommendation of the Police Trial Board.

The policeman had been found guilty of intoxication while on duty, of untruthfulness to a superior, and of conduct prejudicial to the police force.

Man, 80, Uses Gas To Commit Suicide

William F. Zeitler, Retired Four Years, Said to Be Despondent.

William F. Zeitler, 80 years old, committed suicide yesterday in his home while in a despondent mood, according to police. Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt issued a certificate of suicide.

Zeitler was found in his home, A street near Sixth street southeast, by his daughter, Mrs. Ida Clark. A rubber tube extending from an open gas jet was found in his mouth.

He retired from work about four years ago. Recently he threatened on a number of occasions to kill himself, relatives said. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Nettie Zeitler; four daughters, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Clara Thomas, Mrs. Emma Phillips and Mrs. Katherine Holloran, and three sons, Gus H., Oscar F. and William L. Zeitler, all of this city.

$293 Loot Stolen From Store.

Harry Sperling reported to police that his dry goods store at 1514 Seventh street northwest was broken into between 10:30 o'clock Thursday night and 7 o'clock a. m. yesterday and clothing and jewelry valued at $293 stolen. Entry was gained by forcing the front transom.

FEDERAL APPOINTMENTS.

Attorney General Mitchell's address on the methods of selecting judges was particularly significant in that it was delivered before the Minnesota State Bar Association. It may be considered the administration's answer to Senator Schall, of that State, who attempted to take the appointive power into his own hands during the last session of Congress.

In the words of President Hoover, "the appointive responsibility rests in the President, not in any organization." Appointments can be made only with the advice and consent of the Senate, but the Constitution gives the President full authority to nominate his own candidates. As a matter of fact, the President never sends a name to the Senate without consulting with the senators from the nominee's home State. Obviously, the President can not know personally every one who is qualified for the Federal bench or other important positions. Senators and representatives are able to suggest candidates and to furnish detailed information as to their qualifications. Since consent of the Senate must be obtained in any case, it is prudent to reach an agreement with interested senators, if possible, before the nomination is made.

This practice has its limitations, however. In quite a number of cases senators have attempted to take the appointive power out of the Chief Executive's hands. Senators Conkling and Platt, of New York, attempted to dictate the appointment of a collector of the port in their State. President Garfield would not be coerced. The senators resigned in protest, asking to be reelected to sustain the theory of senatorial control over appointments. But the New York Legislature chose two other senators to take their places.

Senators can not always be relied upon to suggest the names of only competent men. The President has found it necessary to make independent investigations of his own. In the case of judicial appointments these inquiries are conducted by the Department of Justice. If it is found that senators are supporting incompetent individuals, for political or other reasons, the President is under no obligation to follow their advice. Senators who attempt to force the nomination of their candidates against the judgment of the Chief Executive have not the slightest ground to stand on.

President Hoover has made a special effort to appoint only highly qualified jurists to the Federal bench. Attorney General Mitchell has been diligent in his investigations of all candidates. The administration has consistently refused to regard public office as mere political patronage. Several attempts of organizations and of individual members of Congress to have their political supporters appointed to high Federal offices have been thwarted.

The public will stand squarely behind any movements to defeat appointments for mere political expediency. The advice of individual senators will always be needed, but when they attempt to relieve the President of his appointive powers they can only create reaction against themselves. If senators would keep safely within their constitutional authority much friction might be eliminated from the workings of the appointive system.

STUDYING BANKRUPTCY.

The Department of Justice is engaged in a study of bankruptcy, conducting a general investigation into a phase of jurisprudence that is often subjected to abuse. Trouble frequently arises from the fact that bankrupts are permitted to go the even tenor of their way after being absolved in the courts and to make a new splurge in the economic realm. There are laws, of course, to prevent the use of hidden wealth in cases of this sort, but there are also methods of getting around the laws.

From January 1 to April 30 in the United States there were 10,942 failures with listed liabilities of $266,455,722. Total assets were placed at $163,500,030. The Government wants to know what will happen to these bankrupts. If they start up again, where will they get the funds? To that end watch will be kept over outstanding cases. Uncle Sam is anxious to learn the relative importance of bankruptcy administration, especially as it applies to insolvency liquidation.

In business and in private life men have gone bankrupt merely to evade paying their honest debts. That is a truth that brooks no denial. Other men—and there are many cases on record—have in later years paid off every cent incurred in bankruptcy. Under the laws of the land they were exempt, but they followed the higher law of conscience.

Since human nature does not always bow to the dictates of conscience, the sleuths of the Government have gone to work on this most interesting phase of human conduct. They are expected to bring forth enlightening evidence. Several things have been learned which may mitigate burdens imposed on the victims of pseudo-bankrupts. The idea is to get a complete knowledge of bankruptcy and to put teeth in the law that will throw fakers behind the bars—and keep them there.

CARELESS PROSECUTION.

On trial before a Federal judge in New Jersey, sixteen defendants won a directed verdict of acquittal after the Government at the conclusion of testimony admitted a lack of prima facie evidence.

In all, 37 citizens were called before the tribunal in this case—the so-called Atlantic Highland rum ring conspiracy. Among the dismissed defendants were a chief of police and a former policeman. The judge ruled that there had been no substantiation for 22 of the 36 overt acts charged in the indictment.

Apparently the names of innocent citizens have been dragged needlessly into public print. The Government's prosecutors have fallen down in their duty. There are agencies at hand for the collection of evidence. That work is the first step in the presentation of a legal case. The laws of evidence are deeply rooted in American jurisprudence. Why do Government lawyers go into court with insufficient evidence? Aside from the fact that taxpayers' money is wasted on such procedure, irreparable damage is done to the character of citizens who may be innocent.

Under the law a man is considered innocent until he is proved guilty. The burden of proof rests with the Government. What right have Federal attorneys to hale a man into court on some vague charge when the evidence, at its face value, is so inconclusive that it must, by its very nature, be ruled out?

Zealots, anxious to see the Government active on the adventurous trail of the rum-runner, report suspects of all sorts. The machinery for taking care of all this work is sadly burdened. The result is slipshod methods. Prosecution too often goes forward without consideration for the characters that may be unjustly defamed. In this case the defendants were exonerated without offering any testimony. The judge directed that all charges against them be dismissed, but he could not recall the smirch which reckless prosecutors had attached to their names.

Abraham Lincoln, as a lawyer, first called for the evidence. It is high time that some of Uncle Sam's attorneys return to the fundamentals of administering justice instead of trying to break the records for wholesale convictions.

A FIVE-DAY WEEK?

Human nature being what it is, all Government departments are now debating the question of the five-day week adopted by the George Washington Bicentennial Commission. Employes of that organization are permitted to work longer on other days so they may have Saturdays off.

Two complete days at the week-end make an enjoyable holiday period. Those persons engaged in preparing the Nation for a mammoth birth-year celebration in honor of the first President have excited the envy of their fellow governmental workers. Various heads of departments are being besieged on all sides by those who would "do likewise."

It happens that the George Washington Bicentennial Commission is a special creature of Congress. No other department of Government comes quite in the same classification. The comptroller general may be called upon to deliver a formal opinion on the validity of the five-day movement, insofar as it affects other Government workers. But until some head of a department chooses to follow the footsteps of Congressman Sol Bloom, in charge of the Bicentennial Commission, no action will be taken.

Since heads of departments are rather loath to institute innovations — especially where a stampede may occur—it seems probable that the fortunate workers of the Bicentennial Commission will be the only ones on the Government pay roll to enjoy the advantage of the shortened week. Government business is like the business of a home—like activities in woman's sphere. It never is quite finished. So, Uncle Sam may be counted upon to gather his workers at his knee each Saturday morning, as usual, for the half day.

AMERICAN TEACHERS.

While prophets of evil and disintegration in American life are making the most of current disturbances it is encouraging to find the great body of school-teachers sound in their Americanism and faithful in their adherence to the established order. Not that they consider it perfect, but neither are they swayed by advocates of radical reform or dire predictions of degeneration. These assurances come from the meeting of the National Education Association held in Los Angeles.

American educators met there, 15,000 strong, to hear all sides of many questions. When extremist and conservative views had been presented the great body of the Nation's teachers expressed for prohibition, for American economic and political institutions as they are, for the older generation's ideals of progress and ideas of right and wrong, a devotion that was without dissent.

More intimately in contact with the younger generation than any other group, the teachers are not unaware of the changes that postwar years have wrought in standards and social formalities. Yet their concern by no means reaches the state of despair shown by others. They advocated no startling panaceas. The remedy, as they see it, lies in the more positive teaching of old and tried ideals of refined behavior, personal rectitude and conventional decorum.

It should not be inferred from this, however, that the teachers of the United States are narrowly bound by ancient methods. New responsibilities are being forced upon them by the less secure hold of the home upon the activities and ideals of modern youth. In the place of such influence ethical instruction and moral discipline must more and more be provided in the schools. Observers at the Los Angeles sessions believe that the teachers are prepared to exercise their undoubted influence on the side of virtuous living and to preserve the younger generation for well-conducted and useful participation in American citizenship.

Teachers make up the largest professional group in the United States. It is striking proof of their devotion to their work that every year thousands attend conventions, State and national, paying their own expenses from none too liberal salaries, to add to their effectiveness by interchange of counsel and ideas. They form a body of earnest workers who, by precept and example, uphold the best standards of behavior. The teachers of America are deserving of more consideration and praise than is generally accorded.

KEEP POLICEMEN COOL.

Officials of the Metropolitan Police Force are considering the comfort of the man who controls traffic. It is exceedingly proper that traffic policemen of the Nation's Capital should be shining marks of deportment. They are perforce, compared to men of all cities. The traveler who has sojourned in New York comes away with praise of "New York's finest." It is generally believed that Washington's police force stacks up, man for man, with any similar organization in the country. To keep this standard of physical and sartorial splendor is the concern of the executive officers of the force. For hot weather has arrived and, after all, these guardians of the people are human. They crave cooler clothing.

The idea is to bring back the days of shirt sleeves. Last summer policemen were permitted to doff their heavy blouses. But it was found that white shirts, easily soiled, made some of the handsomest men on the force look rather rowdy-dowdy. Now the consideration is for a blue shirt, made of chambray. Whatever it is—red, white or blue—let it come out from under the blouse. Give the boys a chance.

It is difficult to understand how Giff Pinchot can remain in Harrisburg during this season when all the spigots of political wisdom are turned loose elsewhere.

In Chicago lie detectors are being used in place of the third degree. Wonder how long it will be before they get those instruments to work in politics?

DISTRICT INDIANS

By DR. WALTER HOUGH.

There are many evidences that before the coming of the white man Indians had their villages in what is now the District of Columbia. These Indians spoke the language of the great Algonquian family which covered the East coast, and for this reason the Algonquians were met by John Smith at Jamestown and by the Pilgrims at Plymouth. Accustomed as we are to the buckskin of the Western Indians, we will be surprised to know that Powhatan's braves had nary a shirt to their backs, robes taking their place. The women wore short skirts and the children dispensed with clothes. Of course, in the cold months of winter the Indians withdrew into their houses and enjoyed the stores of corn, smoked fish, hickory nuts and such things as they had laid up. The houses were of bent poles covered with mats and were in shape like a hayrick seen on farms.

It may seem unfortunate that the District of Columbia Indians left so few traces of their life here. Archeologists trained to the work are able to see much in small things and to tell the story without straining the imagination. One picks up an arrowhead, say, at Anacostia. It is of a certain stone and worked from a boulder most likely at the Piney Branch quarry. He knows that the arrow was fixed with sinew at the end of a wooden shaft, straight and smooth, which was notched at the end to receive the string; also that it was feathered to guide its flight.

The arrowhead was found at Anacostia and belonged there because it is the right kind of stone. Another variety of stone would indicate that it was a point made by the hostile Indians living on the Susquehanna or where the certain stone was found.

The river life of the Potomac in 1608 must have been very interesting. John Smith tells of divers savages in canoes, well laden with the flesh of bears, deer and other beasts. Some of these dug-out canoes are in the Potomac mud no doubt now. There were many places to paddle not open today. Boats could move about freely where the new Government buildings are going up, and the Eastern Branch was a great river 300 years ago. At night, reflected in the undulating Potomac, were the lights of the torches of fishermen, and over the smouldering fires of the primitive gridirons the catch was smoked for the winter.

Land trails also centered in the District, leading to the Susquehanna and on to the West. Braddock used an old trail to Cumberland worn deeply in old times by Indian moccasins.

In its natural conditions or only slightly aware of the presence of man, the District must have been an ideal place for savage life. Every family could have a deer a day and not decrease the herd; a bear once in a while, wild turkey, water birds, fish, roasting ears and ripe corn would vary the fare.

The coming of the white man to Jamestown in 1607 was a small entering wedge into a vast territory, and perhaps we would think it of little effect on the District. On the contrary, in 75 years there was not an Indian left in the valley of the Potomac, the same story that became old as the white man pushed the remainders west. The District was settled by hardy pioneers and a new line of history began.

STRUGGLE.

There is a spirit growth that comes with care
Which days of ease and comfort never bring;
Men find the sweets of pleasure softening.
They lose the strength with which they used to bear
The burdens of the day; the will to dare
The rugged roads, the task's harsh blistering,
And which is worse the faith which bade them cling.
To hope in spite of failure and despair.

Great men are born of danger and of stress,
Strong souls are tempered by the fires of doubt.
Pleasure is but the follower of success,
The gift an idle hour may bring about.
But faith and courage and the will to live
Are the great joys which hardships have to give.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY DEAR LOUISE—I am writing this in hope of undoing the harm I did when you were in the third grade.

You weren't doing well in mathematics and I tried to lessen your anxiety and hoodwink my parental pride by giving you an alibi.

"Don't worry," I said. "There are just two kinds of minds—mathematical and poetic—and nobody can change his natural equipment. You haven't a mathematical mind, so you'll always have trouble with arithmetic and there's nothing you can do about it."

That was bosh, but neither of us knew it. You accepted the alibi with resignation and rejoicing, and thereafter approached all mathematical problems with the firm intention of getting licked.

Your mind simply went blank at sight of figures because your subconscious mind was trained to say: "No use, young lady; you simply can't make the grade."

College algebra almost floored you, and "trig." baffles you still—and the fault is wholly mine.

Mathematics is simply applied logic, and you should understand it as easily as you understand biology. I suppose biology would baffle you, too, if I had trained you to think you didn't have a biological mind.

Well, I can't undo the harm, but I can set you right for the future.

The greatest of teachers said: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." And psychologists are discovering in that truth almost unlimited possibilities.

You thought you couldn't understand mathematics, and thus you were robbed of understanding.

Your mind controls you as the steering wheel controls a car.

You hear someone describe the experience of biting a cockroach in his salad and you turn sick.

You are too tired at night to sit up and read, yet when youngsters appear with plans for a dance, your pulse quickens with a joyous vitality that will last until midnight.

Why is it? Because your mind has full control of you.

Whatever you believe you can do, that you can do.

The world stands still in the face of something that can't be done, and then along comes a fellow who doesn't know it can't be done and he does it. That is the explanation of all progress.

The whole trick consists in believing.

No man removes mountains by faith because no man has yet believed he could do it.

Wishes get you nowhere. Pretending to believe is useless. But deep, abiding, dead-sure convictions enable you to do anything within your powers of conception.

You believe you can swim a certain distance, and therefore do it easily. If you lost faith at 25 yards, fear and frenzy would sink you.

Belief is fuel, my dear. You provide the belief and the belief will provide the power. Love, DAD.

PRO AND CON

Etiquette for Candidates.

New York Times.

Often the American people have shown that they enjoy playing a certain game with Presidential aspirants. The fun is for the candidate to pretend that the nomination is furthest from his thoughts, that his mind is on his particular task, while all the while in plain sight his friends and his campaign manager are dashing about lining up support for him.

"It is not within my province as Governor to make any comment on national or international affairs," said Franklin Roosevelt when, returned from speech-making in Virginia, where he was hailed as "our next President," he was asked by newspaper men what he thought of the moratorium. Yet the tariff is both a national and an international "affair," the depression is a world-wide "affair," and the Governor has not hesitated to comment on these. It is all part of the game, however, for him to have made the reply he did make, and tolerant smiles spread over the country. It is the ceremonial tradition, and persons to whom such things are said pretend kindly that they can not see State Chairman Farley at the Elks' convention in Seattle, or hear him say: "The name of Roosevelt is magic everywhere."

Cal's No Lochinvar.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Political observers who continue to regard Calvin Coolidge as the "man on horseback" in the Republican situation, must remember that Mr. Coolidge always rides a machine horse.

Government Publicity.

Houston-Post Dispatch.

Nearly every Government department and bureau maintains a publicity man who is paid to write stories for the newspapers. This publicity man is charged with the duty of keeping the taxpayers informed of the activities of the department or bureau which pays his salary.

To the Department of the Interior, headed by Secretary Wilbur, goes the credit for development of what may be termed a super division of publicity. Where other departments issue nothing more impressive than pamphlets, the Interior Department goes in for books.

William Atherton Dupuy, head of the department's press bureau, has been commissioned by Secretary Wilbur to make a three months' tour of the Indian reservations to gather material for a book on Indian affairs and policies under the Wilbur administration.

A Tax Blunder.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The politicaster who suggests a Federal 2-cent tax on gasoline does not stop to figure that there is at least one vote—probably two or three—for each of the 23,000,000 cars in the United States, and that what he says will surely be used against him.

Senility Serum.

Los Angeles Times.

A serum to prevent senility was announced several years ago. There are evidences among some of our would-be politicians that the laboratory has closed down.

Subscriber Offers Proof From Byrd's Own Story That Floyd Bennett Flew With Him Over North Pole.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Will you permit me to offer you the following extracts from Commander Byrd's personal narrative of his first flight over the South Pole? Holding in view Commander Byrd's scientific standing, it may reasonably be assumed that his statements are correct. Writing of his flight to the South Pole he says:

* * * "No thoroughbred went into a race more carefully, scrupulously groomed than was the Floyd Bennett before the polar flight. * * * I went to my office and picked up a flag weighted with a stone from Floyd Bennett's grave. It seemed fitting that something connected with the spirit of this noble friend who stood with me over the North Pole on May 9, 1926, should rest as long as stone endures at the bottom of the world. * * * The moment the Ford leveled off * * * Balchen was forward * * * his massive hands on the wheel. * * * Balchen was in his element. His fine calm face bespoke his confidence and sureness. * * * I shot (over a trolley) the necessary messages. * * * Now Balchen opened them full throttle. * * * I stood beside Balchen. * * * With a gesture of the hand Balchen pointed * * * Balchen held the climb to the last degree of safety. * * * Balchen began to yell and gesticulate * * * Balchen's irritation with the inexorable laws which limited our altitude waxed and grew profane. * * * 'More.' Bernt shouted. 'Another bag.' * * * Balchen nosed down * * * Balchen had 'leaned' the mixture too much. * * * I (Byrd) would steady Balchen on his course, shaking the trolley to attract his attention. * * * From time to time June 'spelled' Balchen at the controls. * * *Balchen and June have delivered the goods. They took the South Pole in their stride. * * * There is not a man in camp who did not assist in the preparations for the flight. Whatever merit accrues to the accomplishment must be shared with them."

And then this generous Republic makes a difficulty about the citizenship of a man who has done this and complied with its laws.

Was the Eighteenth Amendment Intended to Close the Saloon? Subscriber Takes Issue With Former Senator Wadsworth.

To the Editor of The Post, Sir: In your editorial on the Institute of Public Affairs you allude to the statement made by former Senator Wadsworth of New York, in which he affirms that prohibition is a failure, and that conditions under prohibition are worse than they were before the eighteenth amendment was enacted.

The value of affirmations depends upon the ability of the affirmer, not merely to affirm, but to affirm that which is factual. If, therefore, the former senator's statement concerning conditions under prohibition is on a parity with his reported statement concerning the purpose of enacting the eighteenth amendment, it is not worth much.

He is reported to have said, in substance, "The purpose of the eighteenth amendment was not to close the saloon." If not to close the saloon, what was its purpose? The amendment prohibits the manufacture for sale, importation for sale, exportation for sale and the transportation for sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. The saloon was the one place above all others where such liquor was sold for such purposes, and while the amendment was aimed at all places where liquor was sold, it certainly did not seek to exclude the saloon.

If the saloon was to have been saved, then a lot of folks who worked for the passage of the amendment were very greatly fooled, as was the Antisaloon League, the W. C. T. U., the various churches which supported the movement, the framers of the amendment, and those who aided in its ratification. In the light of the foregoing, I say, the senator's statement concerning conditions under prohibition does not have much value. WILLIAM PIERPONT.

Federal Worker Indorses Sol Bloom's Five-Day Plan for Employes of Bicentennial Commission.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: This morning's Post has Miss Gertrude McNally, secretary of the Federal employes' organization, "viewing with suspicion" and threatening "strenuous opposition" to Representative Sol Bloom's five-day week plan for the George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

What if the bicentennial employes do pay for their whole day on Saturday with a few extra half-hours on other days of the week? One of these days the Government will give its workers their five-day week as a gift. Until that comes, if a group of them are willing to lump their working hours so that the Government loses nothing while they get a full day off, I ask Miss McNally whose business it is, and why the row?

I am perfectly willing to see the Bloom plan "extended" to the limit, and I believe a good many other Federal employes are with me on that. H. P. D.

Game Association Wants Inland as Well as Coastal Waters Purified.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Congratulations upon your editorial, "Stop Water Pollution," in your issue of July 4. Coming on Independence Day, it was a most fitting editorial.

The next big yoke for the American people to cast aside is the elimination of pollution from all inland as well as coastal waters.

SETH GORDON,
President of the American Game Association.

WOMEN'S CLUBS END SESSION WITH BALL

Richmond, Va., July 10 (A.P.).—Delegates and visitors attending the Old Dominion convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs tonight viewed a pageant entitled "Historic Legends," depicting exploits of women famous in history, and donned cotton frocks to attend the Virginia ball, which brought to a close sessions of the convention here.

At the concluding business session this afternoon they elected Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, of Richmond, Va., president, to succeed Miss Marion McClench, of Ann Arbor, Mich. Miss Earlene White, of Jackson, Miss., and Miss Margaret Stewart, of Ogden, Utah, were reelected to their offices of recording secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Other officers chosen were: Mrs. Helen M. Schluraff, of Erie, Pa., first vice president; Mrs. Bonnie K. Robertson, of Hammond, Ind., second vice president, and Miss Margaret K. Stewart, of Phoenix, Ariz., corresponding secretary.

Resolutions commended President Hoover for his debt moratorium proposal, favored adherence of the United States to the world court and pledged the federation to active effort in promotion of more vocational schools for girls.

A plan to raise $300,000 for erection and maintenance of a national headquarters building was rejected, but a recommendation that an annual week be set aside to secure gifts for the headquarters fund was adopted. The ten-year objective outlined by the retiring president in her annual address was adopted as the program of the organization. It challenged the federation to leadership in economic and social thinking and urged application of scientific methods to problems of government and society.

Time and place for the next biennial meeting will be decided at a meeting of the executive committee tomorrow.

A flurry which arose in the business session this morning was settled after adjournment for lunch. Part of the controversy was ordered stricken from the record when the session was resumed in the afternoon.

Salary Increase Causes Fight.

A proposal to appropriate $1,000 for a study of discrimination against women in business was opposed on the ground that it could not be afforded and this brought a query from Miss Hester Smith, of Colorado, as to why this could not be afford when $53,000 of a $115,000 budget was spent on salaries. Mention was made of a $1,500 raise to be given next year to Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, executive secretary and the retiring president. Miss McClench said that this was provided for in a contract made with Miss Kneubuhl two years ago.

Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, of New York, now president of the international federation, then recalled that she had been national president at that time and that she would like to see the contract. When Miss Kneubuhl arose to explain the matter, adjournment was taken at the suggestion of the president-elect, Mrs. Bowman.

It was later said that the contract in question was an oral one and that it would be carried out. Provision for the $1,000 research fund also was made by applying surplus convention registration fees to this purpose.

Danish-Norwegian Land Dispute Note Delivered

Copenhagen, July 10 (A.P.).—The Danish minister at Oslo has handed to the Norwegian foreign office a Danish note concerning the dispute over certain territory in Greenland.

Occupation of certain parts of eastern Greenland by a private Norwegian hunting expedition was followed by reports that the Norwegian government would require Denmark's abstention from exercising soverignty in practice in that territory.

Court Moves to Force Loew's, Fox Separation

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—A decree in line with the Government's announced purpose to enforce complete separation of control of Loew's, Inc., and the Fox interests was handed down today by Federal Judge Knox.

The Chase Securities Corporation is directed to turn over to three disinterested trustees the voting stock of Film Securities Corporation, which controls the stock of Loew's, Inc. The trustees are to vote the stock independently of Fox Theaters or Fox Films or affiliated banking interests.

Heavy Rains Flood Parts of 3 States

Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland Suffer Great Damage.

Philadelphia, July 10 (A.P.).—Heavy rains in sections of eastern Pennsylvania, northern Delaware and northeast Maryland caused considerable damage early today. Streams suddenly went out of their banks, endangering the lives of people and live stock. So far as reports have been received there have been no fatalities.

Up the Lehigh Valley, near White Haven, two railroad trains were wrecked as a result of a landslide due to heavy rain.

Further north in eastern Pennsylvania at Scranton, Blakely, Montdale and Fleetville, heavy damage was done by rain and five bridges were washed away.

In southeast Pennsylvania, in the vicinity of Avondale, White Clay Creek went on a rampage and flooded houses. Red Clay Creek and Brandywine Creek also went out of their banks in northern Delaware, causing damage to crops and property. At Mount Cuba, nine persons were taken from a flooded house and other persons sought safety on rooftops. Kent County, Md., reported damage to crops and to dirt roads from the heavy rains.

Nude Bill to Hit Doukhobors.

Ottawa, Ontario, July 10 (A.P.).—An amendment to the criminal code aimed at preventing the Doukhobors of western Canada from appearing in public almost nude will be introduced in the House of Commons shortly by Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice, he said today. The amendment provides three years' imprisonment for summary conviction.

SEPARATED TWINS NEED 2D OPERATION

Baltimore, Md., July 10 (A.P.).—Search of medical records today failed to disclose a parallel to the case of the conjoined twin girls separated shortly after their birth here three days ago by a daring surgical operation.

The children, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Forster, of Baltimore, were "doing so well" today that a second surgical operation, considered necessary to save their lives, was postponed for a week or ten days or until a definite change in their condition takes place.

Dr. Kyle W. Golley, who was in charge when the twins were born, said he knew of no successful operation on true so-called Siamese twins, and that Johns Hopkins Hospital obstetricians could find records of no successful cases.

Physicians and surgeons expressed the opinion that the second operation would be a medical miracle, if successful.

The twins, who weigh 4½ pounds each, and were otherwise normal, were born without colons. They were joined at the abdomen, it was explained by Dr. Golley, by a fleshy segment, and it was judged necessary to operate to save their lives.

Meanwhile the twins have stomachs and small intestines, and though human life is possible without a colon, the second operation is considered necessary to provide a normal outlet for body poisons.

Dr. Daniel J. Jassagona, a surgeon, performed the initial operation. Associated with Dr. Golley is Dr. Edward P. Smith.

Mrs. Forster is 36 years old, and the twins were her first children. No fear was felt today for her recovery.

Third Taxi Line Cuts Rates in City Proper

Another cab company announced a cut in rates yesterday. Robert Wolfe, general manager of the Broadmoor Taxicab Corporation, said 30 cabs that organization has on the streets will reduce charges from 35 to 25 cents at once.

New rates will apply only to the "city proper," bounded by Fifteenth and H streets northeast, Wisconsin avenue and Macomb street, Fourteenth and Decatur streets northwest and the Seventh street wharves, Wolfe said. The company has been in business here since March. Other companies, including the City Cab Co. and the Try Me, had already made the cut.

Seventh Street Parking Is Cut Between L and T

Upon receipt of a petition from business men in the 1100 block of Seventh street northwest, joined by William A. Van Duzer, Traffic Director, District Commissioners yesterday established one-hour parking limit between L and T streets, on Seventh street northwest.

The parking limits are effective between these boundaries from 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except on holidays.

Strayer's College Is Sued by Author

Willard A. Colcord Seeks $10,000 for Alleged Use of Article.

A suit for $10,000 damages against Strayer's Business College was filed in the District Supreme Court yesterday by Willard Allen Colcord, author and writer, who charged that the school had misappropriated and used, without credit or pay, a piece he had written entitled "Why Graduate."

Mr. Colcord alleges that without his consent the defendant published and widely distributed a pamphlet and other matter containing his "Why Graduate" work "to his great damage and loss."

The author complains that his work was used in a Strayer publication with the name of P. J. Harman under it. Mr. Harman is director and head of the school. The suit was prepared by Attorneys Charles S. Baker and Benjamin L. Tepper.

Post and Gatty Made Colonels in Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, July 10 (A.P.).—The two fliers who saw more of the world in shorter time than any other men are now colonels.

Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma awarded colonels' commissions to Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, globe-circling aeronauts, before he joined his newest staff members in a parade in their honor through the streets of the capital.

Sacketts Harbor, N. Y., July 10 (A.P.).—Sergt. John White, 70, retired, who as a young man was with the reinforcements that arrived too late during the Black Hills campaign to save Custer in his famous last stand, died here today.

As a color sergeant and a member of the famous Ninth Infantry, he carried the American flag up San Juan Hill and planted it at the top, during the battle there in the Spanish-American War. He also served the colors in other foreign lands.

All Property Acquired For Archives Building

All property needed for the site of the proposed $1,300,000 warehouse between Seventh and Ninth and C and D streets has now been acquired, officials of the Office of Public Buildings and Parks said yesterday.

Bids will be asked shortly, as plans for the structure are nearing completion. The warehouse will serve as an archives building for the Federal and District Governments.

Receivers Asked For Kew Gardens

Woman Says Payments on $1,000 Bond She Holds Were Defaulted.

Caroline Mytinger, of 1314 Eighteenth street northwest, yesterday filed suit in the District Supreme Court to have receivers appointed for the Kew Gardens, Inc., 2700 Q street northwest, because of a default in payments on $1,000 bond which she owns, and which, she declared, constituted a portion of the $400,000 trust on the building.

The Riggs National Bank, as trustee, and the New York Life Insurance Co., as the agency that loaned $400,000 on the building, also are named as defendants.

The suit declares that the provisions of the bond are such that the owner does not have the right to apply for foreclosure, so that her recourse is in a suit for receivership. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney David A. Pine.

King George Backs Wales Trade Drive

British Ruler Tells Scots That South America Is Business Mecca.

Glasgow, July 10 (A.P.).—King George today added his weight to the efforts of the Prince of Wales and British industrialists in a bid for South American trade.

In a speech dedicating a new dock, he recalled that ships in Glasgow had sailed every sea for a century but that there are still new worlds to conquer.

"For example," he said, "there is the southern half of the American continent from which by dear son, the Prince of Wales, recently returned, and which I believe will one day be bound to Great Britain by close commercial ties. The future lies in the hands of men with brains, energy and determination. These qualities the people of the second city of my empire have never lacked."

Ileana and Fiance Fly On Visit to Queen Helen

Vienna, July 10 (A.P.).—Princess Ileana and her fiance, Archduke Anton, today flew to Castle Mamaia to visit Queen Helen. The archduke piloted the ship.

Fifth Avenue Fashions

904

Don't you love it? Note the extreme tight hipline, and the concealed width through the waistline that is softened by partial crushed belt. It ties youthfully at the back.

The front panel of the bodice that merges into the skirt, is decidedly length giving.

It's simple to make! It takes but 2¾ yards of 39-inch material with 7¾ yards of binding for the 36-inch size.

By Russ Murphy and Ray Sensuky

IT'S A CINCH

THE LATIN WORD "CINGERE" MEANT TO GIRD OR GRIP TIGHTLY, AND BECAME THE SPANISH "CINCHA", OR SADDLE. OUR COWBOYS BEGAN TO CALL THEIR SADDLES "CINCHES" AND PASSED ALONG TO US THE MEANING OF "SURE THING," ALLUDING TO THE SURENESS WITH WHICH THIS SADDLE WAS FASTENED.

SYCOPHANT

"SYCOPHANT" COMES FROM TWO GREEK WORDS MEANING "I DISCLOSE A FIG." IT WAS FORBIDDEN IN ANCIENT ATHENS TO EXPORT FIGS. PUBLIC INFORMERS WHO EXPOSED THOSE WHO BROKE THIS LAW WERE EXTREMELY UNPOPULAR, SO THESE WORDS CAME TO SIGNIFY A FALSE OR MEAN ACCUSER. THE RESULTING ENGLISH WORD HAS ACQUIRED THE SENSE OF A SELF-SEEKING FLATTERER.

GOOD-BY, THYMUS WORRIES.

As some new diseases come in there are others that disappear. Of these, one that appears to be headed for the scrap heap is status lymphaticus.

Located behind the topmost part of the breastbone of a baby there is a structure commonly called the thymus gland. This gland was supposed to belong to the group of ductless glands. It was supposed to have something to do with starting the new born babe in the proper way. Largest at birth, it gradually decreased in size and, finally, disappeared about the time growth was attained.

Nobody was ever very certain as to just when it disappeared, since nobody could be sure as to whether the supposed remnants of thymus were such, or were only ordinary lymph glands. When X-ray pictures became available, enlarged thymus as a menace to health and life seemed to call for new interest. Pictures often showed a large shadow behind the upper part of the breastbone. When this shadow was seen it was customary to explain to the parents that this might endanger the life of the child, and a few X-ray treatments were advised. When these treatments were given the shadows decreased in size and the danger was supposed to have passed.

The risk from enlarged thymus and persisting thymus glands was that they were thought to be the cause of status lymphaticus, and this condition, in turn, was supposed to be the cause of sudden death. Young babies sometimes die without any demonstrable cause. Even grown people sometimes die suddenly for no ascertainable reason. Sudden and unexpected death sometimes follows the use of anesthetics. In such cases it has been customary to say that the cause was status lymphaticus and, oftentimes, the explanation runs back of that to some alleged disorder of the thymus gland.

A report made by the Medical Research Council of Great Britain says that there is no such conditions as status lymphaticus. There may be no such gland as a thymus. It is true that there is a mass behind the upper breastbone in a young baby, but this seems to be simply a cluster of lymph gland tissue, similar to an enlarged adenoid or tonsil. This lump of lymph gland tissue in the upper chest does no special harm and tends to disappear spontaneously.

There is no particular reason for treating it with X-rays. A baby with an adenoid shadow back of his breastbone is is no great danger of dying suddenly. If death does occur without warning the state should not be called status lymphaticus and further study dropped. It is sometimes possible to find a reason.

Animal breeders have found that when a mother animal has young that perish without known cause the probable explanation is improper feeding.

CAUSE OF DIABETES.

Mrs. W. writes:

1. Will you please state the cause of diabetes in a woman of 45 years?

2. Can diabetes be ascertained through testing the urine?

3. Can a person be cured of diabetes so as to be completely healthy, and be able to eat starches, sugars, &c.?

REPLY.

1. Among the many causes are heredity, obesity, eating too much sweets or starchy foods, great emotional strain.

2. The only sure way of diagnosing diabetes is by making certain laboratory tests. The symptoms of diabetes merely suggest its presence and lead to tests.

3. A few people are cured. Most diabetics learn to endure the disease, but do not expect the kind of cure you write about.

I wonder what would be the efficacy of this prayer: O, Lord! forgive my sins so that I can go and sin some more!

CAUSE OF SEAT WORMS.

B. F. writes: What is the cause of seat worms?

REPLY.

JAHNCKE OBVIATES DANGER OF CUTTING NAVY YARD WAGES

Acting Secretary Postpones Board Meetings to Avoid Changes in Pay.

MOVE IS INDORSEMENT OF WHITE HOUSE VIEWS

Present Scale to Continue During Existing Conditions; Schedule Is Higher.

More than 3,000 workers at the Washington Navy Yard were assured wage standards will be maintained when Acting Secretary of the Navy Jahncke yesterday ordered next months' meeting of wage boards postponed indefinitely.

The order had the effect of staving off an otherwise inevitable lowering of the wage scale here and elsewhere, Navy officials said.

Effect of Meeting.

Meeting August 15, boards would have been obliged to recommend changes to conform with the standard paid on private projects in this and other communities. In view of altered business conditions, the revision could only have been downward, it was stated.

This effort to continue the present schedule of kages is in accord with the administration's move of November, 1929, looking to unemployment relief, and stabilization of labor conditions without reduction of wages, Acting Secretary Jahncke said.

"Action is taken at this time in order to save the employes and the Government the expense incident to collection of wage data," he added.

Operations of Boards.

Under the law, local wage boards at the various yards meet at stated times and make recommendations to the department after a study of prevailing wages in the immediate vicinity.

Hearings are then held by a wage board of review, which adjusts the scale in conformity.

The acting Secretary said the Navy will continue the present schedule in view of present conditions. He said in virtually all cases it will be higher than that prevailing in the various communities.

Colored Baptists Plan Three-Day Convention

The Baptist Convention of the District of Columbia, composed of a group of colored Baptist churches, will hold a three-day convention at Gethsemane Baptist Church, beginning Wednesday. Other church organizations will meet at the same time.

The general theme of the convention will be "Cooperation," and special messages will be delivered on "Christian Doctrines," "Christian Education," and "Evangelism and Missions."

U. S. Arms Plans Gratify Geneva

Success of World Congress Seen in Participation, League Friends Say.

Geneva, July 10 (A.P.).—In League of Nations quarters great satisfaction has been expressed at the American Government's acceptance of the invitation to a general disarmament conference.

This acceptance was particularly pleasing to friends of the league and advocates of disarmament because it was taken as another evidence of Washington's active interest in a move for arms limitation and reduction.

Washington's interest and American participation in preparation for the conference was rated here as among the most hopeful signs for success of the world congress.

The American Government is the first government in the world to accept the invitation to the arms conference. Connecting this fact with publication by America of a statement of present armaments, observers here were greatly impressed with the emphatic attitude of President Hoover's administration on the armament question.

2 TITLE COMPANIES NAMED IN 3 SUITS

Stock Is Declared "Utterly Worthless" in Actions for Damages.

Three suits against the New York Title and Mortgage Co. and the Capitol Title & Guarantee Co. were instituted in the District Supreme Court yesterday. They followed, according to their declarations, a suit brought by Grace B. Hutton, which, the declaration alleges, was pronounced legal by Justice Jennings Bailey, of the District Supreme Court.

Claude C. Pierce, 3833 Military road northwest; George H. Girty, of 1870 Wyoming avenue northwest, and Elmer G. Runyan, of 1651 Harvard street northwest, complainants, are represented by Attorneys Levi H. David and E. Hilton Jackson.

The suits, identical in text, except that they vary in the amount of damages sought, declare that the defendants purchased stock of the Capitol company "which was utterly worthless and of no value." The New York company is mentioned as guarantor of titles, in turn guaranteed by the Capitol company.

Pierce brought suit for the recovery of $2,000, Girty for $4,250 and Runyan for $4,750. They charge that the Capitol company has been insolvent for some time and that it never has been able to meet its expenses.

COVES AT WOODLAND ASSURE WATER SITE

Post's Beach Development Has More Than 4 Miles of Front.

Washingtonians who have not already visited Woodland Beach, The Washington Post's summer home site on South River in Maryland, will undoubtedly be surprised when they do visit the scene, to learn that there are 4½ miles of waterfront property available.

Most developments of this nature stretch entirely along a straight river front or are located on one curve of a stream but Woodland Beach has an advantage over these other places in that it is located on two coves along the river proper and that there is considerable additional water frontage on tributaries of the South River.

With all this waterfront property offered to the public, every resident of the Capital has the opportunity of securing a lot close to the water. Many prefer to be some distance back and there are plenty of lots of this kind, also ready for the first to claim them.

With all lots priced at $93, location of your lot near the water or away from it, does not entail any additional expense. There are no "special priced" lots on the Beach property. And best of all, you need not pay the $93 in cash. All that is necessary is to pay $9 cash plus the cost of a subscription to The Washington Post and a lot is yours. Then pay the remainder at the rate of $3.50 a month while you are building your summer cottage on the site.

Woodland Beach promises to become one of Maryland's most popular summer home developments. It is in the right location, for it is only 32 miles from Washington, far enough away to have all rural atmosphere necessary and close enough to the Capital to make commuting easy. It has bathing, boating and fishing. It has pleasant spots for cottages where women and children may obtain recreation and rest.

Take a spin out to the Beach tomorrow, when it will be open for inspection with competent guides on hand to show you all its beauties. By motor, take the Defense Highway to Camp Parole, turning right at that point on Maryland State Highway No. 2, cross South River and then left to Mayo road, which leads directly to the Beach. If you travel by electric car, leave the W., B. & A. line at Camp Parole, where all cars are met by buses from the Beach.

Death Confession Is Read at Trial

Killing of Policeman's Son Allegedly Described by Prisoner.

Freehold, N. J., July 10 (A.P.).—The killing of Raymond Waddle, 30-year-old son of the assistant police chief of Bowling Green, Ky., was described today in a confession allegedly made by Louis Parker, on trial for murder.

The confession, together with the testimony of County Detective Merritt B. Kent, who said Parker made it voluntarily, was admitted over objection of the defense.

Parker, in the document, relates that he, Waddle and James Bailey engaged in a drunken argument while on Heller's Island, in the Shrewsbury River, which ended when Parker struck Waddle over the head with an iron pipe. He and Bailey, Parker's statement continued, took Waddle's body to the middle of the river and threw it overboard and then reported to police Waddle had fallen in and drowned. Waddle's death occurred January 5. It was not until March 29, when his body was found, that Parker and Bailey were charged with his death. Bailey will be tried separately.

QUENSTEDT FLOODS CITY WITH LETTERS

Annapolis Mayor Depicts Accomplishments of Administration.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., July 10.—To further the interests of his candidacy for reelection as mayor of Annapolis in next Monday's municipal election, Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt, Republican, today flooded the city with circular letters calling for support from the electorate.

The mayor directs attention to achievements of his administration, with particular reference to his efforts in bringing order out of chaos in connection with restoring the water supply to normalcy when the city was faced by a near-famine during the drought last summer. He also levels an attack at "bossism," which, he says, permeates Democratic rule, and asserts that Republicans if elected will transact the city's affairs more in the open and by square dealings rather than by boss dictation.

Quenstedt and his followers are busy in the closing hours of the campaign to get one of the old-time majorities out of the Fourth Ward, or "Black Belt," realizing that this is the keynote of success in an effort to overcome the Democratic strength in the other three wards.

Col. John De P. Douw, Democrat, who is opposing Quenstedt, has made no formal declarations aside from assuring a clean and business-like administration.

The forthcoming election appears to be attracting greater interest among the voters than any in recent years.

Fess Links Arms And Moratorium

Senator Expresses Hope of Hoover for Cut in Land Armaments.

Cedar Point, Ohio, July 10 (A.P.).—United States Senator Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican national committee, today said that President Hoover hoped to make the debt moratorium plan an instrument for reduction of land armament in Europe.

Speaking at the midsummer meeting of the Ohio Bar Association, Fess said he was surprised at the unanimity of approval which the President's plan received both in the United States and abroad.

"I am especially gratified over the attitude of the Democratic party," he said. "This question is too big to be partisan. We hope this gives new emphasis to the economic situation throughout the entire world."

Dr. Patch to Preach In Mt. Pleasant Church

The Rev. Don Ivan Patch, formerly associate minister of the First Congregational Church in this city, and now minister of the First Congregational Church in Westfield, N. J., will be the preacher at the third of the union summer Sunday services in the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church tomorrow morning. Cooperating with the Mount Pleasant Church with these services are the All Souls Unitarian and the National Memorial Universalist Churches.

Westminster Conference Elects Patterson President

Young Peoples Assembly Has Been Largest Held in History of Sunday School Association; Delegates and Superintendents Chosen for 1932.

At the Young People's Conference, which closed last week, at Westminster, Md., the following officers were elected for the 1932 conference: President, John A. Patterson, jr., Calvary Baptist Church; vice president, Conrad Heins, Arlington M. E. Church; secretary, Anna Laura Sanford, Francis Asbury M. E. Church, South.

The Young People's Conference of this year was one of the largest that have ever been held in the history of the Sunday School Association. Over 100 delegates, representing the young people's departments of the various Sunday Schools of the District, were present to study the Relationship of Youth and the Church. The program was centered around addresses by Dr. John C. Millian, director of Religious Education of the Baltimore conference of the M. E. Church; Dr. Thomas Guthrie Speers, pastor of Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church, of Baltimore; Dr. Homer J. Councilor, of Calvary Baptist Church; W. G. Waldo, of Calvary Baptist Church; Miss Anna Laura Sanford, Francis Asbury M. E. Church, South; Mrs. John A. Patterson, jr., Calvary Baptist Church, and Louis B. Nichols, Hamline M. E. Church.

At the Administrative Officers and Teachers' Conference, delegates and superintendents from the various Sunday Schools of the District elected the following officers for the 1932 conference: President, Darrell C. Crain, Eckington Presbyterian Church; executive secretary, Page McK. Etchison, Hamline M. E. Church; vice presidents, W. H. Barringer, Bethany Baptist; Col. W. O. Tufts, Mount Pleasant Congregational; Dr. George T. Warren, Columbia Heights Christian; Irving L. Koch, Luther Place Lutheran; William R. Schmucker, Hamline M. E.; Dr. C. P. Clark, Mount Vernon M. E., South; Dr. Knute Carlson, Chevy Chase Presbyterian; Roy W. Prince, Central Presbyterian, South, and N. A. Lufburrow, representing the Sunday Schools of Baltimore, Md.

QUESTIONNAIRE PUT BEFORE CHURCHES

Whether all the Protestant churches in the United States should decrease their activities in connection with prohibition, the relief of unemployed, labor disputes, disarmament or opposition to war, and other moral or social issues, do more than they are at present, or avoid these subjects, is one of the questions which is being asked members of 125 especially selected churches in large and small cities and towns throughout the country in a study of lay leadership. The Mount Pleasant Congregational Church has been chosen as the Washington church in this representative group.

The study is being made under the auspices of the department of research and education of the Federal Council of Churches in America, and the questionnaire sent out covers six groups of 35 classes of religious activities, including those in which children, young people and adult members have an interest. The question in reference to moral or social issues also includes racial discrimination, moral issues in local politics and moral issues in national politics.

The purpose of the study, as stated in the announcement of the council, is "to understand better the nature of the leadership that laymen and women are giving in the work of the church, aiming at the development of a more Christian group life and of the lives of individuals; what training is needed with respect to a better future lay leadership, and what have been the significant sources of training in the experience of present lay members for social and religious leadership."

The study is expected to present a general view of Protestant lay leadership and a Protestant consensus throughout the country. It is estimated that several months will be required to complete the assembling and compiling of the data which will be issued in printed form and made available to ministers of all Protestant churches in the United States.

CATHOLICS TO SHOW WANT IN PORTO RICO

Exhaustive Report Will Be Made by Committee Next Week.

Want and poverty are prevalent in Porto Rico and the United States, of which the country is a dependency, considers these conditions on the island a "secondary matter," it is stated in an exhaustive report just completed by the committee on United States Dependencies of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

The report, which will be made public next week, deals chiefly with the social, economic and political conditions on the island, their intimate bearing on the governmental policy of the United States, and possible solutions that might be employed to remedy conditions.

This report was prepared under the direction of Miss Elizabeth M. Lynskey, professor of international relations, Hunter College, and chairman of the investigation committee. The other members of this group are: Prof. Jerome G. Kerwin, of Chicago; Pedro Capo Rodriguez, of Washington; P. H. Callahan, of Louisville; Dr. Joseph Mulvey, of Washington; Charles P. O'Donnell, of Chicago, and G. Butler Sherwell, of New York City.

Lawn Festival.

The Rev. Edward J. A. Nestor, assistant pastor of Holy Comforter Church, has been announced as general chairman in charge of the annual church carnival to be given on the lawn of the parochial school from Monday, July 27, to Saturday, August 1, inclusive. The festival this year, which is to take on a gala appearance, will be for the benefit of the church.

There are to be seventeen booths and a ferris wheel.

The following executive committee will assist Father Nestor: Joseph L. Gammell, Eugene J. Rossi, Robert Handley, Cornelius J. Ford, Mrs. Anna G. Donnelly, Miss Nellie McCormick, Col. William L. Peak and Mrs. Peter P. Burke. Meetings of the general committee are held each Monday evening and each booth chairman is entering into the carnival with a determination to outdo each other in raising the greatest amount from their respective booths.

Various local organizations will be invited to attend and a special committee will be appointed to serve as a reception committee. The entire lawn adjacent to the school building will be decorated in carnival colors, and it is expected the fete will attract many thousands from all parts of the city.

Holy Name Society.

The executive committee of the Washington section of the Holy Name Society will meet in the Immaculate Conception Hall, Eighth and N streets northwest, on Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock.

Invitations to attend this meeting have been sent spiritual directors and presidents of the 53 affiliated branches. Plans will be perfected for the July quarterly meeting of the local organization, which will be held in some suburban district, on a date to be announced later.

Dr. Sizoo to Lecture In Montreat Course

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, minister of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, is in Europe on his annual vacation. Every summer he takes two months for a tour into some new place, and during his absence he gathers a lot of information about the people he meets, and the lives they lead, the customs he sees, which he uses later in his Sunday evening lectures at his church. These lectures have been very popular and have been given to crowded houses.

Late in August Dr. Sizoo will go to Montreat, N. C., the summer headquarters of the Southern Prebyterian Church, for a series of lectures.

Rev. Mr. Wills to Preach At Epiphany Services

The Rev. Alvin Lamar Wills will be the preacher at both the 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. services at the Church of the Epiphany tomorrow.

The subject of Mr. Wills' sermon at 11 o'clock will be "The Magnanimity of God," and at 8 p. m. "The Wages of Sin." These are the second and third in a series of sermons on the parable of "The Prodigal Son."

Johns Vacation School Group.

Luther Place Memorial Church is joining with other churches in the vicinity in conducting a vacation Bible school, which began last Monday morning, meeting in the Parish House of Foundry Methodist Church. Bible study, worship, stories and handwork comprise the sessions. The school is free to all children.

Rev. Mr. Wooding Will Preach.

The Rev. Henry B. Wooding, minister of Eckington Presbyterian Church, will preach at the union evening service tomorrow in Lincoln Road Methodist Episcopal Church.

Will Address Bible Class.

Louis B. Nichols, of the Central Y. M. C. A., will address the Men's Bible Class of Georgetown Lutheran Church tomorrow morning.

DR. PALMER TO GO WEST ON VACATION

To Visit Missionary Secene Where He Served in Early Ministry.

August is vacation month for those pastors of Washington churches who get vacations. There is no reason why all of them should not have vacations. They surely need a rest.

Among the busy pastors of this city who will be numbered among the tourists next month are Dr. W. A. Shelton, pastor of Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church, and Dr. John C. Palmer, pastor of Washington Heights Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Shelton and his family will take a long motor trip to the Pacific Coast, probably passing through the national parks going and coming. He has made no preaching or lecturing plans, and "jes' nacherly ain' studyin' 'bout sarmints on dis here journey."

Eager to See Dr. Palmer.

Dr. Palmer will also take a motor trip, to the Bad Lands of North Dakota, accompanied by his son, John C. Palmer, jr. He goes to fill an engagement at Hill City, where he began his ministry 40 years ago. The folks out there heard that he was a big city preacher, and last fall sent a spy on here to find out if it was so. This individual went to Washington Heights Church and heard the minister.

"Your name is Palmer?" he asked at the door. It was so written on the church bulletin in his hands.

"It is," proudly replied the minister.

"Were you ever, by chance, at Hill City, N. Dak.?"

"Yes; I went there as a missionary when a boy; I taught the only school there and organized a Presbyterian church there. And I married there."

"Well, the folks out there heard you were a city preacher and they sent me on to see if it is so. And here I am."

In a few weeks came the town paper with an account of this interview and a suggestion that so long as one former citizen of the old mining camp had become a noted man, he ought to be brought back for a proper celebration.

Waiting to Celebrate.

There followed, after this, numerous letters from former parishioners and former students of Dr. Palmer, telling him that they were arranging the celebration in his honor, and everything is now ready and awaiting the great day to come.

In none of the letters did any one mention the fact that Dr. Palmer remained the writer of Goldsmith's famous pedagogue; or recall to his mind any text or bit of a sermon he had preached. One and all recalled his prowess as a baseball player.

Since leaving Hill City Dr. Palmer has had but two pastorates: One on the East Side of New York, where he long ministered in an old Scotch Presbyterian Church, and for nineteen years, in his present pastorate. If he brought his baseball togs from Hill City, no one who knows him here ever heard of it. D. R. B.

Delegation Appointed For Massanetta Parley

A delegation of young people from the Central Presbyterian Church will attend the Young People's Conference at Massanetta Springs, Va., July 13 to 19. The following have been appointed to represent the church: Claude W. Kniseley, Robert W. Gardner, Henry B. Johnson jr., Herbert Allison, Laurence Sherfy, Raphael Sherfy, Marvin Noell; the Misses Isobelle Alexander, Hope Posey, Catherine Johnston, Mary Poole Shannon, Helen Williamson, Emily Johnston, Eleanor Gary, and Margaret McPheeters. The delegation will be chaperoned by Mrs. Harry B. Gauss.

Southeast Churches Unite in Service

The Rev. George E. Brown, pastor of the North Carolina Avenue Methodist Protestant Church, will be the preacher at the union service tomorrow night of five of the churches in the Southeast section.

Dr. F. F. Holsopple, pastor of the Washington City Church of the Brethren, is the host of the service.

Police Heads to Address Asbury Bible Class

W. S. Shelby, assistant superintendent of police, and Sergt. George M. Little will address the men's Bible class of the Francis Asbury M. E. Church, Sixteenth near Lamont, tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Their subject will be "Crime Conditions in Washington." They will present facts on this subject. Men of all denominations are invited.

A Meditation

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, minister of the First Congregational Church, has just written, at his summer home in Greensboro, Vt., a poem which he entitles: "A Meditation at Dearwood Cottage." The Church Page is permitted to reproduce it:

The dawn light speaks in whisper tones
Across the peaceful lake;
And says, respond to joyful morn,
The lovely world's awake.

The sky aglow with growing light
Decrees the soul's release,
From walled rooms to airy space
And wide horizoned peace.

The lake's clear mirror surface calls
(With mystic depth and hue),
Look! What dear nature trusts to me
I picture back to you.

The clouds—serene and silent forms—
Across the sky, in grace,
Float on, like fleets of magic ships,
Upon a sea of space.

The sterner moods, that awe the mind,
And chasten selfish choice,
Flash in the lightning's jagged paths
And speak in thunder's voice.

The lofty hills exalt my soul
To feelings pure and high;
I trace them till their wooded lines
Conjoin me to the sky.

The shady, friendly, near-by woods,
Too eloquent for words,
A screened cathedral choir stands
For joyous singing birds.

In deep religious gratitude
I hear and feel and see,
And from the sum of all of these
God's own voice speaks to me.

BAPTIST PASTOR

JUBILEE TOMORROW BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

Fifth Baptist Institution Began Career in 1856 Named "Island."

There is hardly a member of the Baptist Church in this city now living who was living here when the Sunday school of the Fifth Baptist Church was organized in 1856. That was a great year in the history of Washington. Charles Sumner made his terrible assault on South Carolina and his attack on Senator Butler, of that State, whose palsied infirmity Sumner caricatured in language no gentleman ever uses unless he expects to fight. And Senator Butler, being absent and ill, his relative, Preston S. Brooks, caned Sumner. And then Brooks died of membraneous croup and had the biggest funeral any man ever had in Washington.

It was while passions ran high, and men were assaulting each other in and out of Congress, and duels were being fought, that a small company of Baptists, in the Southwest section of the city, organized a Sunday school that they called the "Island Baptist Sunday School," which name it bore until 1864.

That name means nothing to the people of this city now, save only a few antiquarians; but in those days it was a part of the every-day speech here, and was running constantly in the news, for it designated a part of the city, much as we speak now of Anacostia, Chevy Chase, Wesley Heights or Mount Pleasant.

Tiber Creek rising out in the Maryland hills, pursued its tortuous course around the Capitol and across Pennsylvania avenue, coming down as far as Fifteenth street and then dodging around the White House, wandered aimlessly on to the Potomac. It made, with a canal that Thomas Law engineered, an island of what is now the southwest section, and people lived on the "island" and churches and schools bore the name of the "island."

There were ten teachers of this first Sunday school, principally members of E Street and Navy Yard Baptist Churches. It met in a building known as "Island Hall," and its first superintendent was the Rev. C. C. Meador, who became its first pastor and served in that capacity for 47 years.

In 1864 the name of the school changed to the Fifth Baptist, an honored name which it has ever since borne. From this small beginning it has grown until now it is the second largest Sunday school in Washington, having an enrollment of 1,718 members.

Tomorrow is the diamond jubilee of this Sunday school, and it will be properly celebrated by Dr. John E. Briggs, the pastor, and his people, with two special services, morning and evening.

Dr. Briggs will preside at both services, assisted by J. H. Ingram, Lillian Williams, Annie L. Sinclair, James T. Eliett, Dr. A. W. Cummings, Mrs. Bernard Douglas, Mrs. W. G. Claspy and Mrs. Mildred Allen.

Addresses will be delivered by Robert H. Coleman, of Dallas, Tex.; Dr. Joseph T. Watts, of Baltimore; Dr. Richard Holland, of Philadelphia, and Roy Gourley, a well-known radio and revival singer.

The following have served the school as superintendents: The Rev. C. C. Meador, Henry Beard, Samuel S. Taylor, James C. De Atley, J. P. Lucas, John N. Henderson, John R. Bradley, John L. Cox, W. S. Olive, the Rev. Lewis M. Roper, Samuel Howison, Levin C. Handy, R. H. Yates, W. F. Carter, C. Clinton James, Walter Price, S. M. Yeatman, Clarence I. Gessford, Richard A. Ford and J. H. Ingram.

The school has had its greatest growth and development in the last twelve years, under the terms of office of Richard A. Ford and the present superintendent, J. Howard Ingram.

From 1856 to 1905, a period of 48 years, the Sunday school raised for all purposes $15,190.87; from 1905 to 1930, $86,940.47. From 1910 to 1930, 1,053 persons from the Sunday school were baptized into the membership of the church.

When it observed its fiftieth anniversary the total membership of the school was 954 as against the present enrollment of 1,718.

Bishop of Lexington Evensong Preacher

The second of the series of sermons being preached on Sundays in July at the people's evensong service at the foot of the Peace Cross in Washington Cathedral grounds at 4 p. m. by the Right Rev. H. P. Almon Abbott, Bishop of Lexington, Ky., will be delivered tomorrow. This service will be conducted by Canon Raymond L. Wolven and will be broadcast by radio over Station WMAL of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

2. Confessions of Sin

TURN the pages of the Bible and you come upon a second confession of sin. After interminable delays, forced marches and weary treking through the desert, the children of Israel at last come to the River Jordan. The land of their dream is before them and they are ready to enter. Just one small outpost stands between them and the possession of the promised land—a small garrison of ill-trained and poorly equipped troops hold a narrow pass. Unwilling to weary the whole army of Israel the leaders decide to send a picked number of shock troops to take the small outpost and so open the door to the land of hope. Already the feasting had begun in the valley. Then something happened.

At sunset the once proud troops rushed into the valley unnerved and in broken ranks. They had met ignominious defeat. Terror swept through the whole rank and file of the people. Disillusionment gnawed at the lute strings of their distraught hearts. Utterly perturbed by the disappointment, Joshua determined to discover the reason and finds that one called Achan had buried under the floor of his tent a Babylonian garment, two hundred shekles of silver, and a wedge of gold. Then Achan is brought into the presence of the people and calls out, "I have sinned against God." It is the second personal confession of sin in the Old Testament. What does it reveal and what does it imply?

1. This confession of sin reveals that the desperateness of sin is its propagating power. Somebody always pays the price; nobody goes to heaven or hell alone. It is a ghastly fact that a whole social order may be disrupted through one gross-living person. Here you have a whole nation going to defeat because of one man's sin. There are many people in the world who fail for no reason of their own, but who carry the scars of failure all their lives long because of someone's sin. Throw a stone, however small, upon the placid waters of a sequestered inland mountain lake and the waves will push out in ever widening circles until they lash the sandy beach a long distance away.

That is grimly true in the world of today. Not 100 men were responsible for the World War. Indeed, it is to be questioned if you can name 50 individuals who were concerned in the plot that brought it on. Yet there are 7,000,000 dead, 7,000,000 widows and orphans and 7,000,000 hopelessly and irreparably crippled. The propagating power of sin is one of the deaperate realities of life.

2. This confession makes clear the inevitableness of guilt. There is no escape in wrongdoing. Sin will find you out. There is a temporary glamour about sin which at times has its reward. Sometimes evil appears to succeed, but sooner or later it entangles itself with misery and woe. Sow greed and you reap war; sow envy and you reap revolution; sow pride and you reap hate; sow the wind and you reap the whirlwind. Life never remits to a forgiven man the consequences of his ill-doing. A bird with a broken pinion never soars so high again. David was forgiven, but in all the after-years of his life in the experiences of his palace and home he carried the heartache and the scars of his transgression. Sin, and God may wash away your guilt, but unto the end of time you will pay the penalty. Sin is like Shylock—it always demands the pound of flesh.

As you read that confession it leaves the grievous sorrow that it comes to nothing. It does not avail.

"Council in Galilee" Lecture on Wednesday

Dr. Andrew Reid Bird, minister of the Church of the Pilgrims, is conducting a series of Wednesday evening lectures at his church on the "Conversations of Our Lord Jesus," which are being well attended.

The topic for the next Wednesday evening is "A Family Council in Galilee."

BAPTISTS TO HEAR DALLAS PREACHER

Dr. Truett to Make Closing Address at Convention Tomorrow.

All roads in Washington will lead to the Auditorium tomorrow night, where Dr. George W. Truett, of Dallas, Tex., will deliver the closing address of the convention of the Baptist Young People's Union, which has been meeting here this week.

In honor of this event most Baptist churches of the city will hold no evening session. Those which are holding anniversary celebrations or special services of their own, of course, will not shut up house.

Pastor of Large Church.

Dr. Truett is probably the outstanding Baptist preacher in the South, a magnetic man, something of a scholar, an orator of decided ability. His church in Texas is one of the largest in membership in that State, and one of the most influential.

In a definite sense Dr. Truett is one of the finest flowers of the mountains, for he is a mountaineer by birth, and his ancestors have lived for generations in the hills of Western North Carolina, where he was born. No year passes that he does not return to his native village and hold a revival under a brush arbor. Thousands of the mountain people come to hear him at every service.

The principal feature of today's program of the convention will be an address this evening by Dr. Joseph Taylor, a missionary from West China. Dr. Taylor is in this country on vacation. He is widely known in missionary circles.

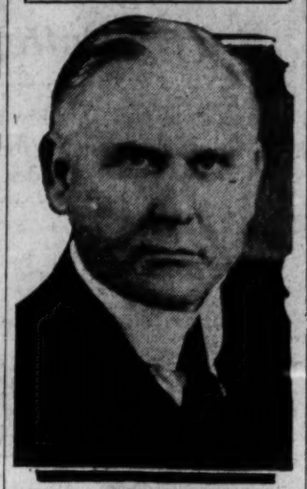
Will Go to Mount Vernon.

During the afternoon the delegates and visitors will make a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, going by motor bus and returning by steamboat. Arrangements have been made for a large party.

Tomorrow morning the delegates will attend services in the various Baptist churches of the city, and in the afternoon at 2:45 the convention will hold a service at the Auditorium. The Rev. J. A. Cooper will make the principal address, after which the Life Service Pledge will be presented. This is an imposing ceremonial.

Music by the Magnetic Chorus Choir of three hundred voices will feature the closing services.

FROM DALLAS



REV. DR. GEORGE W. TRUETT.

Dr. Darby Will Spend Vacation in Tennessee

Dr. W. L. Darby, secretary of the Washington Federation of Churches, will spend his vacation in August at Sullins College, Bristol, Tenn.

During the summer months this old Methodist school for women is turned into a hotel and 100 guests are entertained, mostly ministers and their families.

140 Pupils in Tabor School.

The vacation church school at Tabor Presbyterian Church is again meeting with success. More than 140 pupils have been enrolled during the opening week. Mrs. T. J. Noble is directing it.

PRIESTS ASSIGNED BY ARCHBISHOP

Rev. Edward J. Reilly Named Pastor of St. Anthony's Church.

The post of the late Rev. Hugh Curley, as pastor of St. Ann's Church in Washington, will be filled by the Rev. Edward J. Reilly, present pastor of St. Anthony's Church, at Emmitsburg, Md., it was announced yesterday, as transfers of priests of the archdiocese were made public by Archbishop Curley.

The Rev. Austin Fleming, assistant pastor at St. Ann's, will become chaplain at the Christian Brothers Institute at Ammendale.

The Rev. Lawrence B. McGlone, a native of Ireland, who was ordained in the Baltimore Cathedral last month, and whose mother traveled 3,000 miles to witness the service, will become assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity.

The Rev. Chester J. Czyz, brother of the Rev. Stanislaus A. Czyz, of the Church of the Immaculate Conception here, and the Rev. John Czyz, of Holy Rosary Church, Baltimore, will become assistant pastor at St. Jerome's Church, Hyattsville.

The Rev. Terence F. Beehan, a native of Washington and former member of St. Gabriel's Parish, who has been at the Church of the Little Flower in Baltimore, becomes assistant pastor at St. Mary's Church, Hagerstown.

The Rev. George E. Shank, of Washington, who was ordained last month in Baltimore, becomes assistant pastor at St. Edward's Church in Baltimore.

Three priests, ordained in Rome last December, will become assistant pastors of Washington churches. The Rev. Henry W. Sank will come to St. Stephens, the Rev. John K. Reese will assist at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and the Rev. William Joyce Russell, has been appointed to St. Thomas.

Dr. Snyder Is Back From League Meeting

Dr. Henry W. Synder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, has just returned from Reading, Pa., where he delivered the closing address on "The Christ Who Fulfills" to the convention of the Luther League of America, where twelve hundred delegates from the United States and Canada were assembled, as well as representatives from India, Japan and South America.

An important action taken by the convention was the decision of these Lutheran young people to build a Theological Seminary at Tokyo, Japan, at a cost of $15,000, this sum to be raised within the next two years.

To Meet in Home of Members.

The Young People's Society of Georgetown Presbyterian Church will hold all of their summer meetings in the home of the members. The first of such meetings will be held tomorrow night at the manse, 3121 P street northwest, and the leader will be Miss Clara Haneke.

DAY BY DAY

Day by Day—without pause, the world moves onward to its ultimate goal. Day by day its sub-divisons become more and more established and less likely to change.

Day by Day—because of the great advancement in transportation methods and news transmission facilities, small communities exert an ever-growing influence upon the world as a whole.

Day by Day—the actions of these communities as units become more and more like the private actions of the people who form them.

Day by Day—national, State and city acts become more and more an index to the character of their citizens.

Day by Day—you can do your share toward seeing that these acts of your community are for the best interests of all.

Day by Day—your actions help to keep or break down the morale of all the rest of the persons whom you meet.

Day by Day—you can make your community a better place in which to live, do business, pursue happiness and worship God.

Day by Day—by your actions and words, you should make clear to the world your position on the great issue of moral advancement.

Day by Day—the world is getting better or worse.

Day by Day—you are doing your share to sway it one way or the other.

Day by Day—you should accept this responsibility as a real opportunity for service and in every way every day help the world grow better.

JOHN ECKERT MADE SAVINGS BANK HEAD

North Capitol Institution Also Elects Joseph Herbert as Vice President.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Election of John A. Eckert, president of Columbia Planograph Co., 52-56 L street northeast, as president of North Capitol Savings Bank, vice President Theodore Michael, resigned, was announced yesterday. The new president is very well known in the vicinity of the bank and among business, civic and fraternal circles of the city.

He is a director of the Washington Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, in whose affairs he has always taken a very deep interest. Born in Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. Eckert has resided in Washington for the past 40 years.

He has always been engaged in the lithographing business, being first associated with the Norris-Peters Co., well-known lithographers of this city. In 1894 he became associated with the Andrew B. Graham Co., remaining with that firm as copartner and superintendent for fifteen years. He then established a plant of his own and in 1919 merged it with the Columbia Planograph Co., of which concern he is now the chief executive. He has been a director of North Capitol Savings Bank almost since its inception.

Herbert Made Vice President.

Election of Joseph A. Herbert sr., of the real estate firm of Joseph A. Herbert & Son, as vice president, was also announced as well as the re-election of E. S. Burgess as secretary. Mr. Herbert has likewise been a long continued member of the board of directors of the institution and Mr. Burgess has served in the capacity of secretary for fourteen years.

The retiring president of the bank has made no announcement as to his plans, but it is known that he contemplates a much deserved vacation, having devoted himself to his work so closely for a number of years that he feels the need of a rest.

The active daily routine management of the bank will continue in the hands of F. P. Williams, comptroller, who has also been elected a director of the institution. Mr. Williams is a retired officer of the Naval Supply Corps and was for four years treasurer of Washington Mechanics Savings Bank. For the past eight years, he has been treasurer of the Army and Navy Club.

Bank Organized in 1913.

North Capitol Savings Bank was organized in 1913 under the direction of Col. Robert N. Harper, former president of District National Bank, and other financiers whose foresight is indicated by its well chosen location with reference to large government and private activities.

The bank opened for business in a building across from its present location, No. 1 H street northwest, into which it moved in 1921. It has shown an increase in deposits since the first of the year. Its deposits of June 30, as revealed by the latest call of the Comptroller of the Currency last Monday, were $1,432,984, a gain of $25,711.11 over those of March 25.

The board of directors of the Louise Laundry, Inc., recently declared the regular semiannual dividend of $1.75 per share on the preferred and 30 cents per share on the Class A common stock of the company. Earnings for the first six months of 1931 were reported as favorable and a substantial amount was placed in surplus.

Claude H. Woodward, president of Mount Vernon Savings Bank, and Mrs. Woodward, are enjoying their annual vacation at Old Orchard, Me.

G. Bowie Chipman, resident partner of Harriman & Co., gave a yachting party on the Potomac recently for Frank P. Morse, head of the Washington office of J. & W. Seligman & Co., and a few friends, in celebration of Mr. Morse's birthday.

Atlantic & Pacific Gains In Late Tonnage Sales

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Although dollar sales of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. for the four weeks ended June 27 declined 2.5 per cent, tonnage sales for the period showed an increase of 15.8 per cent over figures for the like period of 1930.

Dollar sales for the period this year amounted to $80,850,700, against $82,921,191 last year. Tonnage sales were 454,268 against 392,099 for the 1930 period. Average weekly dollar sales in June were $20,212,675, against an average of $20,730,298 in June last year, while average weekly tonnage sales in June this year were 113,567, against 98,025.

Bethlehem Steel Sets Adjournments Record

Newark, N. J., July 10 (A.P.).—After 40 adjournments the twenty-sixth annual meeting of stockholders of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation was concluded today. It broke all previous records for adjournments, exceeding by seven the record of the Consolidated Mortgage Co. whose annual corporate meeting in 1916 was adjourned 33 times.

Stockholders of Bethlehem Steel disputed for three months over the bonus system. Last Friday they approved a compromise in the method of determining the percentage of earnings to be set aside for bonuses to executives.

Removed Roumanian Bank Head Reinstated

Bucharest, July 10 (A.P.).—Constantin Angelescu, president of the Roumanian National Bank, has resigned his post in favor of D. Burileanu, whom the government has reinstated.

Burileanu was forced to resign by the peasant government when it was found that he had impeded conclusion of a French loan to Roumania. Since then the Roumanian court of appeal has decided Burileanu's dismissal was illegal.

Soviet Agent Refuses Stalin's Recall Order

Hamburg, July 10 (A.P.).—R. Dowgalevsky, chief of the grain department of the Russian delegation here and nephew of the Soviet ambassador to Paris, today was reported to have refused to obey an order from his superiors to return to Moscow.

He was said to have learned from friends that Joseph Stalin had learned of his opposition to the Stalin agrarian policy and that the Russian secret police suspected him of sympathizing with the Rightist opposition in Russia.

Oklahoma Oil Firms Seek Wells Shut Down

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 10 (A.P.).—More than 100 operators and royalty owners of the Oklahoma City oil field voted late today to petition Gov. Rivalry Is Seen In Stores Merger

MacMarr Purchase Viewed as New Drive Against National Chain.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—It was reported in Wall street today that the acquisition of MacMarr Stores, Inc., by Safeway Stores, Inc., was looked upon in some quarters as the first step in organization of a chain to rival the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., in size. Other chain store organizations whose merger possibilities have been studied include First National Stores, National Tea, Daniel Reeves and a number of smaller chains located mainly in the South.

Following the absorption of MacMarr, Safeway will be the third largest retailer in the country, its volume being exceeded only by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., and Sears, Roebuck & Co. As a chain store organization it will occupy second place, inasmuch as a good proportion of Sears' sales are contributed by its mail order department.

For the first six months this year the combined sales of Safeway and MacMarr amounted to $143,830,573, as compared with $531,619,232 for Great Atlantic & Pacific, and $158,968,370 for Sears-Roebuck. F. W. Woolworth's sales during the first half of this year totaled $130,276,318.

American Chain Stores Omit Common Dividend

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Directors of the American Chain Co. have omitted the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common stock due at this time.

National Licorice Co. directors have declared a dividend of $2.50 a share on the common stock, payable July 24 to stockholders of record July 16. Six months ago a dividend of $2 was paid on the common, and a year ago a dividend of $1 was paid.

Exchange Seat Higher.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Arrangements have been made for the sale of a New York Stock Exchange membership at $250,000, an increase of $25,000 over the last regular seat sale. Through the purchase of rights, however, the previous sale was at $279,000.

German Wheat Placed At 4,570,000 Tons

Berlin, July 10 (A.P.).—Official estimates place the 1931 German wheat crop at 4,570,000 tons; rye, 7,320,000; winter barley, 523,000; summer barley, 2,680,000, and oats, 6,530,000.

The estimated wheat crop is 780,000 tons above last year's yield and rye 260,000 tons below last year's figure. This is because wheat acreage has been increased and rye acreage reduced to avoid the necessity of importing wheat. This year 937,500 more acres have been planted to wheat and the rye acreage has been reduced by 875,000 acres.

All Lots Same Price

EVERY ONE desires to get away from the city to the shore during the hot months, and to own a piece of land at a desirable shore resort where one can leave everyday cares for days of rest and relaxation. THE WASHINGTON POST feels that it has fulfilled this desire, and in submitting WOODLAND BEACH to its readers believes it is doing a service to the people compelled to live in the city.

WOODLAND BEACH is a picturesque stretch of waterfront on two beautiful coves of the famous SOUTH RIVER, an arm of Chesapeake Bay, well known as a beauty spot and as a desirable location for a summer playground. The land is covered with stately trees and so well located that it is destined to become one of the popular summer colonies for the people of Washington and Baltimore.

Beautiful Clubhouse

In its endeavor to do everything possible to make life at WOODLAND BEACH pleasant for those who are to live there, THE WASHINGTON POST has erected and completely furnished this attractive clubhouse, which will be given to and run by an association of property owners to be formed. The clubhouse and all its facilities will be for the exclusive use of property owners. It offers a wonderful place for community entertainments, such as dances, card parties, &c.

Summer Sports at Their Best

No finer bathing, boating and fishing can be found anywhere in the vicinity than at WOODLAND BEACH. Two sheltered coves make a splendid place for you to moor your sail or motorboat. Here children can bathe with safety in the calm, invigorating water. Fishing on Chesapeake Bay will satisfy the most ardent follower of this thrilling sport. For an all-around healthy, happy summer place, WOODLAND BEACH is unexcelled!

How to Get There

WOODLAND BEACH is only 32 miles from Washington and 80 from Baltimore. It is reached from Washington via the Defense Highway (U. S. No. 50) to camp Parole, then south across South River Bridge to Mayo Road, then follow signs direct to property. From Baltimore, follow Maryland State Route No. 2 to Annapolis, then Defense Highway (U. S. No. 50) west to Camp Parole and across South River Bridge to Mayo Road, following signs direct to property.

STOCK PRICES GAIN AFTER EARLY LOSS

Market Holds Firm, Despite Unfavorable Steel News; Turnover Is Light.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Speculative interest in the stock market was nominal today, although the undercurrent of sentiment seemed favorable and quotations closed higher.

This may have been due to the fact that prices held out stubbornly against an irregular early decline, even in the face of a 141,000-ton decline in the Steel Corporation's backlog. The market strengthened steadily during the afternoon, and, although it sold off a little at the close, net gains averaged about a point. The turnover was reduced to 1,300,000 shares.

Wall street apparently took it for granted that Germany would get her long-term credit. Banking circles here professed to have no new information on the matter, although in some quarters there was rather a strong opinion that the accommodation would be given by a group of private international banking firms. The demand for foreign exchange at Berlin continued, maintaining the pressure on the Reichsbank's reserves. The mark declined here.

U. S. Steel's unfilled tonnage statement exerted virtually no influence on stocks. A decline had been forecast but the actual drop was larger than anticipated, and the market's willingness to ignore what looked like bearish news helped the afternoon recovery. Steel common rallied to 99 after the news was out, but backed up to 98 for a net gain of 1⅛.

Bethlehem Steel, whose dividend is regarded as somewhat uncertain, was easy, and both American Can and National Biscuit closed with small losses. Chemicals again developed strength, lead by Columbian Carbon, which held most of a 6-point rise. Allied, ex dividend, was up 3. Westinghouse, American Telephone, Woolworth, Case, Sears Roebuck, Standard of New Jersey, Texas Corporation, International Telephone and Standard Gas rose 1 to 2 net. Rails were quiet but higher, Atchison and Rock Island doing well. Safeway Stores was strong on news of the MacMarr absorption.

MACKS BEAT YANKS IN 14TH, ASSUME 6-GAME LEAD

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THIS column's alarmist tendencies may be easily aroused, but the impression is with me that the Yankees this season must win their ball games in nine innings or not win them at all.

When the Yanks lost to the Athletics in fourteen innings yesterday it marked the seventh time this season that McCarthy's men have carried their battles into extra innings with not a victory to show for their efforts.

What consolation the New York Club can take from its extra-inning efforts must come from the 14-inning scoreless tie played here with the Washington Club early in the season.

The New York-Philadelphia series holds little joy for the Nats. Victories for the Mackmen will only solidify their position at the top of the league and victories for the Yankees will find the Nats beset by a serious contender for second-place honors who may make a three-cornered race out of the pennant chase.

And the Nats are cognizant of the difference between second-place money and the third-place purse in the event they fail to land on top.

Nobody regards the Yankees with any more fear than Mr. Clark Griffith, controlling stockholder in the Washington Club.

Mr. Griffith pointed out yesterday the case of the St. Louis Cardinals of last year. The Cards followed the pace set by the Giants, Cubs and Brooklyn until the final month of the season, when they gathered momentum enough to carry them past all three and into the pennant.

But Mr. Griffith has not yet started negotiations with Col. Ruppert, of the Yankees, whereby the clubs might change places in the standings and give the Nats the same strategical position back of the leaders that Griffith says the Cardinals enjoyed last year.

Walberg has not won a game since June 28, when he beat the Tigers in the head end of a double-header out West. He was batted out by Cleveland on July 2, but he came back to pitch an eight-inning scoreless tie here last Monday. Yesterday he was hammered from the box by the Yankees.

But with Grove in reserve, Connie Mack still has the league's greatest pitching staff.

Grove's work here in the last of the Washington-Philadelphia series was inspiring. The manner in which he bore down in the pinches to register strikeouts twice with the bases full was superb.

Grove's modus operandi in a pinch is simple. He leaves his curve on the bench, tosses his crossfire out of consideration and proceeds to whip a fast ball that only Grove can throw over the plate.

The 1929 world series between the Cubs and the Mackmen is a case in point. The National League champions never faced left-handed pitching of the type that Grove purveys. Among the line-up were such vaunted right-handed hitters as Hack Wilson, Hornsby and Cuyler. And they were glad to take three swings and get away from the plate.

Mr. Griffith overlooked a winning pitcher last spring in the person of Frank Watt, who has won four straight for the Phillies.

He attached himself to the Phillies as a free agent and is now reckoned the most valuable pitcher on their staff.

Struck by Ball, Youth Unconscious 3 Days

Harrisonburg, Va., July 10.—Charles E. Hottinger, 25, is in the hospital here in semiconscious condition as result of being struck on the temple by a pitched ball during a baseball game near his home at Mount Jackson Sunday. Hottinger was unconscious for three days. He clinched the bat so tightly after being struck that it had to be pried from his hands. Hottinger suffered a V-shaped fracture of the skull and efforts are being made to relieve the pressure on his brain which caused partial paralysis. He was playing with Helltown against the neighboring village of Saumsville.

C. U. to Hold Indoor Meet on February 27

Catholic University will hold its third annual indoor track and field carnival on next February 27, according to an announcement yesterday by Dorsey Griffith, head track coach of the Brookland institution. This date is an earlier one than those selected for the past two Cardinal meets and will not conflict with the dates of the championship meets of the I. C. 4-A and the Southern Conference.

Pare Extends Tilden in 3 Hard Sets

Hunter Is Eliminated By Kozeluh; Kinsey, Richards Survive.

FOREST HILLS Long Island N. Y., July 10 (A.P.).—One upset, the downfall of Albert Burke, of France, by Howard O. Kinsey, California, and former Davis Cup star, spiced the professional lawn tennis battles today. In the quarter-finals of the fifth tournament for the championship of the United States, the famous European bowed to the chop stroke of the American. Kinsey's victory was scored, 10—8, 8—10, 6—4, 6—4. Burke was seeded No. 2 on the foreign side.

All the other singles went according to form. Vincent Richards, the three-time champion conquered Robert Seller, the Californian, 6—3, 6—4, 6—4.

William T. Tilden 2d, former king of the amateurs, mastered J. Emmett Pare, the young Chicagoan, 7—5, 7—5, 6—4.

Making use of the same fluent strokes which made him a model of form when he was an amateur, Pare, who, while at Georgetown University was captain of the tennis team and later national clay court champion, ran Tilden freely and kept abreast of the dynamic favorite in thrilling fashion.

His deucing of the first two sets earned him ovations, and his play in the last set was little behind that of a man who is still the best three-set player in the world.

Kozeluh Outclasses Hunter.

Burke had trouble all the way endeavoring to solve the mysteries of Kinsey's chops and underspin. In the first set he experienced some misfortune with line decisions. He did, however, wreck his chances all through the match by netting the ball on comparatively easy shots.

In the first and second sets Burke displayed the perfection of his court strategy. He kept the Californian on the everlasting chase for the ball, sharp shooting beautifully into the court corners off forehand and backhand. At all stages Kinsey played a steady, self-contained game. Burke gradually tired, suffering a cramp in his raquet hand in the final set. As he began to net the ball in the rallies, Kinsey exerted greater pressure and was never threatened as the match ended.

Richards Pressed by Californian.

Richards met stiffer opposition from Robert Seller, of California, than was looked for. Although he scored in straight sets, Seller's cannonball service and a flawless backhand more than checked the net attack of the world's greatest volleyer. Seller compelled Richards to work at top speed for every point.

Footing of an unusual order marked the match in which Kozeluh overwhelmed Hunter. The Czechoslovakian was all over the court and always on the ball. Hunter on occasions swung into his terrific forehand wallops with Kozeluh handling the ball as if it was a feather. After the first set the top ranking European was always the master, although Hunter fought him to a finish in every rally.

At 3:30 p. m.—Vincent Richards vs. Karel Kozeluh.

At 5:15 p. m.—Vincent Richards and Howard O. Kinsey vs. Karel Kozeluh and Albert Burke.

At 5:15 p. m.—William T. Tilden 2d and Francis T. Hunter vs. Robert Seller and J. Emmett Pare.

SINGLES.

FOURTH ROUND—Howard O. Kinsey, California Tennis Club, San Francisco, Calif., defeated Albert Burke, France, 10—8, 8—10, 6—4, 6—4. Vincent Richards, Norwood Country Club, Long Branch, N. J., defeated Robert Seller, San Francisco, Calif., 6—3, 6—4, 6—4.

Karl Kozeluh, Czechoslovakia, defeated Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y., 3—6, 6—3, 6—2, 6—2.

DOUBLES.

THIRD ROUND—William T. Tilden 2d, Philadelphia, and Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y., won from Capt. Valerian Yavorsky, Greenbrier Golf and Tennis Club, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Arthur Rudolph, Hartford Club, Hartford, Conn., by default.

Vincent Richards, Long Branch, N. J., and Howard O. Kinsey, San Francisco, defeated J. Basil Maguire, Hartsdale, N. Y., and Henry Geidel, Glen Cove, N. Y., 6—0, 6—4, 6—2.

Lady Astor Defeated In Parliamentary Golf

Walton Heath, England, July 10 (A.P.).—Lady Nancy Astor was eliminated in the semifinal round of the parliamentary handicap golf tournament today by Lord Castlestewart, who won by a single hole.

Lady Astor was the only woman competitor in the field of nearly 100 which started play several weeks ago. She had a handicap of 22, while her conqueror had only 10.

Gledhill Beats Sutter At Rhode Island Nets

Providence, R. I., July 10 (A.P.).—Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara, Calif., national intercollegiate singles champion, defeated Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, top ranking seeded player, 6—4, 4—6, 6—3, 4—6, 7—5, in the semifinals of the State singles championship at Agawam Hunt here this afternoon.

Gledhill moves into the final round and will meet the winner of the Eddie Jacobs-Ellsworth Vines match tomorrow.

Hagen Shoots 68 to Lead In Canada

Farrell 2nd in Open As Alliss Drops to Third Place.

Armour Is Fourth; Finals Due Today at Toronto.

MISSISSAUGA COUNTRY CLUB, Toronto, Ont., July 10 (A.P.).—The old master, Walter Hagen, tourned around Mississauga's layout in 68 strokes in the second round of the Canadian open golf championship today to blast his way into the lead by a single stroke.

Hagen's 36-hole total of 136, representing a pair of 68's, just was good enough to nose out Johnny Farrell, of New York, former United States open champion, who added a 68 today to his 69 of yesterday for a total of 137.

Of the two leaders, Farrell was possibly the more consistent. The genial Irishman, one of the late starters today, was on the line all the way, hitting his tee shots down the middle of the fairways and his approaches dead to the pin. Hagen, on the other hand, was in frequent trouble, but saved himself by some magnificent recoveries and his fine work on the greens.

Back of these two leaders trailed Percy Alliss, of Germany, whose 67 in the first round had given him the lead on the field. Alliss slipped to a 71 today for a total of 138, two strokes ahead of the defending champion, Tommy Armour, who put together rounds of 68 and 72 for 140.

Stars Survive Cut Of Field.

Tonight the field was cut for the final 36 holes of the championship tomorrow by the elimination of all those more than twenty strokes behind the leader. All of the outstanding United States, British and Canadian contenders were within that limit, the survivors including 33 from the United States, 32 from Canada, 10 from Great Britain, 1 Frenchman, Auguste Boyer, and the British-born Alliss, from Berlin.

Back of the four leaders came the first real dark horse, Ted Bishop, of Natick, Mass., who followed his first round par, equaling 72, with a fine 69 today for a total of 141, one stroke back of Armour. Wiffy Cox, veteran Brooklyn pro, who had tied for second place with 68 yesterday, fell back to a 74 today for a total of 142, where he was tied with Willie Lamb, of Toronto. Another virtual unknown, Victor Ghezzi, held eighth place with 143, a stroke ahead of Ed Dudley, of Concordville, Pa., and Willie Spitall, of Toronto.

Face Difficult Task.

The rest of the survivors, ten or more strokes behind the leader, faced the apparently impossible task of making up the deficit in tomorrow's 36-hole round.

Mortie Dutra, of Los Angeles, and Horton Smith, of Joplin, Mo., had 146's; Archie Compston, of England; Emmett French, of Southern Pines, N. C.; George McLean, Yonkers, and Tony Manero, Norwood, N. J., and Lex Robson, Toronto, 147's. Sid Easterbrook and Earnest Whitcombe, of England, and Aubrey Boomer were in at 148 and Bert Hodson and Henry Cotton of England and Willie Klein, of East Williston, N. Y., with 149's.

Arthur Havers and Cyril Walker had 151, George Duncan, 153; Fred Robson, 154, and Leslie Cotton, 155. Charles A. Whitcombe, British Ryder Cup captain, bothered by an injured leg, withdrew after covering nine holes of the second round.

The real thrill for the galleries came late in the afternoon when Farrell started out. Johnny had put together sixteen fours, two threes and a deuce for his 69 yesterday and again was in form today. A crowd of more than 3,000 galloped from all sections of the course when word was passed around that smiling Johnny was "turning on the heat" again. Farrell made a gallant bid for the lead, but a long putt on the home green failed to drop for him and he had to be content with second place.

Hagen Follows Farrell.

Hagen himself was in the gallery that followed Farrell for the last few holes and as Johnny holed his last putt, "The Haig" patted him on the back and said:

Of those who failed to qualify perhaps the most prominent was Karl Keffer, of Ottawa, twice holder of the championship, the last time in 1914. Keffer's shaky 80 today gave him a total of 157, just outside the magic circle of qualifiers.

Hagen in his subpar cruise over the much-abused Mississauga layout, played one of his typical rounds. He dubbed at least three shots as badly as the merest novice, but he followed these mistakes with spectacular recoveries. He was approaching to the pin with deadly precision and putting with a magic stroke. He missed no two-footers as he did yesterday. As a matter of fact he was holing them from all corners of the green and made 10 and 15-footers look comparatively easy. On the home green he barely missed a long putt that would have given him a 67.

The draw for tomorrow sends the leaders away late. Cox and Boomer are away at 10 a. m. Diegel goes at 10:30, while Hagen, Farrell and Alliss are among the last half dozen starters. The same pairing will be followed in the fourth and last round in the afternoon, with Alliss and Farrell not slated to leave until 3:30 p. m.

BRITISH BEAT CZECH NET TEAM

Earn Right to Meet U. S. in Davis Cup Play July 17-19

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 10 (A.P.).—England won the right to meet the United States team in the interzone finals of Davis Cup play by defeating Czechoslovakia in the doubles match today after winning both singles yesterday.

England's surprising youngsters, George Hughes and Fred Perry, teamed to ship the Czech doubles combination of Roderick Menzel and F. Marsalex, 6—4, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2. Bynny Austin and Perry won their singles matches yesterday. Two singles will be played tomorrow, but loss of both would only cut the British margin of victory to 3—2.

U. S. Meets British Team July 17-19.

The United States team, with victories over Mexico, 6—5, Canada, 4—1, and Argentine 5—0 will face the Englishmen in the Roland Carros Stadium in Paris, July 17, 18 and 19. It will provide a battle of youth, for the American singles burden probably will be carried by 18-year-old Sidney B. Wood and 21-year-old Frank X. Shields, Wimbledon singles finalists.

The English record in the annual series so far could not be improved upon. The youthful trio eliminated Monaco, Belgium, South Africa and Japan in the first four rounds, all by scores of 5—0.

Haines Triumphs, 2-1, as Champions Win Third Straight

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 10 (A.P.).—Taking the third straight game from the Cincinnati Reds here today, 2-1, the Cardinals tightened their lead on first place in the National League race. The champions now are 4½ games ahead of the New York Giants and 5 games in front of Brooklyn.

Haines hurled for the Red Birds until the eighth, Stout finishing the game. Ogden pitched for Cincinnati until the eighth when he was relieved by Carroll.

Racketeering in Sports Now Extends to Marble Tourney, Pegler Finds

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.
Special to The Washington Post.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A lady who served as assistant coach, or trainer, for a group of young athletes contesting in the recent tournament for the national marbles championship at Ocean City, N. J., brings the disquieting news that attempts have been made to lead some of the boys into dissipation in order to bring about their defeat. Nothing as evil as the kidnaping and forcible feeding of intoxicants to Mr. Flint Rhem, the Cardinals' pitcher, during a crucial series in Brooklyn last year has been resorted to yet, but there was a case in this year's tournament of a young marble player who was practically drugged with nine sacks of popcorn and five bottles of strawberry soda.

Only the young man's remarkable skill and doses of bicarbonate of soda availed to pull him together and also pull him through his match that afternoon.

Relatively, the seduction of the innocent marble player, who came from Kentucky amounted to the same thing as the dastardly treatment of Mr. Rhem, who was kept up all night and forced to drink highballs under such threats as "What about another drink, old boy, drink, old boy, old boy?" and "Rhem, Rhum, whatever your name is; what about another small touch?"

Marble Game Should Be Free From Taint.

The young marble player reported that a glib stranger, possibly a Philadelphia gambler, plied him with popcorn and strawberry soda until he was almost unconscious. Obviously, steps will have to be taken to keep the game of marbles free from taint, or, as James J. Walker, the author of the prizefighting law in New York, declaimed at a historic luncheon just before the law went into effect, if the grand old game can not be kept clean, then let it die.

At this point I become aware that in writing about little boys I am being terribly winsome. They are sure-fire material by which, or whom, to prove that one may be sophisticated and yet retain a sweet, sympathetic quality, the motif of the barefoot boy in journalism for reliability may be compared to the comedian's fall on the sole of his pants. Two of the most memorable stories in sport are the incident of the little boy who plucked Joe Jackson by the sleeve when the sins of the Black Sox had suddenly found them out and murmured, "Say it ain't true, Joe; say it ain't true," and the reformation of the Babe that time when he raised his glass and said that out of regard for the little, dirty-faced kids in the streets he was never going to raise it again.

Chuck Wiggins, the prize fighter, made a similar gesture one night, but whether in a spirit of mockery or mere confusion I was unable to decide. Mr. Wiggins, engaged as a sparring partner of Gene Tunney, was training for his work on Canadian ale. At 3:30 in the morning, with the last bottle on the table, he raised his glass and said:

"This is my last drink tonight; I am doing it for the little dirty-mouthed kids in the streets."

Burke Proves Self to Be Natural Journalist.

Another classic developed only the other day when Billy Burke, who won the open golf tournament at Toledo in his maiden essay for the papers, told of the caddie who plucked him

Nats-Red Sox In Dual Bill Today

Fischer and Brown to See Action Again in Reverse Order.

Russell Has Won 3 of 4 Games Lost to Boston by Nats.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

WITH the Yankees due here Sunday and a double-header with the leading Mackmen scheduled in Philadelphia Monday, the Nationals were most anxious to play the Red Sox yesterday, but the weather man had other plans and, as a result of the heavy rain which fell until well after game-time, the fracas was declared off and a bargain-day bill will be offered this afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Manager John (Shano) Collins is expected to turn over his pitching duties to Danny MacFayden and Jack Russell today, while Skipper Johnson will call on his young left-handers, Lloyd Brown and Carl Fischer. This latter pair has been called upon in two twin bills recently, with Brown working first and Fischer following. The last time out, the Yankees beat both, while just previously both were pounded off the hill by the Tigers, although the Nats managed to split even for the day.

May Shake Jinx By New System.

Brown and Fischer are not superstitious—in fact, no ball player is, to hear him tell it—but the fact remains that both commented after taking their double beating in New York that the "system" was wrong and that the next time they drew a joint assignment Fischer should start, with Brown hurling the nightcap. So it probably will be Fischer and MacFayden in the opener, with Russell and Brown opposing each other in the nightcap.

While a good pitcher, MacFayden has not been particularly effective against the Nats this season, but Russell has fared exceptionally well, having turned in three of the four victories credited the Sox over the natives. Both Fischer and Brown have been in the doldrums of a slump for some time, but hope to come out of it today. If Fischer does, it will give him his tenth triumph of the season, a mark he has been trying to reach for nearly three weeks.

Yesterday's respite netted the Nats a half-game loss in the race with the leading Mackmen who extended their margin to six full games by earning a 14-inning decision over the Yankees. The Johnsons hope to regain this ground this afternoon.

Pitcher "Sad Sam" Jones rejoined the Nationals yesterday and took a long workout between showers. Because of the serious illness of his mother, who died Monday, he has been thrown back in his training, but he plans to make up for lost time and should be ready to take an assignment by the middle of next week.

Mack's Wig-Wagging Is Great Help.

Ty Cobb once was asked whom he considered the best outfielder in the game and his reply was "Connie Mack." And, after watching the veteran Philadelphia manager shift his flychasers around for every allen batter, one cannot help but admit that his score-card wig-wags—his method of signaling his outfielders where, when and how to move—should not be considered as merely the idiosyncrasies of an old man, as many scribes try to make one believe.

There are certain causes and results which the law of averages show follow under certain conditions and Mack merely plays the percentage. He is wrong on occasions, but in the main he is right. In moving his fly hawks about, the Elephant mahout considers whether his pitcher is right or left handed, the same thing in connection with the batter facing him, and whether the flinger is going to throw a fast or curve ball.

Manush "on Spot" Against Grove.

Mack undoubtedly wins many a game for his team by his uncanny placing of his men on defense. An illustration of this was given Washington fans in the Wednesday game of the recent Washington-Philadelphia series. As every one knows Heinie Manush is a noted right-field hitter, yet comment was made when this player came to bat in the sixth with two on the bases and one out because Simmons was shifted over well toward the left-field line, with Miller playing almost directly behind second.

A hit here would have meant at least one run in an inning in which the Nats scored three and the entire complexion of the game might have been changed had Heinie lined one to right-center. But Mack bore in mind Grove's speed, figured that the batter would hit late, if he hit at all, and placed Simmons accordingly. And the result was a liner almost directly in the left-fielder's hands—a sure extra baser with the outfielders normally placed. This big putout, which should be credited to Mack, probably saved Grove from being knocked out, for he was on the ragged edge at the time, with Walberg strenuously warming up in the bull pen, and possibly it saved the game for the A's.

Instead of laughing at Connie Mack, other managers, if they are smart enough to figure along with him, might very well tear a page from his book and play the percentage, too, instead of merely praying and trusting to luck.

CUBS RECALL BARTON.

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—Outfielder Vincent Barton, of Los Angeles, was recalled by the Cubs tonight in an attempt to bolster up their outfield. He will report for duty Thursday at New York.

Johnny Moore, an outfielder, who has been playing in a relief role, was sent to Los Angeles tonight.

Gehrig's Homer Knots Count in Ninth.

Lou Gehrig made a heroic effort to stave off defeat in the ninth inning with two out and the Athletics leading 6 to 4. Ruth was on base when Gehrig slammed his twenty-second home run of the season to break a triple tie for circuit clout honors with Babe Ruth and Chuck Klein, of the Phillies.

The Athletics assumed a four-run lead in the fifth inning by pounding Henry Johnson solidly, although the pitcher survived the inning. The Yankees retrieved one run against Rube Walberg in their half of the inning and tied the score with a three-run rally in the sixth.

Earnshaw Checks Yankees In 14th Inning.

Earnshaw took up the pitching burden for the Athletics in the seventh after Pipgras had succeeded Johnson for the Yankees. Pipgras yielded two runs in the eighth and the Mackmen appeared on their way to victory until two were out in the ninth when Ruth's single was followed by Gehrig's homer.

The Yankees outhit the champions, 17 to 13, pounding Walberg for nine safeties and Earnshaw for eight. In the last half of the fourteenth, the first two Yankees hit safely against Earnshaw and another rally was imminent but the tall right hander forced the next batter to pop up and he struck out the remaining two to end the game with a flourish.

Simmons was the leader in point of hits with four, including a double and a triple.

Great Britain Defeats U. S. in Rifle Match

Bisley, England, July 10 (A.P.).—Great Britain's team upset the dope today by defeating the United States, 3,927 to 3,925, in the small-bore rifle match.

The Americans, on the basis of their practice performances, had been favored to win, but Great Britain gained an early lead, holding a 12-point advantage at one time. The Americans were superior at the longer ranges, and nearly overcame the British lead, failing to do so by only two points.

Transporting Fight Films Brings Fine

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—Harry O. Viller, Denver, Colo., and Harry M. Pollock, San Francisco, today pleaded nolo contendre to charges of transporting motion picture films of the second Dempsey-Tunney fight in interstate commerce in 1928 and were fined $25 each by Federal Judge John P. Barnes.

Henry Sonneschine, David Penser, Herbert Hodes and Julius Marks, all of New York, codefendants, pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for October 7.

BRAVES ROUT VANCE TO WIN, 4-3

Robins Hold Lead to 8th; Brandt Gains 11th Victory

BOSTON, July 10 (A.P.).—Subdued by Dazzy Vance for seven innings, the Braves came to life after two were out in the eighth to drive the Brooklyn ace from the mound, score three runs and defeat the Robins, 4 to 3, in the second game of the series.

A double by Moore, who had replaced Urbanski at third base after the latter had been knocked unconscious chasing a foul into the grandstand, started the Braves' rally. A pass to Worthington, Sheely's single and Schulmerich's double to right scored the tying runs. Quinn, who relieved Vance at this juncture, purposely passed Spohrer to get McGuire, and the Braves' second baseman came through with a single off Bissonette's glove to score the winning run.

Rain Chases Hub Boxer To N.Y.

Predicts K.O. Victory at Ebbets Field on July 22.

Special to The Washington Post.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., July 10.—The fact that bad weather has interfered considerably with Jack Sharkey's training schedule at his camp here appears to be worrying Jack's admirers far more than it is America's star heavyweight. Some of those Sharkey admirers are openly expressing the fear that Jack isn't taking seriously his fifteen-round championship battle with Mickey Walker at Ebbets Field on the night of July 22 for the benefit of Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's free milk fund.

Sharkey was scheduled to begin a high-pressure training grind at Dr. Joseph Bier's health farm here last Tuesday. It is an ideal training site and Sharkey and his retinue of handlers were delighted with it. But Sharkey said the country was no place for him in the rain and decided to postpone his Pompton Lakes invasion until the sun reappeared.

Trains in New York Gymnasium.

The sun did not shine on Tuesday, so Jack established himself in Stillman's Gymnasium in Manhattan and went to work, using nearby Central Park for his morning roadwork. Five miles around the park reservoir at a lively trot didn't seem to bother the lanky Lithuanian in the least. Jack has always had a mystifying yen for training in the city. It will be remembered that he did practically all his training for Dempsey in New York City, thereby bringing down upon himself a world of criticism. Jack says he has no wish to repeat that experience and will positively begin outdoor operations at Pompton Lakes tomorrow.

The insinuation that he is taking Mickey Walker too lightly only served to bring on one of Sharkey's well-known peeves.

"I'm not underrating Walker," he growled, as a fierce scowl corrugated his Bostonian brow. "I'm not underrating him or overrating him, either. If I listened to all the people who want to tell me what I should do I'd be in a fine mess. I know how I ought to train and I'll know how I ought to fight when I get in the ring at Ebbets Field. I'll fight well enough to knock Walker out. And that ought to satisfy my best friends and severest critics."

ICICLE, always within striking distance of the leaders and jumping well, rushed to the front taking the twelfth fence and, quickly opening up a long lead, was eased up at the finish. CANTERBURY forced the pace in the early stages and held on well to the end. LIBERTIN was taken back approaching several obstacles, but showed good speed on the flat and was easily best of the others. SILVER DAWN II set the pace for three furlongs and, but struck the ninth fence when tiring and was never dangerous thereafter. HILLOCK seemed outclassed. INCEPTION, jumping well, had just taken the lead when his rider made the mistake of rushing him into the eleventh fence and he fell when in front.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DUNMORE, $8.52, $4.12, $3.84; LADRONE, $7.80, $5.24; CABILDO, $5.84.

DUNMORE, close up from the start, saved much ground around the last two turns and took a good lead entering the stretch to win easily. LADRONE, held under restraint in the early stages, was taken around on the outside when making his move and made a game finish. CABILDO came strongly in the stretch to finish fastest of all. SPANFLOW was prominent most of the way. STICK AROUND.

Vince Dundee Loses Decision in France

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—Marcel Thil, holder of the French middleweight championship, decisively defeated Vince Dundee, of Baltimore, in a ten-round bout at Roland Garros Stadium tonight. A crowd of 14,000 watched the milling.

Thil, faster on his feet, was credited with a heavy edge of points when the battle ended. After an even first round the Frenchman took the next three rounds in a row and was in command of the situation thereafter. Several times he had Dundee in trouble.

SHOREY'S U. S. AMATEUR ENTRY IS TENTATIVELY ACCEPTED

Star's Status Hinges on Ruling

Stevinson, McCallum, Pitt, Nolan Play at Richmond.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

WASHINGTON golfers who desire to compete in the qualification round to determine eligibility to play in the national amateur tournament yesterday received formal acknowledgment that their applications had been accepted. The qualification round will be played on the course of the Hermitage Club, Richmond, Va., on July 28.

As stated in The Post some days ago the Washington entrants include Harry G. Pitt, Manor; Miller B. Stevinson, Columbia; Walter R. McCallum, Washington J. William Harvey, jr., Indian Spring; M. Parker Nolan, Congressional, and John C. Shorey, Kenwood. Although Shorey has received his notification to report at the Hermitage Club on the day of the qualification round, it was stated last night by Dr. John Monteith, jr., an official of the green section of the United States Golf Association, that the acceptance of Shorey is merely provisional, dependent upon an investigation as to the status of the Kenwood Club.

The club will be compelled to demonstrate that it is a real private golf club, in the ordinary acceptance of the term, and not merely an adjunct to a real estate development. If this is done, Shorey's application will stand; otherwise it will be ruled out.

Status of Kenwood Is Question.

So far as could be learned last night the Kenwood Club has never been a member of the United States Golf Association, and no player is eligible to play in the national amateur tournament unless he belongs to a member club. The Kenwood Club, however, has been a member of the Green Section and has regarded this as equivalent to membership in the national body. Upon the recommendation of Dr. Monteith, the application of Shorey has been favorably passed, but the membership committee of the United States Golf Association must still determine the question whether the Kenwood Club can become a member of the association.

It is understood that the national body will submit to the Kenwood Club a series of questions for the purpose of establishing its status and upon the response to these inquiries will depend the action which may be taken in the future.

The women members of the Army-Navy Club yesterday witnessed the presentation of prizes to the players who competed in the "ringer" program which has been in progress during May and June. For low score without handicap the winners were, respectively, Mrs. P. L. Ransom, Mrs. W. S. Holtzman and Mrs. L. H. Hedrick.

The winners with handicap allowance were Mrs. W. A. Angwin, Mrs. Louis Coxe, Mrs. L. H. Hewitt, Mrs. W. N. Porter, Mrs. H. D. Allen, Mrs. King, Mrs. E. A. Noyes, Mrs. J. M. Shock, Mrs. J. O. O'Rear, Mrs. M. C. Tyler, Mrs. M. B. Garber and Mrs. C. H. Fields.

Navy Leach Cup Team In Practice Session

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., July 10.—Navy tennis players, working out here for the annual Leach Cup matches with Army racqueters, to be played at Chevy Chase, July 18, will engage in another practice contest on the Naval Academy courts tomorrow afternoon. The opposition will be furnished by the Mount Washington Club, of Baltimore, which boasts some of the best talent around the Monumental City.

Another tennis match here tomorrow will be between teams of the second-class midshipmen, and the Homeland Racquet Club, of Baltimore.

Fritzi Stifel Defeats Mother in Golf Final

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 10 (A.P.).—The women's golf championship of West Virginia is a family affair.

Miss Fritzi Stifel, prominent nationally as a golfer, today defeated her mother, Mrs. E. W. Stifel, for the second time in as many years for the State title. The score was 3 and 2.

In the elimination leading up to the final match, another daughter, Emily, reached the trifinals, where she was defeated by Miss Fritzi. The Stifels reside in Wheeling.

Fritzi, 25 years her mother's junior, has been playing golf since she was big enough to hold a club, and in the eighteen-hole match today she was the favorite from the start and the parent never really had a chance.

Fritzi won her first State title in 1927 and repeated in 1928, but did not defend her laurels in 1929.

KEPLER GAINS TITLE.

Columbus, Ohio, July 10 (A.P.).—Bob Kepler, Dayton, No. 1 man on the Ohio State University golf team, today won the State amateur golf championship by defeating his fellow-townsman, Scotty Reston, 4 up and 3 to play.

Kepler forged ahead on the sixteenth hole of the morning round after trailing the University of Illinois captain-elect and was never headed.

Alexandria Sports

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 10.—The Belle Haven Golf Team will invade Winchester, Va., tomorrow for the final match of the Tristate Association. The Alexandrians will leave at 11 o'clock in the morning for the Valley City. Alexandria is occupying third place by a small margin.

Capt. Charles Rollins, of the Belle Havemers, today announced the following team would represent Alexandria in the tourney: Charlie Rollins, Bill Burns, T. E. Sebrell, jr., Jennings, B. L. Howell, Johnny Hauber, O'Daniel, Bill Herring, C. C. Carlin, jr., and Dr. S. B. Moore. Windsor Demaine has been selected as alternate.

Theodore Beach's Nation-Wide Store team will clash with the Jefferson, District Firemen in the feature ball game on Haydon's Field Saturday. The contest starts at 3:30 o'clock. Sunday the Nation-Wide boys meet the Frederick Athletic Club, of Washington.

Commander Sidney Weil, of the American Legion Post No. 14, this city, has called an important meeting of the committee sponsoring the Legion Juniors baseball team for Saturday night at the George Mason Hotel Chamber of Commerce rooms, at 7:15 o'clock.

The proposition of raising $500 for the Legion Juniors will be discussed at this session. This amount of money is needed to convey the team to Danville, Va., and purchase equipment.

July 22, 23 and 24 the Junior Legion title series will be staged. Alexandria won the honors last year. Prex Wilson is coach of the Legion Juniors and reports the boys have a great team. They have won several games already this season.

7 West. Md. Gridmen Fail in Classroom

Seven football players, three of them of varsity caliber, have been dropped from the rolls by Western Maryland College on account of scholastic difficulties, it was reported yesterday.

The list names Harry Benson, star guard; Frank Clary, brilliant half back; Steve Brubaker, another fine back; Timmons a guard; Lee, a center; McCormack, a half back, and Wakely, a tackle.

It is believed that the loss of these seven, added to losses through June graduations, will seriously effect the Green Terrors' chances of developing another strong team this fall. Such stars as George Ekaitis, Harry Lawrence and Karl Wellinger, backs; Paul Bates, end; Walter Wilker and Walter Kohout, tackles, and George Usinger, center, completed their courses last June.

Western Maryland's 1931 eleven will meet Georgetown, Maryland, Boston College and Washington and Jefferson among others.

ON THE SIDELINES
by BRIAN BELL

JESS MORTENSEN, Los Angeles Athletic Club athlete and former University of Southern California star, aroused tremendous enthusiasm by winning the Southern Pacific A. A. U. decathlon championship with a record-breaking total of 8,193.29 points.

Not only did the Arizona lad set a new American record, but he passed Paavo Yrjola's world and Olympic total. Of course, Aki Jarvinen, Finland, has a record of 8,255.475 pending.

Soon after entering the University of Southern California from Arizona, Mortensen became a great basket ball player. He later developed into a good half back and a fair baseball player. His track feats were to come afterward. He had thrown the javelin with some success in his sophomore year, but as a junior preferred baseball to track.

He turned his back on the diamond, however, and took up track in earnest when he found the only available Trojan javelin thrower had been declared ineligible.

When he went out for the team he could throw the spear only about 180 feet. His improvement was amazing, and before the season ended he became national collegiate and National A. A. U. champion with a toss of 204 feet.

How They Compare.

Max Stiles, the Al Munro Elias of track statistics on the Pacific Coast, has conceded the next Olympic decathlon to Jarvinen, but he derived some nourishment from Mortensen's performance. He dug into the records to make comparisons between Yrjola, Jarvinen and Mortensen.

In the 100 meters Mortensen has done better than either. He is not so good as Jarvinen, but better than Yrjola in the 400 meters. In the 1,500 meters the American is far behind Yrjola but ahead of Jarvinen. Jarvinen takes first place in the 110 meters, with Mortensen second.

Yrjola leads in the high jump. Mortensen is third. The same applies to the broad jump. However, in the pole vault Jarvinen is first and Mortensen second.

Yrjola has the best mark in the shot put, with Mortensen second and the discus is the same. In the javelin Mortensen comes into his own, having a better mark than either of the Finns. Yrjola is second and Jarvinen third.

In Mr. Stiles' calculations Yrjola was given credit for his best mark in two separate competitions.

That New Ball Again.

The agitation over the new golf ball continues and probably will be heard until a change is made or the dissenters decide that they are wasting their breath and that there is no chance of getting back the smaller, heavier ball.

As news comes from the East of great dissatisfaction with the ball, a California club voted by a large majority in its favor. Players who score between 90 and 100 have reported to this investigator that they are playing better golf with the new ball. The ayes far outnumbered the nays.

On the other hand, where there is so much indignation there must be some cause.

It is true also that there are some insurgent golfers who wouldn't like the new balls even if they were good.

3 Southerners Reach Illinois Semifinals

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—A trio of speedy young southerners battled their way into the semifinal bracket of the Illinois State Tennis Tournament at the Chicago Town and Tennis Club today.

The defending rhampion, George O'Connell, of Chicago, was eliminated by the brilliant playing of Karl Kamrath, of Austin, Tex., 6—1, 3—6, 6—0.

Another Texan, Bruce Barnes, of Austin, the tournament's ranking player, resumed his match with Scott Rexinger, of Chicago, and won one game to take the final set. Rain yesterday had halted the match when the score stood one set apiece and the tally in games 6—5 with Barnes leading.

Ted Burwell, of Charlotte, N. C., turned in a 6—1, 4—6, 6—1 victory over Leo Le Jeck, of Chicago.

Frank Parker, 15-year-old Milwaukee flash, breezed through a smashing victory over Richard Weigler, also of Milwaukee, to win the Illinois State Boy's Title, 6—2, 6—0.

CHAMP SEES RETENTION OF TITLE

Rudolph Is Showing Best Pocket Billiard Form.

ERWIN RUDOLPH, the world's pocket billiard champion, now is on vacation. He visited the offices of the National Billiard Association of America in Chicago a few days ago while en route to his summer camp, which is located at Merrifield, Minn. He was accompanied by Max Grossman, of Cleveland and New York. Rudolph said that Marcel Camp, of Detroit, one of the heroes of the 1929 world's championship pocket billiard tournament, would be his guest for a few weeks.

"I have been very busy since last September," said Rudolph, "and a rest of a few months should get me in first-rate condition for the defense of my title next winter. If I can retain the same form I have shown for the last six months I shall have nothing to fear in the next tournament. I have been playing great pocket billiards of late and there is no reason why I should fall off my game. I am confident I shall retain the world's title."

83-Year-Old Star Still Optimistic.

Maurice Daly, the 83-year-old billiard star, still feels that he has a chance in major competition. He is a former cushion carom and red ball billiard champion and recently notified the National Billiard Association that in the event a cushion carom or red ball tournament is held that he wishes to be among the contestants. The veteran now is an instructor at the New York Athletic Club. He is the man who converted Willie Hoppe from a pocket billiardist into a balkline player. This was more than 30 years ago, when Daly was looked upon as one of the greatest authorities in the game.

Many Pacific Coast billiardists believe that J. N. Bozeman, of Vallejo, Calif., would make a great showing in a world's three-cushion title tournament if he ever gets past the sectionals. Two years ago Bozeman just failed to win the Coast title, losing to Charles Jordan. Then last season he was beaten by Jordan by a one-point margin.

"Despite my victories I insist that Bozeman is the best three-cushion player on the Coast," said Jordan. "When that boy is right he is a master. Hoppe, Layton and Cochran all bowed to him in short matches in California. He is a coming world's champion and it will not be long before he proves it."

Good 3-Cushion Prospects On Coast.

Johnny Layton, a fine judge of billiard talent says there are five high-grade three-cushion players on the Coast, all capable of making it interesting in championship competition. He selected J. N. Bozeman, Charles Jordan and Joseph Hall, all former national amateur champions; Henry Soloman and Joe Chamaco. According to Layton there are other three-cushion headliners on the Coast, but that the five named have made fine showings against recognized three-cushion leaders.

There still is a chance that Edouard Horemans, of Belgium, and Roger Conti, of France, will visit the United States in the fall for the purpose of finishing training for the next world's 18.2 balkline championship. No announcement on balkline has been made, but it is felt that if those two foreign stars make the trip that a tournament will be staged. Horemans lost his world's crown to Jake Schaefer in the 1929 tournament.

Highest Bidder in Majors Gets Shires After Season

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 10 (A.P.).—Louis Nahin, president of the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, today said Charles Arthur Shires, first baseman, would be sold to the highest bidder at the close of the current American Association season.

Nahin said he has received bids for Shires from several clubs, including the Boston Braves, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Nationals.

"We need players more than we do cash," said Nahin, "and since the St. Louis Browns have no one they can send us, I have been instructed to let him go to the club that makes the best offer in the way of talent."

When Shires was brought from Washington this spring, it was generally predicted he would appear next season with the Browns at Sportsman's Park, in St. Louis. Nahin said he regretted losing Shires, whose consistent batting strength has aided the Brewers considerably this year.

JUDGES AID REFEREE AT FORT

Barry Favored to Win From Schwartz on Monday Night.

THE result of Monday night's heavyweight frolic between Reds Barry and Billy Schwartz at Fort Washington will, unless there is a knockout, depend on the judgment of the referee and two judges. This was officially determined yesterday by athletic officers of the fort who refused a request by Patsy Donovan, manager of Barry, to place the decision entirely within the hands of the referee.

Charley Short, of Baltimore, will be the referee, while Jim McNamara and Pat O'Connor, well known local sportsmen, will serve as judges. Fort officials declared their faith in the ability of this trio to make a satisfactory decision in the event both boys are perpendicular at the final bell.

No Deadlock Looked For Monday.

Donovan supported his request for a referee's decision with the statement that three men adjudged last year's meeting between Barry and Schwartz and all disagreed. The referee voted for a draw, one judge favored Barry, and the other judge declared himself in favor of Schwartz. From the hodge-podge of opinion a draw was finally announced.

Reports from the rival camps yesterday indicated the fighters and their backers are confident there will be no deadlock Monday night. Barry and his adherents are certain that his speed and cleverness will more than offset Schwartz's vaunted body attack. On the other hand, the Alexandria baker boy, with his cohorts, feel positive that Barry is due for a break in his streak of victories, possibly through the medium of a knockout. Baker Boy Billy hopes to tag Reds with a powerful right.

Barry, however, is favored in the betting that was reported yesterday to have interested many fistic followers. The Mohawk Club battler probably will enter the ring on the long end of 6 or 7 to 5 odds.

Macalester Engaged to Make Trip.

A departure from the rule of free transportation via boat to the fort will be necessary Monday night, owing to an accident to the Government-owned steamer which hitherto has been serving the fans. This boat is out of commission with a broken propeller, so the management has hired the excursion steamer Charles Macalester to make the round trip for a fee of 50 cents per person.

The forthcoming show is the third of the season at the fort and promises to be the biggest from the standpoint of attendance. A heavy advance sale is reported. The strong local flavor of the program has plenty to do with its popularity. Eight of the 10 fighters on the bill are Washington products.

Betty Robinson Through as Athlete

Little Betty Robinson is all through as a runner, the Chicago medicos said after her airplane accident. That's bad news for the sport writing gentry, and those who like their heroes and heroines natural.

Betty was never anything more than an attractive young woman who could run fast. There was none of the hocum around her that surrounded so many women sports stars. She would readily pose for pictures; talk about herself and her aspirations freely and naturally, and she was under no delusions about her "art." Betty, a Northwestern University coed, wanted to be graduated in physical training and eventually marry a nice young man and settle down.

GRAYS PLAY IN COUNTY LEAGUE

Face Bakers in Montgomery Circuit Today 3 p. m.

THE Chevy Chase Grays meet the German's Bakery Team today at 3 p. m. on the former's home diamond in the first of three week-end games in the Capital City League. Victories in all three may land the Grays in first place of the Montgomery County section. Tomorrow Old Colony will oppose the Grays in a double-header on the Garrett Park diamond, starting at 1:30 p. m., while the champion Takoma Tigers are tackling the Bethesda Firemen on the Cabin John diamond.

Chevy Chase appears to have a good chance of winning all three of its games, but its chance of seizing the lead depends entirely upon the smokeeaters work against Takoma, for the latter can still retain the lead by winning one of its two games with Bethesda. Hoffman, a former minor leaguer, and Battle, who hurled a no-hit game two weeks ago, will probably toe the mound for Bethesda. The champs have Dick Hughes, Ed Marosey and Horace Duffy, just to mention a few, to send against their opponents.

Tigers Determined To Repeat.

A Bethesda victory would be a tonic for baseball in Montgomery County, for the Tigers have ruled the roost for the past two seasons and the fans think it about time another champion was crowned. All but the Tigers have joined in the cry for a new leader, and they are determined that the third Capital City League title in as many years shall be theirs.

SPORTS RACKETEERING EXTENDS TO MARBLES

by the sleeve and said, "Aw, gee, Bill; you gotta win for me. I got a dollar bet on you." The winner, and new journalist, thus won for his piece a more prominent position in the papers than it otherwise would have had, and I was surprised to observe that one so new to the profession was so alert to the dramatic value of the juvenile pluck on the sleeve. The man is a natural journalist.

Reverting to the winsome, my informant says the conduct of the marbles tournament is so loose that some of the athletes have been known to go roaring along the boardwalks eating hot dogs, apple pie, salt water taffy and popcorn and drinking everything from lemon soda to chocolate malted milk with whipped cream in frightful orgies of dissipation. She even mentions the case of a boy in the quarter-finals one year ago who was approached by other boys, not competitors but apparently apprentice gamblers, with an offer of 50 cents to refrain from bearing down. The lady who described the deplorable affair could not substantiate it, however, as this year's tournament was her first and she had only heard the story from a man, who had heard it from a man.

"The training conditions are very lax," reports my informant. "The boys are allowed to sign checks for anything they want to order from the restaurants in the hotels, and when we would come home at night to check up on our boys we would find them with dozens of empty soda bottles and ice cream glasses in their rooms. There would be signs of charlotte russe and chocolate eclairs on the plates and half-empty boxes of candy strewn about the place. One of our boys, 13 years old, said he hoped his match the next day would end early, as he had to keep a date.

Forgot to Change Clothes In Excitement.

"Our team was not very well equipped for travel. Most of the boys had only one shirt, two suits of underwear and two pairs of socks. It was impossible to launder the shirts for the one-shirt boys and have them dry in time for the morning, but I did wash one suit of underwear and one pair of socks for each boy and hang them in the windows to dry. When the time came to leave for home the clean underwear and socks were still hanging in the windows. They had forgotten to change.

"Another thing was the matter of baths. I always thought athletes were fond of baths, but although we had showers in the rooms, the young men of our team took only one bath on the trip, and that one when we put a man over them to see that they did after the train ride from the West.

"I am convinced now that if a marbles tournament is to be conducted properly it will be necessary to bring each athlete's mother along to make him wash his neck and hands before meals, take a bath at night and change his clothes and regulate his popcorn and strawberry pop. It is not the same as traveling with a college team, although I must admit that I have never been a trainer for a college team. However, I understand that they dismissed some boys from the Yale boat crews this year because they ate ice cream and smoked a few cigarettes, but when traveling with a marbles team and you say, 'Now, boys, not more than one bag of popcorn,' they yell 'That is a lot of bologna,' and eat all the popcorn they can hold. And at 1 o'clock in the morning they are still awake, banging one another with pillows and eating chocolate eclairs."

TENNIS PLAY CONTINUED TODAY

Mangan-Moorhead to Finish Semifinal in Feature.

RAIN checked the stretch drive of the forty-fourth District of Columbia tennis championship yesterday, washing out the completion of the semifinal singles match in which Tom aMngan, seeded No. 3 in the tournaments, is leading W. U. Moorhead, tourney lark horse, 5—1, in the first set. Doubles matches also werep ostponed.

Today, at 3 o'clock at Columbia Country Club, Mangan and Moorhead will resume operations. At 3:45 Moorhead and Moorhead are slated to meet Gould and Ritzenberg in a quarter-final round doubles, the winner playing Mangan and Considine at 5 o'clock. The remaining doubles match, Markey and Yeomans against Morrison and Rutley, will be played at 4 o'clock.

Eddie Yeomans, already in the final round, will be joined by either Mangan or Moorhead today, with Mangan strongly favored to come through to what will be his first District final round since 1928, when he lost to Maj. Robert C. Van Vliet in the last match.

The final round will be played tomorrow afternoon at Columbia.

FREED MAN SLAPS ACCUSER; IS FINED

Prince Georges Judge Gives Lecture on Buying of Clothes for Wife.

Less than five minutes after he had been freed in Prince Georges County Police Court in Marlboro yesterday, Leroy Kloch, of Oakland, was back again on the same charge of assault and battery, having struck his accuser as they were leaving the courthouse.

On his first appearance in court, Kloch was brought in on a warrant charging him with assault and battery on his wife. The warrant had been sworn to by W. S. White. When the case was called for trial, Kloch's wife was not present to testify and White said there had been a mistake in the warrant.

He explained that he had wanted to get out a warrant charging Kloch with assault and battery on himself. As White had no case against Kloch, the charge was dismissed after Kloch told the court he had struck White when he found him attempting to kiss Mrs. Kloch.

When Kloch reappeared in court he explained that as he left the courthouse he met White, who grinned at him. He pleaded guilty to having struck him with the flat of his hand. Judge J. Chew Sheriff fined him $10, after telling him that a sneer was not sufficient cause for a blow.

Yesterday's session of the court was marked by a lecture delivered by Judge Sheriff on the buying of clothes for a wife. He was addressing Thomas M. Tippett, of Naylor, who had been brought into court on charges of nonsupport and assault and battery.

"Let your wife select her own clothes," the judge said. "You couldn't satisfy her if you bought her $100 worth. What do you know about buying her dresses or underwear or even a pair of shoes?" The wife had testified that he occasionally brought her wearing apparel from the store.

After persuading the wife to return to her husband and try again for a successful married life, Judge Sheriff dismissed the charge of assault and battery, but continued the other case indefinitely. He warned the man that if the wife had any further complaints this charge would be pressed.

After one man had been fined $150 on a charge of possession of liquor, five others asked for a jury trial. The man fined was Frank Duvall, of Woodmore, who was arrested in a raid made by Sergt. A. W. Hepburn and several other policemen. The raiders said they found 6½ gallons of liquor in a hollow stump not far from Duvall's home.

Those who asked for jury trials included four men arrested early this week in a series of raids in Bradbury Park, when policemen seized five stills and a quantity of liquor. They were Walter Fowler, possession of liquor, bond of $500; James Farrell, possession of articles for the manufacture of liquor, bond of $500; Elmer Padgett, possession of liquor, bond of $1,000; Walter Lettau, alias De Fore, possession of liquor, bond of $1,000.

The other plea for a jury trial was made by Sarah Smallwood, of Aquasco, whose bond was fixed at $500. The case of John Dade, of the Forestville Club at Forestville, who was charged with maintaining a disorderly house, was continued in case an analysis of liquor found there should show it to be illegal.

Austin Jarboe, of Silver Hill, asked a jury trial on a charge of possession of a half-barrel of beer and more than a quart of liquor. His bond was set at $1,000. Richard Cady, who gave his address as Washington, was fined a total of $103 on charges of driving while drunk, reckless driving and having neither permit nor registration card.

W. T. Caruth, who gave his address as room 215 of the Senate Office Building, forfeited $10 for reckless driving. James C. Shroyer, of W street northwest near Fourteenth street, was fined $100 for driving while drunk. Found guilty of reckless driving and failing to stop after an accident, Jack Scrivener, of Mitchellville, was fined $25 on each count.

Santus J. Auth, a taxi driver of Fifteenth street northeast near B street, was fined $5 for reckless driving, although a charge of driving while drunk was dismissed. Andrew Pindell, of Landover, who was fined $100 for driving while drunk, $25 for failing to stop after an accident, and $5 for reckless driving, was committed to jail when he could not pay his fine.

A number of other persons forfeited their collateral when they did not appear in court to stand trial. They included C. G. Eshelman, of Clarendon, Va., $5 for failing to stop at a through street; Thomas W. Jones, of Forty-fourth street northeast near Foote street, $5 for speeding.

Catherine O'Leary, East Capitol street near Third street, $10 for having no license; Irvin Gordon, Four-and-One-half street southwest near G street, $10 for reckless driving; Vernon T. O'Mera, Cherrydale, Va., $10 for reckless driving; George H. Ruppert, Overlee Knolls, Va., $10 for driving while drunk and reckless driving; Paul C. Durrer, Morse street northeast near Eleventh street, $5 for reckless driving; Elmer Smith, Rhode Island avenue near Fifteenth street northwest, $10 for having no license.

Otway Armstrong, Seat Pleasant, $10 for having no license; Josias Adams Naylor, $10 for having improper tags, and S. C. Heene, $5 for speeding.

Funeral service will be Sunday at 2:30 o'clock for Boghos G. Casbarian, a Washington rug manufacturer, who died at his home in Riverdale yesterday. Service will be in the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church in Hyattsville.

Mr. Casbarian, who was a native of Armenia, was 69 years old, and had lived in Riverdale twelve years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Carrie T. Casbarian; three sons, James P., Harvey T., and Barion G. Casbarian, and a daughter, Mrs. William Graf, jr., of Bloomfield, N. J.

Mr. Casbarian was a member of Mount Hermon Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Hyattsville; the Prince Georges County Law Enforcement League, the Republican Club of the Nineteenth district, and the Methodist Episcopal Church of Hyattsville.

ROSSLYN TO DEMAND 'OIL ROAD' REPAVING

Business Men of Arlington Section Are Dissatisfied With Just Promise.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Merely the assurance from the member of the board of supervisors of Arlington District that consideration will be given to the awarding of the contract for repaving what is known as the Oil road, leading from Rosslyn to the north wall of the Arlington National Cemetery, will not be satisfactory to the business interests of Rosslyn, it was learned yesterday.

Many months ago representatives from the Rosslyn Business Men's Association, which represents all business in that section, appeared before the board, and assurance was given that the road would be built.

The board at its last meeting opened bids for both that road and the Tea House road, from Mount Vernon avenue to Columbia pike. The contract for the Tea House road was awarded to Carson & Gruman, of Washington, and at that time it was stated that the contract for the Oil road would be awarded at the next meeting of the board, which will be on Wednesday. A delegation from the Business Men's Association will appear at the meeting and insist that immediate action be taken.

The road at the present time is practically impassable. The many deep holes in the road make it dangerous to drive a car over it with even reasonable speed. It is pointed out that this road is the main connection with the road to Alexandria and the south from Rosslyn and should be put in proper condition without further delay.

The case of Miss Marie Duehring, of Cherrydale, Arlington County, against the Washington-Virginia-Maryland Coach Co., for $20,000 damages alleged to have been suffered, which has been going on before Judge Walter T. McCarthy in the circuit court of Arlington County, will be continued today. Indications are that it will reach the jury late this afternoon.

The case grew out of injuries claimed to have been suffered on the morning of December 29, 1930, when an Army truck is asserted to have crashed into the side of the bus at the intersection of K and Twenty-first streets northwest.

Attorneys Amos C. Crounse, of Arlington County, and M. Mason Welch and Harry F. Kennedy, of Washington, represent the defendant, while State Senator Frank L. Ball and Harry A. Shockey, of Arlington County, are representing the plaintiff.

Plans for the opening of the annual carnival of the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department Monday night have been completed, according to an announcement made last night by A. C. Scheffel, general chairman. The affair will continue throughout the week.

Chairman Schiffel will be assisted by Mrs. George F. Cook, president of the ladies' auxiliary, as chairman of the ladies stands.

The Rev. Robert A. Castleman, rector of Falls Church Episcopal Church since July, 1917, has tendered his resignation to the vestry, effective immediately.

Mr. Castleman served once before as rector at this church, during the early years of his ministry. He is now eligible to receive the maximum pension given by the diocese for longevity of service. He will continue to make his home in Falls Church. The vestry is planning to use supplies and visiting ministers for several months before extending a call to a new rector.

Bethel Chapter, Job's Daughters, will hold a lawn party Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Green, Chestnut street, Clarendon.

St. Margaret's summer conference, which opens Monday and continues through Friday at Rappahannock and which seeks to provide training for leadership in the various departments of church work, will be attended by the following representatives from St. George's Episcopal Church: Mrs. I. F. Davison, Mrs. Frank Davis, Miss Ann Parr, Miss Barbara Smith, George Taylor and Robert Marks. The rector, the Rev. Henry J. Miller, will give several talks during the conference on church music.

The Woman's Club of Ashton Heights will hold its business and social meeting Tuesday evening in the clubhouse on Clarendon avenue at 8 o'clock.

Services at the Arlington Methodist Church tomorrow will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. E. G. Latch. At the morning service his subject will be "The Touch of Faith." In the evening he will preach on "The Importance of Motive."

CONTEMPT CHARGES DENIED BY MALTBY

Washington Attorney Holds Records Will Support Innocence Claim.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Fred A. Maltby, Washington attorney, held in contempt by Judge Hammond Urner in Rockville Circuit Court Thursday, declared in a statement lastn ight that he was taken by surprise at the hearing and that he had not been served with copies of the complaint filed by Attorneys Harold C. Smith, of Rockville, and Harry S. Barger, of Washington.

"I did not know of any papers being field until I saw it this morning in The Washington Post," Mr. Maltby said. "These charges are without any truth in fact which can be readily ascertained by reference to records of the District Supreme Court. I have never applied for admission to the bar of that court and it is obvious that I could not be denied unless I had applied. Mr. Smith could have found thit out by inspecting records of that court."

Mr. Maltby declared that the contempt proceedings grew out of the settlements of the suit of Morris A. Bealle against E. Brooke Lee and the Maryland News, upon which he had placed his name unaware that the Maryland code was different from the District. The settlement papers were in effect filed by Bealle who signed the dismissal, Mr. Maltby said, and his name made no difference in the paper.

Mr. Maltby pointed out last night that he is a member of the bar of the U. S. Court of Customs Appeals of the District; the U. S. Court of Eastern district of Virginia, the Supreme Court of Maryland, the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, the U. S. Court of Claims and that he is a registered attorney at law in all of these courts and eligible to practice in all departments of the U. S. Government.

He stated that in the District it is permissible to file a petition and within ten days have a local member of the bar join in the case and that he did not know that the law was different in Maryland nor did many other attorneys he had questioned.

Mr. Maltby said that he had been misunderstood in regard to the approval given his actions by Roger J. Whiteford, attorney for Maj. Lee. He stated that he merely brought Bealle and Whiteford together and that the latter took Bealle o Maj. Lee and that the two principals settled the suit between themselves.

The same charges which have been filed in the Maryland Court are the basis for a libel suit for $50,000 damages which he has filed against Attorneys Smith and Barger in Rockville, based on a similar complaint filed in the District of Columbia, Mr. Maltby said.

Early calling together of two groups which have been asked to recommend certified public accountants to make an audit of the Montgomery County records for the past sixteen years has been urged on George M. Hunter, president of the Montgomery County National Bank, and Stephen James, president of the Montgomery County Civic Federation, in a letter from Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners of Montgomery County.

The commissioners two weeks ago adopted a resolution asking the executive committee of the Montgomery County Civic Federation and the presidents of the county banks each to prepare a list of twelve competent, nationally known accountants whose integrity could not be questioned for submission to the commissioners. A firm will be selected from these lists to make the audit.

The commissioners took this action after it became apparent petitions asking for a grand jury investigation and an audit of the accounts had failed to secure necessary support. They announced that the $25,000 necessary for an audit will be well spent if it proves untrue charges that county affairs are being mishandled.

Mr. James said he would call a meeting of the committee either Wednesday or Thursday night at the National Press Club in Washington to consider the commissioners' request. Mr. Hunter said he is communicating with other bank presidents in an effort to ascertain when a meeting will be convenient for them.

Two robberies of Silver Spring homes while the occupants slept were reported yesterday to Montgomery County police. Both homes were entered by forcing a side window, and in both instances money was taken from purses and pocketbooks. Police believe that the robberies were committed by the same man.

The sum of $26 was taken from the purse of Mrs. Frank R. Heindel, 31 Woodside Parkway, Wynwood Park. The home of D. A. Lindquist, 012 Saratoga avenue, Sligo Park Hills, was entered and $3 taken from Mr. Lindquist's pocketbook and 10 cents from Mrs. Lindquist's purse. The robber remained on the first floor in both instances.

Suit for limited divorce from Horace E. Wallich, of Silver Spring, was filed in circuit court at Rockville yesterday by Mrs. Edith D. Wallich, of Washington, through Attorney Kenneth Lyddane. She alleges desertion.

Lacy Shaw, president of the board of Montgomery County Commissioners; Commissioner Robert D. Hagnerand Chief of Police Alvie A. Moxley yesterday inspected police precincts of the county to make plans for increasing police efficiency.

Special interest was shown in the Takoma Park substation, which has been made a full substation instead of a branch of Silver Spring. Sergt. D. L. Snyder has been placed in command and Policeman Joseph Nolte transferred from Silver Spring.

With appointment of Sergt. Roy Bodmer as commander of the Rockville Police Headquarters, Chief Moxley has been relieved of much detail work and will devote his full time to administrative duties.

Sergeants in command of substations will be held accountable for conduct and discipline of their men. A new system whereby corporals of each station will act as commanding officer at night or when the sergeant is absent is being considered. Detective Sergt. Earl H. Burdine, in charge of the Identification Bureau at the Bethesda Substation, will act as relief sergeant and relieve the four sergeants on their days off.

Frank Lane was appointed town officer at Takoma Park yesterday and was given the oath of office by Mayor Ben G. Davis. He will be under the command of Chief of Police E. E. Blodgett. The town police station and the county station are in the same office. The two forces will cooperate. By this arrangement, Takoma Park will have five full time policemen with at least two on duty at all times.

Constable Theodore Raines, who has been acting as night policeman, was relieved from further duty. He had declined a place on the police force.

Eldon Gray, who lives in a camp at Takoma avenue and Merrimac avenue, yesterday is alleged to have sold a pint of intoxicating liquor to Jerry Hobbs, new member of the Montgomery County police, assigned to the Silver Spring substation, who was accompanied by Sergt. Guy L. Jones. He wil lbe arraigned in Police Court at Rockville this morning.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

COLLEGE TALKIES.

TEACHING by talking pictures has been adopted by Washington University for its summer classes. Various educators of note give the students their instructions and lectures on the screen and the program is proving so popular that it may not be necessary to add an animated comic.

* * * *

It's a grand idea. The college of tomorrow may need little equipment outside of a screen, a few sound cameras and good synchronization. The faculty may consist of a president with Hollywood experience, two camera experts and plenty of union operators.

* * * *

It is easy to imagine the students voting their favorite professor some pedagogue never seen by them in the flesh, and it seems fairly certain that no success can come to an instructor whose voice jells in the amplifiers.

* * * *

The alibi possibilities are enormous. Many a boy who fails to learn anything at college will insist it was because the faculty used cheap projectors and didn't vary its picture program enough to hold interest.

* * * *

And there will, of course, be the Old Grad, whose excuse for progressive ignorance will be that all through his college course people in the row ahead kept standing up and blocking his view of the feature educational film.

* * * *

The next logical step will be for some big university to advertise its educational course "in technicolor."

* * * *

"SEND your boy to Princeton!" a folder may some day urge. "It is second to no university in pictures and dialogue." Or, "Enter your son at Yale and get the best talking pictures that Harkness endowments can produce."

* * * *

Harvard may base its call to the youth of tomorrow on the boast, "More than a million feet of film used last year in the freshman classes alone."

* * * *

The more you think of it, the better the idea seems. Let us have education by pictures by all means and with coordination music, a news reel for diversification and an occasional animated cartoon for the boys who must have their relief from intense concentration.

* * * *

It should certainly be a great help to the duller intellects to have the screen professor go over the mathematical problem in slow motion.

WINCHESTER DEATH PROBED BY POLICE

D. C. Harrison, 72, Retired Politican, Victim of Fall From Roof.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., July 10.—Investigating medical and police authorities still were undecided today whether Dabney C. Harrison, 72, retired Federal civil engineer, fruit grower and independent political campaigner, jumped or accidentally fell from the roof of his dwelling near here yesterday.

His body was found last evening by a neighbor, Mrs. Johnson, who went to the house thinking he might be ill, after seeing several bottles of milk on the porch. She found him dead on a concrete pavement and notified Frederick County authorities.

Sheriff Pannett, who investigated, said he found a ladder extending from a bedroom to the attic and a trapdoor open. He also found footprints on the flat tin roof. The body was clothed in underwear and trousers. Friends said Harrison had been complaining recently that the hot weather made him feel badly, and they advanced a theory that he went on the roof during the night for relief, became dizzy and fell. He lived alone on a farm, where he raised chickens and grew fruit.

A physician found the skull fractured, an arm broken and abdomen crushed and expressed the opinion he may have been dead ten or twelve hours.

Son of the late Capt. Dabney Carr Harrison and native of Martinsburg, W. Va., he was a nfember of the old Harrison family of Virginia and a graduate of William and Mary and Hampden-Sidney Colleges, completing a collegiate course at the age of 19. He was a construction engineer on the Mexican National Railway and later connected with the United States Geological Survey and Bureau of Forestry.

He opposed Representative T. W. Harrison in 1924 for Congress from the Seventh Virginia District as an independent, and subsequently ran for the House of Delegates. He frequently challenged opponents to joint debates. He was a Presbyterian Church elder, and in younger days was a missionary teacher to the Choctaw Indian Nation in Indian Territory. His widow, formerly Miss Ellen Robinson Riley, lives in Clarke County. Surviving also is a son, D. C. Harrison, jr., Washington. The funeral will be held here late tomorrow afternoon.

82-Year-Old Virginian, Marries Woman of 22

John Gilliam, the bridegroom, a native of Wise County, is a lumber dealer. The bride, Etta B. Laney, also is from Wise County. They obtained a license and were married in the county clerk's office by the Rev. J. B. Ely.

1,884 Cows Given Tests in Loudoun

Special to The Washington Post.

Leesburg, Va., July 10.—An 8-year-old grade Holstein cow, owned by H. C. Rogers, of Hamilton, was high in production in Loudoun County in June, according to reports of the three groups comprising the Loudoun Dairy Herd Improvement Association. The Rogers cow, first in Group 2, is credited with producing 2,307 pounds of milk and 103.8 pounds of butterfat. Rogers also won herd honors for the county with an average production of 1,057 pounds of milk and 43.4 pounds of butterfat.

High cow honors in Group 1 went to a grade Holstein, owned by Black Oak Farm, with a production of 1,251 pounds of milk and 83.5 pounds of butterfat. A grade Guernsey, owned by Huntland Plantation, topped Group 3 with 891 pounds of milk and 63.3 pounds of butterfat.

A total of 1,884 cows was tested in the three groups, record showing they produced in the month 1,511,707 pounds of milk.

Cold Keeps Mellon Indoors.

Cap Ferrat, France, July 10 (A.P.). Secretary Andrew W. Mellon caught cold yesterday while he was on the beach and today remained indoors. Members of his family said he felt better this morning, but he did not plan to go out tonight.

MARYLAND FIREMEN CLOSE CONVENTION

Sergt. Bargagni Urges Group to Observe National Day; Women Organize.

Ocean City, Md., July 10.—That Maryland firemen should observe national firemen's day was the point stressed by Sergt. A. J. Bargagni, of Washington, D. C., director and marshal of the national day movement, recognized in several Eastern States, at the closing session of the thirty-ninth annual Maryland State Firemen's Association convention here today.

Ladies' auxiliary groups announced that a temporary State ladies' firemen's auxiliary has been formed, with Mrs. John Fainter, of Hyattsville, Md., as president and Mrs. Geneva Forrest, of Riverdale, Md., as secretary.

Twelve hundred firemen, representing 83 Maryland and Delaware State fire units, formed a parade this afternoon as the closing feature of the convention.

Prize winners of the parade were: The Water Witch hook and ladder company, of Annapolis, Md., for the best piece of apparatus; the Minquadale, Del., fire department, for greatest State company distance; the Wiccomico Post, A. L., of Salisbury, Md., for the best bugle and drum corps.

Silver loving cups and gold cash awards were presented tonight.

COBLENTZ HEARING IS SET FOR JULY 29

Maryland State Senator Will Answer Charge of Aiding in Perjury.

(Associated Press.)

Department of Justice officials said yesterday that Emory L. Coblentz, Maryland State senator, indicted here on a charge of aiding the commission of perjury, would be arraigned on July 29.

The charge grew out of the trial of G. Bryan Pitts, former president of the F. H. Smith Co. investment house. Pitts was convicted and sentenced to fourteen years in prison, but was also reindicted on the perjury charge. He also will be arraigned July 29.

Department of Justice officials claim that Coblentz, prominent in Maryland banking and political circles, aided in the preparation of false evidence offered in Pitts' defense. Coblentz has denied the charges.

Suits Stolen From Commissary.

The Commissary at Fort Humpreys, Va., was entered yesterday and sixteen civilian suits, valued at $288, were stolen, according to a report to police by Lieut. Louis W. Prentiss, provost marshal at the reservation.
